Dear Victor:

We had a glorious trip to Australia and New Zealand and despite an extremely hectic and arduous time, found the experience exhilarating.

I have the feeling that your experience with travel arrangements with that part of the world is not overly extensive. My Australian hosts told me that the trip could have been arranged for considerably less than it cost me. I am sending you enclosed some material that may be useful to you in the future.

Most of the arrangements that Millie made for me were adequate, although it was necessary for me to make one or two obvious changes in order for my wife and myself to leave and arrive at times closer than those scheduled by Millie.

Another point: Millie made reservations for me to stay at the Flagship Beach Comber Hotel in Nadi in the Fidji Islands. When Mindy arrived in Nadi at 5 a.m. she learned that this hotel was in Suva, some three hours away by car. That was not advisable, considering that our whole stay was only 24 hours. We, therefore, made arrangements to another hotel, and I am returning the travel voucher so that you may return to me my deposit of $20. (We notified the Flagship Beach Comber of the cancellation before making our other reservations in Nadi.)

Finally, I hope your people were satisfied with whatever assistance I was able to offer through my contacts with Astronaut Travel Service in Melbourne.
