Dear Manny:

I received your note on this eve of my departure for Australia.

My experience with M.H.K. will be of little value to you in your publishing venture with them. I had special arrangements and the only pitfall was (and this is true of almost any publisher) the constant and interminable delays. At any rate, good luck and loads of patience.

On the Wouk translation, I am sending you the copy of a letter I jst received from Wouk's secretary. You will notice that there is a possibility of further help from him.

I have the $100.00 check he sent to my foundation, but I do not know to whom I shall mail it for the Branover project. Since I am leaving for Australia, and my secretary has also left for the summer, please be kind enough to forward the $100.00 from your own account. I enclose herewith a check of $100.00 made out to you personally for these funds.

All my best wishes for a pleasant summer.

Cordially,

NL:pj
