My dear Rabbi Lamm,

126088

This is to thank you so very much again on behalf of the Committee of the English Friends of Kerem B'Yavneh for your most magnificent addresses here in London and Manchester, and for the tremendous efforts you made to ensure the success of these functions.

The general consensus was that your audiences could have continued to listen to you with the utmost concentration for at least another hour or two. I am jealous of my brother-in-law - Peter - who has the opportunity of hearing you so frequently!

Erica and I were really delighted to have been able to meet up with you and your dear wife, and we both hope that in the fairly near future, an occasion will arise when we may have the privilege and pleasure of seeing you both again.

With renewed thanks for just everything, my kindest greetings to you, your wife and your sister-in-law.

Very sincerely yours,

John Ranson
