This is a place for students of UBC's MET program to connect, interact, network, learn, and become part of the MET Community.

The MET Hub was designed by MET students like you and built based on what students told us they wanted most in an online community. Visit any of the links below or click here to explore the many ways to interact with others in the MET community!

The MET Hub is a continuous work in progress. Let us know what other features you would like to see in our survey.
