

R.J. GRUNTS

CUISINE

While there's a huge menu that is as much fun to eat your way through as it is to read, it's R.J. Grunts' old American favorites that spark return visits. The burgers are arguably the best in town. The digital salad bar – dubbed one of the first in the country – boasts more than 30 ingredients daily. The BBQ Baby Back Ribs are legendary (R.J. Grunts has sold so many that "if you put end to end, they would stretch all the way to someplace else and back a lot of times"), as are the Buffalo Chicken Nachos. Indulge in timeless soda shop favorites like our signature Giant Malts and Shakes. And our weekend brunch is perfect for everyone ages 1 to 101.

BEVERAGE

A large selection of craft beer including a 71 Haze exclusive collaboration between R.J. Grunts and Chicago's Spiteful Brewing. Housemade daiquiris and margaritas and even boozy milkshakes prove that there's an adult beverage for everyone to enjoy at R.J. Grunts.

EXPERIENCE

R.J. Grunts — the very first Lettuce Entertain You restaurant — opened in Chicago's Lincoln Park neighborhood in June of 1971. To this day, the eatery still exudes the funky lifestyle of the '70s in its style, décor, music and menu. Happily for all of us, the best eating of that day continues to be some of the best today, with its comfort food classics and nostalgic vibe. Nearby Lincoln Park also makes R.J. Grunts a popular family destination, with stroller parking out front, kid-size milkshakes and plenty of crayons to keep the little ones busy.
