Dear Rabbi Jung:

Kindly find enclosed herewith my bit to the Mois Chitim fund. I regret it is so very late. However, please permit me to state - I called at the Center office last Monday and inquired if I may see Rabbi Lamm for just "one second only." For the fact that I am not a Center member, it occurred to me to personally hand him my check.

I was told that he was on the telephone and that I wait. Twenty minutes later - I was told that the Rabbi will not see me but will talk to me on the phone. I was further told in order to see him I must make an appointment in advance.

I firmly believe such action is unwarranted and wholly unbecoming a Rabbi. I admittedly state so for the very fact that I was not only in the building and waited as told but that I precisely emphasized at the very outset - may I see him for "just one second only."

A most happy Pesach [REDACTED]

Respectfully, [REDACTED]
