

HERMAN WOUK

3255 N STREET, N. W.

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20007

200
3173 678

March 9, 1973

Rabbi Norman Lamm
The Jewish Center
131 West 86th Street
New York, N.Y. 10024

Dear Norman:

It's a pleasure to hear from you. Haskel Lookstein suggested the Russian translation of THIS IS MY GOD a few months ago. My understanding is that it is now in the works. I know little more about it, but Haskel can give you details. It does involve Professor Branover. I hope the project comes off, and I'm prepared to cooperate as necessary. Self-evident alterations should be made where the emphasis on American life is wrong. Any intelligent translator can do that.

For a little over a year I've been doing Daf Yomi, in however catch-as-catch-can a fashion. It has much enriched my life, but I wish I could learn it with you.

Yours,

Herman Wouk