"Problems in Jewish Philosophy" Fall 1972

- Course structure:
 - A. Dogmatology
 - Free will
 - C. Character
 - The proofs for God's existence.
- 2. The lectures on freedom should be essentially the same as in the past but less explication of text and not as many reports on the freedom question. Should not last more than a third of the semester. From freedom go to counter-culture and its conception of liberation and honesty, and leading to character problem. Here, assign the best students to prepare reports on character from following sources:
 - b. c. possibly the following: 416/5 6/26/2 6 CINIE (C. MICH ECICE CO BOY USE SECTOR COLDER ...
- 3. General assignment for all students: Faith and Doubt chapters 1 and 3.
- Special assignments for reports:
 - Lev Shestov, Athens and Jerusalem a.
 - The Behaviorism debate; B.F. Skinner, Beyond Freedom and Dignity b. and Noam Chomsky, New York Review of Books, December 30, 1971.
 - (For philosophy major) Kant on character:

Critique of Pure Reason Part 3, and Anthropology Part 2.

- The philosophical nature of Halakhic norms: d.
 - Faith and Doubt chapter 9.

Jupercony