Dear Moe:

I am emotionally hyper-sensitive to mixing business and advertising with religion. Nevertheless, the enclosed seems to have very respectful sponsors, and since you receive this invitation every year I think it might be good for you to go at least once. Perhaps you will find something of value for Orthodox Jewish life. At any rate, I do not think you have anything to lose.

Best wishes for a Happy and Kosher Passover.

Cordially yours,

RABBI NORMAN LAMM

Dear Mr. Feurstein:

It gives me genuine pleasure to enclose your invitation to the 15th Anniversary Dinner of Religion In American Life.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, following our usual custom, you as President of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations and your wife are most cordially invited to be guests of honor at this Dinner on April 15th. Please wear black tie as we plan to have you sit on the Dais. Your wife will be at a special Dais table nearby.

A complimentary card for two has been reserved for you and we hope your schedule will make it possible for you to be with us.

Very sincerely,

Earle B. Pleasant
