Dear Rabbi Lamm,

I have beautiful news that I would like to share with you.

Last March, I was fortunate to meet a young man by the name of [REDACTED]. Right at the beginning, I knew that he was someone special. As we conversed, I had the feeling that we were continuing a conversation that had been started previously.

[REDACTED] is from Cromwell, Connecticut (a small town near Hartford), and we were able to see each other regularly.

The relationship developed and deepened, and now we are engaged. We plan to marry at the end of June.

██████ is a Magna Cum Laude graduate of the University of Connecticut (Phi Beta Kappa, too!). He is in his third year at University of Connecticut School of Medicine.

I'm still teaching at Somers High School in Connecticut, and I'm working towards my master's degree at Trinity College, Hartford.

██████ and I will stay in this area for his final year of medical school. He doesn't yet know where he will be interning.

Rabbi Lamm, I am blessed that ██████ will be my companion through life. He is a beautiful person.

We have made an appointment with Rabbi Weisfogel of Kodinok, and we will be meeting with him shortly.

██████████ and I would also like to meet with you before our wedding. Would it be possible to make arrangements to meet with you at the Center?

I do realize how hectic your schedule is, but I cannot envision my marriage without your approval.

Sincerely
