

לאחת מן המסיבות לכבוד יום ההולדת

Joke: “When did he die?” Ans. “When he stopped living!”

No joke at all

Indeed, the Kotzker Rebbe once said that he met any people who had long been dead but never realized it...

✓ I believe that everyone has a specific mission in life. I also believe that some people never seek to identify that mission, some are not even aware of what a mission means or implies, and some blessed, lucky few do have some idea of a mission and devote their lives to it wholly or at least significantly.

I am fortunate that for the greatest part of my life I have been dedicated to a worthy, transcendent vision, refining it as I gain in experience and learning.
