Dear Franklin:

Thank you very much for your letter and for confirming the arrangements for your forthcoming wedding.

It was a pleasure to meet Bernice. She is obviously a lovely girl, and I hope that the two of you will have many many years of uninterrupted bliss together.

I am enclosing a copy of a booklet about which I spoke to Bernice rather extensively. I have already mailed her one. I would like you to read it with the greatest attention, and to remember that a happy married life is much too important a thing to expect to happen casually and thoughtlessly. If you will determine to observe the contents of this booklet, you will at least be fortifying yourself with the elemental necessities for a happy married life.

My fondest regards to Bernice and to your folks and to Harriet. Best wishes for a Happy and Kosher Passover.

Sincerely,

RABBI NORMAN LAMM
