Dear President Lamm,

As the school year begins, I take this opportunity to congratulate you and Yeshiva University on your elevation to the presidency. I know it to be an awesome task, but I have full confidence in your rising to meet all the challenges of your new office.

I regret only that when you were an undergraduate you did not take a course with me. However, I find a little comfort in the fact that your brother Maurice took two of my electives. It is, in a manner of speaking, all in the family.

May you have a long and productive tenure of office and may you carry out your duties in good health.

Very sincerely yours,
Irving Linn
