DARBNI

Application that facilitates the employees of the HR or the department responsible for training to provide training plans to trainees according to the job title, time period and the company's activity

The problem

- There is a problem that many trainees face when joining cooperative training, which is the lack of tasks and correct or a training plan, which affects the trainee's outputs.

Target group

The companies responsible for training in government or private institutions.

The proposed solution:

A platform that facilitates the employees of the HR or the department responsible for training to provide training plans to trainees according to the job title, time period and the company's activity

Suggested technique

- Streamlite
- Cohere API

Empowering trainees for the labor market

The value :

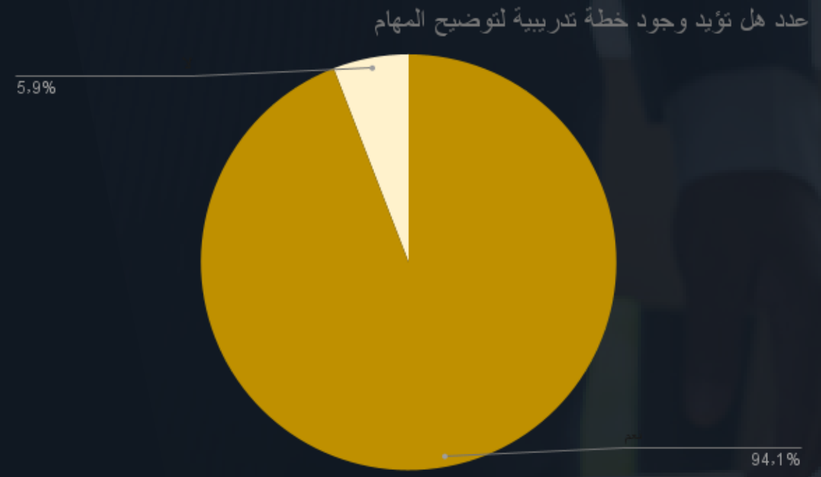
which leads to improving training outputs

benefiting from the young energies in the institution

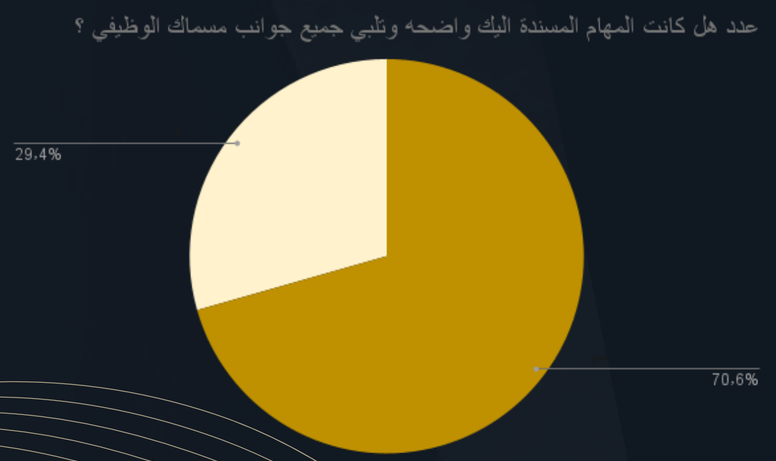
Market need

A questionnaire was distributed to the trainees in order to assess their level of benefit from the training and their need for a training plan that was indicated by the tasks, and the results were as follows:

Do you agree that a training plan is necessary to clarify the tasks?



Were the responsibilities provided to you clear and covered all areas of your job title?



Future vision

The trainee should have a pre-test that measures their previous experiences. Based on that, the training plan should be tailored to them
