

Charles McClendon LSU Football Practice Facility

The LSU football practice facility, with four lighted full-length fields and one full length indoor field, rivals that of any major college or professional football practice complex. The LSU football complex is also equipped with a satellite medical facility, which can service injured players as well as rehab recovering players on site.

UNDER COVER

The Tigers conduct their entire winter conditioning program in the Indoor Practice Facility. The facility is also a short walk from the main practice fields, giving the Tigers a quick turnaround to continue practice when inclement weather hits.

INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

LSU is one of only a handful of schools in college football with a full 100-yard indoor, climate-controlled football practice facility. A new state-of-the-art turf, the same turf on which the Indianapolis Colts play their games, was installed in the spring of 1998. To simulate game conditions, the surface is crowned in the middle and all lighting is on the sides of the field. The Indoor Football Facility is located adjacent to the outdoor practice field so a practice session can resume indoors within 10 minutes if an outdoor practice is interrupted by rain or lightning.

LSU FOOTBALL OPERATIONS BUILDING

LSU's Football Operations Center will be an all-in-one facility that includes football offices, a locker room, a training room, an equipment room, and a video operations center. The $15 million facility will be located at the current site of football practice complex. The facility, which will be the finest of its kind in college athletics, will allow for more efficient time for dressing, training and practicing for the national champion Tigers. LSU's Football Operations Center will be completed in the fall of 2005.

FACILITY BUILT BY THE TIGER ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

McClendon is the winningest football coach in LSU history.

CHARLES MCCLENDON

On September 9, 2002, LSU formally named its football practice facility for Charles McClendon, the winningest football coach in school history. The facility, which features four full-length football practice fields as well as an indoor practice facility, is now known as the Charles McClendon Practice Facility.

McClendon served as head coach at LSU from 1962 to 1979, a span that saw the Tigers play in 13 bowl games. McClendon compiled a 137-59-7 overall mark in 18 seasons and was named SEC Coach of the Year twice, in 1969 and 1970, and National Coach of the Year in 1970.

In all, McClendon coached LSU to 16-winning seasons and the Tigers had six 9-win seasons under his direction. McClendon is a member of the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame and the Cotton Bowl Hall of Fame.

Jeff Boss Locker Room

The LSU locker room is located on the north end of Tiger Stadium and adjoins the recently remodeled equipment room with all the necessary features to serve a college football team. The LSU locker room was remodeled prior to the 1996 season and houses all of the football players in one room. With locker space for 115 athletes, the LSU football locker room is superior to that of many NFL franchises. Among the features of the LSU football locker room are wide dressing areas for each player, including a locker, sitting area, storage bin, a sauna and a steam room. The locker room is also equipped with seven televisions as well as a surround sound stereo system.

AMENITIES

- ▶ 115 lockers complete with a storage bins and a sitting area
- ▶ Two large fully functional shower rooms
- ▶ A surround sound stereo system
- ▶ Seven televisions placed so every locker can view at least one

FACILITY RENOVATED BY THE TIGER ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

CAPTAIN'S LOUNGE

Just off the locker room is the new Captains Lounge built during the 2002 season. The lounge is a place for current players to relax between their classes and before and after practice. The room features a 72 inch big screen TV with a DVD player and an X-box game console, pool, foosball and ping-pong tables, a computer work station and six laptop computer hook-ups for players to work and check email.

CROSSBAR

The crossbar is a section of a goal post that stood in Tiger Stadium from 1955 to 1984. Tradition calls for the Tigers to touch this bar before they go into "Death Valley".

GOALS PYRAMID

Each Spring the seniors meet with Coach Saban to set the team goals for the upcoming season. The goal board proudly stands outside the LSU Football locker room as a daily reminder.

The 2003 LSU football team dedicated the season to Jeff Boss.

JEFF BOSS

JEFF BOSS

The 2003 LSU football season was dedicated to the memory of Jeff Boss, who served as the Tigers' supervisor of athletic equipment for 24 seasons. Boss was diagnosed with brain cancer shortly after the Tigers returned from the Cotton Bowl in 2003, and he passed away on October 27 later that year. A native of Lake Charles, La., and a graduate of McNeese State University, Boss continued to work at LSU until June while undergoing treatment for his illness.

Boss wasn't on the sidelines for the Tigers' 2003 season opener against Louisiana-Monroe, marking the first time he had missed an LSU game in 24 years. Two weeks later, coach Nick Saban and a dozen football players presented Boss with the game ball from the UL-Monroe contest.

LSU honored Boss on Sept. 29, 2003 as the school named the football locker room for him at a ceremony that saw dozens of former Tiger football players and managers return to campus for the event.

Lawton Room

With seating for 140 athletes, the Bill Lawton Squad Room is one of the finest meeting rooms in the country. Built adjacent to Tiger Stadium in 1998, the Lawton Squad Room is the one of the newest additions to the LSU football program and features plush individual seating in a theatre-like atmosphere. The main auditorium has state-of-the-art audio and visual components necessary for meetings, lectures and reviewing of game tapes. Nine additional rooms are used for individual position meetings.

The room was made possible largely in part by Mr. William Lawton of Lake Charles, La.

AMENITIES

- ▶ Theatre style seating for 140 individuals
- ▶ State of the art audio/visual components
- ▶ Nine break-out rooms for individual meetings

The Tigers have nine meeting rooms inside the Lawton Room to review tape and go over game plans for the upcoming week's opponent.

HALL OF CHAMPIONS

LSU Tiger football honors its All-Americans with a painting by Jack Jaubert that is displayed in The Hall of Champions.

Situated behind the Bill Lawton Auditorium is the LSU Hall of Champions, an area that embodies the rich tradition of LSU Tiger football. The hall contains an area to sit, relax and and enjoy the LSU football tradition. The hall contains artifacts that span from the early days like Billy Cannon's 1959 Heisman to the recent past like Josh Reed's 2001 Biletnikoff Award as well as LSU's 2003 ADT National Championship trophy and both the 2001 and 2003 SEC Championship Trophies.

Each All-American in the storied tradition of the LSU Tiger football program is on the wall including both LSU's first All-American Gus Tinsley in 1935 to the most recent All-americans of 2003.

The Hall of Champions also honors those former LSU student-athletes that have made it to the National Football League. Helmets from the 32 NFL teams are displayed on the wall with a small name plaque for each LSU alumnus that has played in the league.

A further stroll down the hall and the rich history of LSU's 35 bowl games is apparent with a list of all the games and trophies, including both the 2002 and 2004 Sugar Bowl Trophies.

ADT TROPHY

LSU's 2003 ADT National Championship trophy is housed in the Hall of Champions along with the 1958 National Championship trophy, Billy Cannon's 1959 Heisman Trophy and Josh Reed's 2001 Biletnikoff Award.

Among his many accomplishments was the formulation of "Quick Kick", an isotonic drink used to replace liquids, vitamins and the electrolytes lost through sweating. He was a trainer for the Pan American Games in 1955 and the U.S. Olympic team in 1960. In 1963, the Rockne Foundation named him Trainer of the Year. Great Moments

BILLY CANNON'S HALLOWEEN RUN

1959

Tiger Stadium - Oct. 31, 1959

Billy Cannon's 89-yard punt return for a touchdown against third-ranked Ole Miss is not only one of the most memorable plays in LSU football history, but is also ranks among the most memorable in college football. Cannon, the 1959 Heisman Trophy winner, fielded the punt, trailing 3-0 late in the game, at the Tiger 11-yard line and began his run into immortality. He eluded seven would-be tacklers down the east sideline and crossed the goal line of Tiger Stadium to give the top-ranked LSU Tigers the 7-3 victory.

THE 1966 COTTON BOWL

1966

Cotton Bowl - Jan. 1, 1966

LSU entered the 1966 Cotton Bowl as a heavy underdog to the second-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks, but the Tigers knew they had nothing to lose and lot of respect to gain. Arkansas, which entered the game riding a 22-game win streak and a victory over LSU meant a possible national title, struck first, but LSU's Joe Labruzzo reached the endzone twice in the second quarter to give the Tigers a 14-7 lead that would stand and foil the Razorbacks' hopes of a title.

JONES TO DAVIS

1972

Tiger Stadium - Nov. 4, 1972

In one of the most exciting endings to a game in LSU football history, Bert Jones connected with RB Brad Davis in the corner of the endzone as time expired and PK Rusty Jackson nailed the extra-point to give the Tigers a 17-16 victory over Ole Miss and kept the win streak alive at 11 straight games.

THE EARTHQUAKE

1988

Tiger Stadium - Oct. 8, 1988

QB Tommy Hodson connected with TB Eddie Fuller in the back of the endzone for the touchdown that vaulted LSU to a 7-6 victory over Auburn on Oct. 8, 1988 to help lead the LSU Tigers to its seventh SEC crown. The moment will forever be known as the "Night the Tigers Moved the Earth". The play caused such a thunderous explosion from the 79,341 fans in Tiger Stadium, the LSU Geology Department registered vibrations on a seismograph machine at the exact moment the touchdown was scored.

NO. 1 FALLS!

1997

Tiger Stadium - Oct. 11, 1997

Oct. 11, 1997 marked the first time LSU defeated the No. 1 ranked team in the nation when the Tigers upended top-ranked Florida 28-21 in Tiger Stadium. LSU jumped out to an early lead, but the Gators would score a touchdown with 6:44 remaining in the fourth quarter to cut the lead to single digits. LSU's defense sealed the victory when Raion Hill intercepted a Florida pass with less than three minutes to play and the Tigers ran out the clock to set off one of the greatest celebrations in Tiger Stadium history.

THE BLUEGRASS MIRACLE

Commonwealth Stadium - Nov. 9, 2002

Trailing 30-27 to Kentucky with 11 seconds to play in the game, LSU mounted a two-play 87-yard drive that will forever be known as "The Bluegrass Miracle." QB Marcus Randall connected with WR Devery Henderson on the game-winning 75-yard pass as time expired to give the Tigers a 33-30 victory.

2003 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

2003

New Orleans Superdome - Jan. 4, 2004

LSU, the No. 2 team in the Bowl Championship Series rankings, beat No. 1 BCS ranked Oklahoma to win the 2003 National Championship, the Tigers' first since the 1958 season, in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. Freshman RB Justin Vincent, named the game's MVP after totaling 117 yards, scampered 64 yards on the first play of the game to set the tone as LSU never trailed in the game, winning 21-14. The LSU defense, ranked No. 1 in the nation, stifled the Sooner's top-ranked offense, holding Oklahoma to 154 yards and sacking Heisman winning QB Jason White five times.

NFL Scout Day

Nearly 100 NFL representatives, including scouts, coaches and general managers, converge on the LSU campus each spring for Scout Day. Scout Day gives NFL scouts and executives an opportunity to view potential LSU pro prospects first hand through a series of drills. The LSU Indoor Facility is the ideal setting, giving both prospects and scouts all the necessary resources to conduct a productive session.

Over his last seven years as a head coach, Nick Saban has seen 38 of his players selected in the NFL draft. Currently, the Tigers have at least one representative on 23 of the 32 NFL teams. Throughout its illustrious history, LSU has produced a total of 24 first-round draft choices and had one each year from 1996-99. The Tigers had seven players drafted in the 2004 NFL draft, including Michael Clayton who was selected 15th overall by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The Southeastern Conference

WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO JUDGE WHICH CONFERENCE IS THE BEST in the NATION?

Is it the quality of the competition from top to bottom in a league? Year-in and year-out, the Southeastern Conference is one of the most competitive conferences in the country.

Is it how a conference fares against non-conference competition? The SEC's 37-19 non-conference record in 2003 was the second best in the nation and only the ACC matched the SEC's five bowl wins last season.

Last season, the SEC had five victories against non-conference teams ranked in the final wire service polls (#3 Oklahoma, #5 Miami, Fla., #12 Texas, #18 Purdue, #22 Clemson), with all victories either taking place on a neutral field or on the opponents' home turf.

Is it competing for the national championship? LSU won the national championship in 2003 with a 13-1 record and a 21-14 victory over Oklahoma in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. It was the SEC's 15th national championship and the league's fourth national title since league expansion in 1992.

Is it playing in front of capacity crowds on fun-filled Saturdays with a tradition that is unparalleled? The SEC, for the 23rd straight season, recorded the largest total attendance figures in the nation with more than 6.1 million fans attending games at SEC stadiums in 2003. SEC stadiums were filled to an NCAA-high 97.1 percent last season. Seven SEC teams were in the top 13 in the nation in average and total attendance.

Is it being the nation's most watched college football conference? The SEC is the only conference in the nation to have a nationally-network televised game each week during the season with its CBS Sports affiliation. The SEC is also showcased on most Saturday nights on ESPN and ESPN2 and Jefferson-Pilot Sports brings the SEC into the homes of SEC fans each weekend.

Is it seeing the most talented student-athletes perform each week during the season? In 2003, 13 SEC players earned first-team All-America mention. The SEC also had the winner of the Maxwell National Player of the Year Award and the Johnny Unitas Award for the nation's top quarterback (Ole Miss' Eli Manning) and the Lou Groza Award for the nation's top placekicker (Ole Miss' Jonathan Nichols). Ten other SEC student-athletes were finalists for eight other awards.

Is the best way to judge a conference the quality of achievement both on the field and in the classroom? Last season, for the second year in a row, the SEC had three of the six student-athletes given designation as National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes - Auburn's Dontarrious Thomas, LSU's Rodney Reed and Eli Manning of Ole Miss.

Reed also earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America mention and four other SEC student-athletes - LSU's Matt Mauck, Arkansas' Jerry Reith, Robert Wallis of Miss. State and Auburn's Thomas were second-team Academic All-Americans.

In 2003, 255 football student-athletes earned SEC Academic Honor Roll status, maintaining a 3.0 grade point average for the previous academic year or during his academic career.
