Dear Rabbi Lamm,

I trust you + your family had an inspiring Yom Tov. The vachung here on the 2nd day when the Rebbe both spoke + sang + called upon the Russians present to sing + dance will remain an indelible impression of what פריעת אפיק ארץ is all about - truly a most memorable religious experience - unique + so vitally profound. To quote Wordsworth

"And I have felt a presence that disturbs me with the joy of elevated thoughts,

A sense sublime of something far more deeply interfused - - - -

Please find enclosed ^{copy} ~~one~~ of one of my favorite n'p'e. I sent a copy to Jacob when it came out last year + he was thrilled with it. I asked him to interpret/spell out the ideas of n'p'e n'p'i'3'n P. 12. Does it seem to "explain" ¹³⁷⁷ that as an overall historical process p'fr n'p'z h'p'n that the catastrophes/revolutions that brought progress support the view that the ends justify the the only explanation why there was an 'original' creation. Your comments most eagerly awaited

No doubt you won't have time to reply before I leave on 14.10. so perhaps you can write to me in London.

שלום רב
