My dear Family [anon].

Greetings of joy!

Many thanks on behalf of me and my better (!?) half for your beautiful letter of good wishes. I know it's a bit ~~hard~~ much to ask your attendance in Manchester at the end of August - but we will keep you informed + one never knows you may have to pay a visit to the more Eastern points of the compass - perhaps you could ~~drop~~ stop over perhaps, perhaps, perhaps - - ?!

I enclose a copy of my favourite poem which I have used successfully 2 x on my teaching practice. Methinks it touches the PROBLEM - everyone is looking + finding a different point/part of the elephant and hence the confusion - - - - -

I end as I do in my long letters to you down in London
