

TLC™ Intentional Parenting parenting for professionals training & coaching

Transforming Leaders of Tomorrow Today

Through Dr Sum's work as a Speaker, Trainer/Facilitator and Coach, she has consistently experienced successful professionals and senior executives who find parenting "the greatest challenge on earth". She has also had the privilege to meet fulltime professional parents who do an amazing job and who would never consider themselves as leaders in their family 'organization'. Her mission is to inspire parents to be their authentic best so they can hold the space to unleash the greatest potential in their children through a joyful learning partnership.

This entry level 2-day training program begins the process of parents creating this space to learn from their children's innate genius, whilst introducing tools to the parents on how to be role models living their authentic best as they generously pass on their experience, values and vision to their offspring in a loving and supportive manner. The parents walk away with a living document to co-create a Life Vision to actualize each other's dreams.

Subsequent modules involve a minimum of 2 X 2-day group workshop sessions and a 3-month fortnightly one-on-one coaching program with our TLC™ Parent Coaches to further develop this learning partnership. The uniqueness about this program, founded on cognitive behavioural science and self actualization psychology, is that of learning what our children can teach us as they reflect back to us exactly what we most need to know about ourselves. Whether you are a professional parent, or a professional who is also a parent – you can take up the challenge. Hence, the Intentional Parenting series of training and coaching programs was born (which then gave rise to the TLC™ series of programs – essentially based on Parenting Leadership essentials).

Our Mission:

We, the Dr Yvonne Sum Group, will conduct TLC™ Intentional Parenting training & coaching programs to inspire and facilitate Executives & Professional through Leadership founded on love, highest intentions & family values as we awaken Parents and children around the world to transform their lives in a joyous Learning Partnership of mutual discovery to actualize their Dreams.
