Caulfield, Melbourne, Australia

Dear Mr. Lamm:

It was a pleasure spending some time with you last night at the Statler Hilton Hotel. Even if we are not directly related, I am delighted to find a fellow Jew from so far away who bears the same name with such dignity and respect. I enclose a number of reprints, some of them relating to our discussion last night. I hope you will find them of interest.

Please convey my fondest regards to Mrs. Lamm to whom I had the pleasure of speaking with over the telephone. I look forward to hearing from you as soon as possible about the projected visit during February, 1967, p.G. As I explained, I need time to clear my calendar ~~for~~<sup>for</sup> an extended visit.

Cordially yours,

RABBI NORMAN LAMM
