

Rabbi Norman Lamm
131 West 86th St.
New York, N.Y.

Dear Rabbi Lamm:

I thank you for your efforts in trying to finance my "Almanac for Prayer Times," although they have been proven unsuccessful. I can wait no longer. It is about one year that we are negotiating about this project. [REDACTED] sent me two hundred and twenty dollars. I think it be only just, that after taking so much time and effort to prepare the outline material for you, and after one year of negotiations, that I should not leave these negotiations without at least some showing of appreciation from a synagogue as yours, who contributes so much to other causes, including Rabbi Kashers project.

The book is going into the binders immediately after Passover. The postage cost is about five cents for six thousand copies, or three hundred dollars.
