Dear David:

Thank you very much for the 12 copies of HAMEVASER. There is no need to apologize about the change in title. It is standard procedure to have headline writers change things about at their own whim, and your own headhunter did not do too badly with my article.

The issue was generally an excellent one, and a great improvement over past issues. My congratulations and best wishes for continued success.

Regards to everyone at home, and our good wishes to all of them for a happy holiday.

Sincerely,

RABBI NORMAN LAMM
