Dear Walter:

For some reason unknown to me, certain people assume that Letters to the Editor do not get published without special pull or push.

I have just heard from Major Norman A. Bloom, a doctor at Westover Air Force Base who has written to you in criticism of the article by Tendler. He sent me a copy of the correspondence asking me to prevail upon you to have it published.

So here I am again -- and, of all things, once more concerning a Tendler article. Believe me, I have absolutely nothing against the man, and find it embarrassing to be in this position a second time. But I suppose that our stated policy will prevail, and the letter will be published anyway.

Do let me hear from you about the fate of my New Morality article.

All best wishes for a happy and wonderful New Year.

Sincerely,

RABBI NORMAN LAMM
