Dear Rabbi Lamm: OK

OK
No - too sensitive

Thank you for your letters of July 5th and 16th. I enclose my letters to Mr. Kelman and Mr. Jhirad. I am sending you an extra copy of my letter to Mr. Jhirad so that you may send it on confidentially to Mr. Kelman if you deem it advisable.

You speak of my vacation. This vacation is scheduled to begin on August 12th. My absence from the city was caused by another visit to the fair city of Los Angeles which was blessed with beautiful weather which made my hard work there not at all easier - with everyone around me in vacation spirit.

As you see, I have not mentioned in my letter to Mr. Kelman any credit to the Union. I would rather assume it as self-understood than raise the issue.

upon return

In your letter of July 5th you want me to clarify the financial problem I touched upon in my letter to Mr. Jhirad. I do not quite know to what you refer, though you pointed out the paragraph. We had agreed that you and I, upon your return to New York, would try to raise about $1,000 for the Magen Aboth Holiday Home, by soliciting 20 people for $50.00 each. The Overseas Commission had agreed to pay the trip of three students to Israel, provided that they are maintained there by the Jewish Agency and that these three students are added to the six being presently sent and maintained by the Jewish Agency. Dr. Jung moved to this effect at our meeting and it was unanimously adopted.

I expect to speak to Rabbi Kotler either tonight or tomorrow morning. I shall write you where he will stay and when you could visit him. He usually is at Leden's in Fleischmanns which should be about one hours car ride from your place, on the other side of the Catskills (the Tannersville-Hunter section).

I do hope that in spite of your voluminous correspondence you are enjoying some rest and that you are applying to yourself the kind admonitions you gave me, namely not to work hard and long.

With kindest personal regards and all good wishes, I am
