

Celebrate Tu B'Shvat

In Israel, Tu B'Shvat is a Jewish holiday known as "New Year of the Trees." The day is honored by planting trees. Some people celebrate by having a picnic and eating dried fruits and nuts. Look at the fruits and nuts growing on the tree below. Color the ones that grow on trees. Hint: They'll have the Hebrew word for "tree" in them. When you are done, color the leaves, branches, and trunk, too!

Hebrew word for "tree":
