Dear Norman:

I just returned from a visit to Israel and your name came up in so many conversations --- wherever there was a need to think in terms of a creative force in Jewish life.

Our good friend, Mr. Werdiger, told me of a discussion he had with you in which he indicated the importance of providing for orthodox, Russian oriented Jews in the way of a weekly publication. Many political groups are reaching out for this in a community and there are simply not enough funds available to compete for their attention and interest.

Are you in a position to raise funds for this?

All good wishes.

Warmest regards,

William Z. Novick
