New York City, N. Y.

Dear Rabbi Lamm:

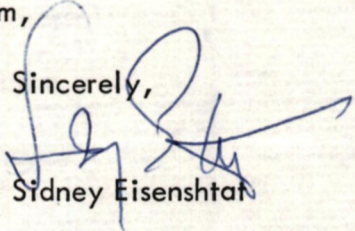

The news of your election was greeted in our shul with such enthusiasm, one would almost have thought that it was your brother's achievement.

Mazel tov! I hope your challenges increase and that you become the master of them all. Allie and I are delighted that an institution that in the minds of most people represents the seat of traditional Jewish education of ethics, Jewish wisdom and Yiddishkeit should actually choose a head who himself embodies these attributes.

I know the years ahead cannot be one long unobstructed road to Gan Eden, but I do know the Almighty gave you the tools to keep on that road. The joy of knowing how great your contribution really is will give you strength and pleasure.

With best wishes for your complete success, I am,

Sincerely,

Sidney Eisenshtat
