Dear Rabbi Lamm:

I know you will be pleased to hear that an enlarged edition of my publication THE SCIENTIST AND RELIGION is now scheduled for early publication.

THE SCIENTIST AND RELIGION has won universal acclaim among religious leaders, educators and scientists alike. Among the comments received were those of Dr. Derek de Solla Price, Avalon Professor of the History of Science and Medicine at Yale University who wrote: "I enjoyed reading this small classic."

Written within the framework of traditional Judaism, THE SCIENTIST AND RELIGION presents the viewpoints of eminent Jewish scientists from many different fields of natural and physical science who show that "scientific facts do not conflict with the teachings of Judaism and that the faith which binds together Jews has not been harmed by the advancement of science but on the contrary has been vindicated in its profoundest tenets."

Some time ago you were kind enough to express your opinion of this study. I would very much like to quote you on the cover, however, in order for me to do so, it is necessary that I obtain a letter from you with the following statement or a statement to this effect:

"You may have my permission to use the following lines under my name on the cover of your publication THE SCIENTIST AND RELIGION."

Does the following statement, with minor editorial revisions, meet with your approval:

"THE SCIENTIST AND RELIGION is an excellently written, ^{important} ~~invaluable~~ source of information. You have rendered a ~~great~~ service to our faith and to the Jewish community in this publication. By holding up such models of successful accomodation of Judaism to modern science, you inspire young people to emulate this example."

Please include these lines in your letter, having them retyped as you wish them to appear. Kindly address same to me in the form of a letter on your official letterhead.

May I hear from you concerning this matter within the next ten days.

With many thanks for your kind cooperation and best regards,
I am,

Sincerely yours,

(Miss) Tina Levitan
