What is the Problem?

Due to the widespread lack of knowledge about agricultural seasons, significant time and money are wasted, often leading to plant damage or death.

What is your Solution?

Each plant has its season. Let's use AI to educate people about plant care. We offer an AI-powered agricultural advisor that guides you on how to nurture your plants effectively.

What is the Future?

We will introduce a picture attachment feature where users can submit plant images. Our agricultural expert will then assess the plant's health and provide a detailed plan with step-by-step instructions.
