Rabbi Norman Lamm 131 West 86th Street New York, New York

Dear Norman:

I was delighted, upon my return from my vacation, to come back to the wonderful news of your designation as President of Yeshiva University.

I congratulate Yeshiva University on the wisdom of its choice, it augurs well for the future of traditional Judaism in America.

I do not say these things lightly. Having been deeply concerned about certain trends within the Orthodox community in recent years, and having some sense from where I sit of their potential for divisiveness, I see your appointment as President of Yeshiva University as a source of great hope.

I join with your many friends and admirers in expressing to you warmest good wishes for success and satisfaction as you undertake this great and heavy burden. You may be assured not only of my good wishes but also of my readiness to offer whatever help I can.

In friendship and with warm regards.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Henry Siegman Executive Vice President
