2010 CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICA

2010 SEC DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR

2010 SEC SPECIAL TEAMS PLAYER OF THE YEAR

PATRICK PETERSON

"The most dynamic player in college football since Charles Woodson."

- CBSsports.com

Bednarik, Thorpe Winner

Peterson became the first player in school history to claim the Chuck Bednarik Award as the nation's best defensive player and the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. He was just the second defensive back in college football history to win the Bednarik Award, joining Charles Woodson who was the 1997 recipient.

Everybody's All-American

Peterson was LSU's first consensus first-team All-American since Glenn Dorsey in 2007. He was the first LSU cornerback to earn All-America honors since Corey Webster in 2004. Peterson was a first-team recipient by the FWAA, Associated Press, Walter Camp, ESPN.com, AFCA, Sporting News, CBSsports.com, Sports Illustrated and Rivals.com

League Leader

Peterson became the first player in SEC history to win a combination of either SEC Offensive/Defensive Player of the Year and SEC Special Teams Player of the Year. He joined a prestigious list of LSU defensive All-Americans that garnered SEC Player of the Year accolades, including Chad Lavalais in 2003 and Glenn Dorsey in 2007.

Lockdown Corner

As the nation's top defensive back, opposing offenses rarely threw to Peterson's side of the field. He finished the regular season with 36 tackles while ranking fifth in the SEC in interceptions with four. He added 1.5 tackles for loss, six pass breakups and a blocked field goal.

Dynamic Returner

Peterson dazzled fans on special teams, ranking second in the SEC and sixth in the nation in punt returns with a 16.1 average, and he was second in the league and seventh in the country in kickoff returns with a 29.3 average. Peterson shattered the school record with 851 kick return yards.

Record Breaker

Peterson is the only player in LSU history to account for touchdowns during his career in all three of the following categories: punt return (2), interception return (1) and blocked field goal return (1). He broke the LSU single-game record for return yards with 257 against North Carolina. That total also registered as the second most return yards in SEC single-game history.

LSU Renews Rivalry With Texas A&M In 75th AT&T Cotton Bowl

LSU renews its rivalry with Texas A&M when the teams meet in the 75th annual AT&T Cotton Bowl on Jan. 7 in Arlington, Texas. Kickoff is slated for 7:27 p.m. from Cowboys Stadium and the game will be televised to a national audience on FOX. It will be the first meeting between LSU and Texas A&M since the season-opener in 1995 when the Aggies beat the Tigers, 33-17, in College Station. LSU goes into the game with a 10-2 overall mark, while the Aggies are 9-3. LSU goes into the game ranked No. 11 in the Associated Press poll, the BCS Standings and Harris Interactive. The Tigers are No. 12 in the USA Today Coaches Poll. Texas A&M is No. 17 in the BCS Standings and the USA Today Coaches Poll and No. 18 in the AP and Harris Interactive. LSU is 2-1-1 all-time in the Cotton Bowl with its last appearance coming in 2003 when the Tigers dropped a 35-20 decision to Texas. LSU is coming off a 31-23 loss to Arkansas in its regular-season finale on Nov. 27. LSU is 15-1 under Les Miles following a loss as the Tigers lost back-to-back games just one time in six years under Miles. Texas A&M has won six straight games going into the Cotton Bowl with wins coming against Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Texas Tech, Baylor and Kansas. The Tigers are 27-1 under Miles in non-conference games with the only loss coming against Penn State in last year's Capital One Bowl. In its 28 non-conference games since Miles took over in 2005, the Tigers have outscored their opponents 1,068-289. LSU goes into the Texas A&M game ranked in the top 10 in the nation in three defensive categories – total defense (No. 8 at 301.6 yards per game), scoring defense (No. 9 at 17.8 points per game) and pass defense (No. 10 at 165.8 yards per game). Offensively, the Tigers are averaging 28.8 points and 332.6 total yards (177.2 rushing, 155.4 passing) per game. LSU has rushed for 100 yards as a team in all 12 games this year. Junior RB Stevan Ridley leads the Tigers and ranks fourth in the SEC with 1,042 yards and 14 TDs. Ridley is the 13th 1,000-yard rusher in school history. Junior QB Jordan Jefferson will become the first Tigers to start three straight bowl games at quarterback since Tommy Hodson in 1986-88. Jefferson, who is 19-7 as LSU's starter, has thrown for 1,253 yards and four TDs this year. He's also rushed for 383 yards and six scores. Defensively, LB Kelvin Sheppard leads the Tigers with 108 tackles, while DT Drake Nevis is first on the team in tackles for loss (13.0) and sacks (6.0). Patrick Peterson, the SEC Defensive and Special Teams Player of the Year, is averaging 16.1 yards per punt return (26 for 418 yards, 2 TDs) and 29.3 on kickoff returns (29 for 851 yards). Senior PK Josh Jasper leads the nation with 26 field goals.

Les Miles

HEAD COACH • SIXTH SEASON

LSU opened the 2010 season coming off the best decade in the history of the program – winning a pair of national titles along with 99 games – and the driving force behind the Tigers' continued dominance at the national level has been head coach Les Miles.

Now six years into his job as head coach of the Tigers, Miles has guided the Tigers to unmatched success – both on and off the field – winning more games than any other coach in LSU history during a 6-year span and claiming both the BCS National Championship and the Southeastern Conference title in 2007.

It's been under Miles' leadership that LSU has established itself as one of the elite college football programs – winning 61 games overall, including four bowl contests, graduating 124 players, having 31 players selected in the NFL Draft, seven of which were first round picks, and producing 11 first-team All-Americans.

Under Miles, the Tigers have also posted at least 11 victories in a season three times and they've finished ranked among the top five in the nation three straight years (2005, '06, and '07), a first at LSU.

With an astonishing 61-16 record in his first six years with the Tigers, Miles has climbed to the third-winningest coach in school history, while his four bowl victories rank second among all LSU head coaches.

In addition to his 61 victories, some other notable accomplishments during his first five years with the Tigers include: only coach in LSU history to beat Auburn, Florida and Alabama in same season – and he's done it twice; only first-year coach in SEC history to lead team to league's title game; 11 wins over coaches who have won national titles; and the only coach in LSU history to lead Tigers to three straight top five final rankings.

LSU's success under Miles hasn't been just on the playing field as the Tigers have also excelled in the classroom as well as being active participants within the community. With an approach that demands his players strive for excellence and pursue an education while representing the University in first-class fashion, the response by the players has been overwhelming. Since the 2005 season, LSU has placed 89 players on the SEC Academic Honor Roll with another 124 earning their college diploma.

Going to back the 2007 season, LSU has graduated 60 of its 81 seniors, including 19 of 24 from the national championship team, 16 of 18 from the 2008 squad, 17 of 23 from the 2009 team and eight of the 16 from the 2010 squad. Ten of the 13 players during that stretch who haven't completed their requirements for graduation are currently playing in the NFL. The Tigers also played an instrumental role in the recovery efforts following Hurricanes Katrina and Rita in 2005, two of the most devastating natural disasters to hit the Louisiana coast.

On the field, Tigers have produced 31 NFL Draft picks over the past five years, including a school-record four first-round picks in the 2007 draft. In 2007, senior defensive tackle Glenn Dorsey became the most decorated defender in school history, winning four national awards.

Now, with the Tigers becoming the first school in the country to have won two BCS National Championships, the foundation for the LSU football program continues to be solid. After 61 wins, including 22 over foes ranked among the nation's top 25, and with five-straight recruiting classes ranked among the top 10 in the nation, including the nation's No. 1 group in 2009, Miles and the Tigers continue to solidify their standing as one of college football's premier programs.

LAST TIME OUT: #12 ARKANSAS 31, #6 LSU 23 • LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Three long scoring plays, including an 80-yard TD reception as the first half ended, were too much for LSU to overcome as 12th-ranked Arkansas held off the 10th-ranked Tigers, 31-23, in Little Rock in the regular-season finale for both teams. The victory sent the Razorbacks to the Sugar Bowl, while the Tigers ended up in the Cotton Bowl. Arkansas, behind 320 passing yards from Ryan Mallett, never trailed in the game, taking a 7-0 first quarter lead on a 14-yard run by Knile Davis. LSU tied the game on its next possession when Stevan Ridley scored on a 5-yard run. Arkansas regained the lead at 14-7 when Mallett hit Cobi Hamilton on an 85-yard TD pass on 3rd-and-9 from its own 15-yard line. The Tigers regrouped and tied the score at 14-14 on another TD run by Ridley with 2:20 to go in the first half. It appeared that the teams would go to halftime tied at 14-14, but an improbable 80-yard TD pass from Mallett to Hamilton as time expired gave the Hogs a 21-14 advantage at intermission. LSU pulled to within 21-17 at the 10:39 mark in the third quarter and then 21-20 three minutes later on a pair of field goals by Josh Jasper. That was as close as the Tigers would get as Mallett threw his third TD pass – this time a 39-yarder to Joe Adams on 4th-and-3 – that extended the Razorback lead to 28-20. Following a three-and-out by LSU, Arkansas tacked on a field goal to make it 31-20 with 6:09 left in the game. Jasper added another field goal, pulling LSU to within 31-23, with just under two minutes left. LSU got the ball back on final time, however Jordan Jefferson fumbled the ball away on a sack with just under a minute to go. Ridley led LSU with 75 yards rushing and a pair of TDs, while Jefferson threw for 184 yards and rushed for another 34.

NOTEBOOK

More Interesting Notes on the LSU-Texas A&M Series

- Dana Bible coached the Tigers for the final three games in 1916, going 1-0-2 before taking over as the head coach at Texas A&M in 1917. In Bible's first meeting with the Tigers in 1917, he led the Aggies to a 27-0 win over LSU.
- When LSU played Texas A&M in the 1944 Orange Bowl, the team went to Miami by train and automobiles. The team returned to Baton Rouge in 18 used cars and most of them ran out of fuel stamps before making it back to campus.
- Former Tiger Jerry Stovall made his collegiate debut against Texas A&M, a 9-0 win in 1960. Stovall rushed for 22 yards, punted 11 times for a 40.9 average, returned a punt six yards and a kickoff 16 yards and made a huge stop on what appeared to be an Aggie touchdown on a punt return. LSU coach Paul Dietzel said of Stovall, "his debut was as impressive as any I've ever seen by a sophomore."
- Current LSU football radio analyst Doug Moreau kicked the game-winning 34-yard field goal in a 9-6 win over Texas A&M to open the 1964 season. Moreau also caught six passes for 101 yards as LSU debuted its new offense – a flanker-type attack – against the Aggies.
- LSU snapped Texas A&M's 7-game winning streak, the longest in the nation at the time, with a 13-12 victory to open the 1968 season. With a 5-8, 160-pound quarterback named Fred Haynes starting for the first time of his career, the Tigers upset the 13th-ranked Aggies in Tiger Stadium.
- Texas A&M scored the go-ahead TD with 19 seconds left to beat the Tigers, 20-18, to open the 1970 season. It was the first time that LSU started 0-1 under Charles McClendon. LSU re-grouped and went on to post a 9-3 overall mark and claim the SEC title with a 5-0 league record.
- The Tommy Hodson era at LSU opened with a 35-17 win over Texas A&M in Tiger Stadium in what was the first meeting between the teams since 1975. Hodson was named SEC Offensive Player of the Week after throwing for 193 yards and a score in the LSU upset of the No. 7-ranked Aggies.
- 34-year old Mike Archer's head coaching debut came in 1987 against Texas A&M as the Tigers posted a 17-3 win over the 15th-ranked Aggies in College Station. LSU went on to go 10-1-1 and finish the year ranked No. 5 in the nation.

- In a 1988 LSU win over Texas A&M a bank of lights went out in Tiger Stadium during a goal line stand by the Tigers. The Tigers held the Aggies out of the endzone thus earning the nickname "Lights-Out Defense"
- In 1989, Texas A&M returned the opening kickoff of the season-opener 92 yards for a TD on its way to a 28-16 victory over LSU. It marked the start of six straight losing seasons for LSU, a streak that wouldn't be snapped until going 7-4-1 in 1995.
- Curley Hallman, a graduate of Texas A&M, was named LSU head coach in 1991. His second game as the Tigers' head coach was a 45-7 defeat to Texas A&M. Hallman went 0-4 against the Aggies in his four years at LSU.
- The Gerry DiNardo era opened at LSU in 1995 with a 33-17 loss to third-ranked Texas A&M in College Station. It's the last meeting between the teams until the Cotton Bowl contest on Jan. 7.

Late Start

The date of Jan. 7 ties for the latest the Tigers have ever played a football game in the modern era. LSU beat Ohio State on Jan. 7, 2008 for the BCS National Championship at the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans. LSU has played a game later in the season, that coming on Jan. 8, 1897 when LSU's second (and final) game of the year came against Cincinnati.

January Games

LSU is 11-15-1 all-time in games played during the month of January. All but one of LSU's 27 January games have come in bowl games. The exception came in 1897 when the Tigers dropped a 26-0 contest to Cincinnati on Jan. 8. LSU coach Les Miles has a 2-1 mark in January games as head coach of the Tigers, beating Notre Dame in the 2007 Sugar Bowl and Ohio State in the 2008 BCS National Championship Game before losing to Penn State in last year's Capital One Bowl.

Long Time Between Games – It Will Have Been 41 Days Since Tigers Have Played

When the Tigers lineup against Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl a total of 41 days will have elapsed since LSU last played a football game. The 41 days serves as the longest span between games in a season in school history. LSU went 40 days between games in both 1958 and 2006. In 1958, the Tigers played their final regular season game on Nov. 22 and then didn't play again until the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1. In 2006, LSU capped its regular season on Nov. 24 and didn't play again until the Sugar Bowl against Notre Dame on Jan. 3.

LSU Makes Fourth Appearance on FOX

LSU will be making its fourth appearance on the FOX network. LSU is 2-1 all-time on FOX, beating Ohio State, 38-24, in the 2008 BCS National Championship Game and a 41-14 win over Notre Dame in the 2007 Sugar Bowl. LSU's loss came to Texas, 35-20, in the 2003 Cotton Bowl.

LSU In the Top 25 For 31th Straight Week

LSU stretched its streak of consecutive weeks in the AP and USA Today Coaches' Poll to 31 straight following the games played during the first week of December. LSU goes into the Texas A&M contest ranked No. 11 in the AP Top 25, the BCS Standings and the Harris Interactive and No. 12 in the USA Today Coaches' Poll. Texas A&M is ranked No. 17 in the USA Today Coaches' Poll, the Harris Interactive and the BCS Standings and the Aggies are No. 18 in the AP Top 25. LSU has been ranked in both the Coaches and AP polls every week since the start of last year. Since Les Miles took over at LSU, the Tigers have been represented in the AP and USA Today Coaches' Poll in 90 of the 94 weeks. The exception came during the final four polls of the 2008 season. In addition, since the start of the 2002 season, LSU has played 113 of 115 games ranked in the top 25, including 76 of 78 games under Les Miles. LSU has a 60-16 record in games played as a top 25 team under Miles. The only two games that LSU hasn't played as a Top 25 team during the Miles era came in 2008 vs. Arkansas and Georgia Tech in the Chick-fil-A Bowl.

LSU Football Cited For Academic Success

LSU is among 42 institutions including five in the Southeastern Conference which were recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for graduating 75 percent or more of their football student-athletes, it was announced on Dec. 8. The GSR is based on a six-year graduation window for student-athletes which is a change from the five-year window used by the CFA and AFCA. The GSR was developed by the NCAA as part of its academic reform initiative to more accurately assess the academic success of student-athletes. The GSR holds institutions accountable for transfer students, unlike the federal graduation rate. LSU's senior trio of defensive standouts – Kelvin Sheppard, Drake Nevis and Lazarus Levington – earned their undergraduate degrees during fall commencement on Dec. 17.

LSU's 15-1 Under Miles Following A Loss

LSU ran its record to 15-1 under Les Miles following a loss with the victory over Alabama. The win over Alabama came after the Tigers dropped their first game of the season to Auburn, 24-17, on Oct. 23. LSU has only loss back-to-back games once under Miles, that coming in 2008 when the Tigers dropped consecutive games to Ole Miss and Arkansas in late November.

LSU's Won At Least 8 Games For 11 Straight Years

With the win against Alabama, LSU won its eighth game of the season for the 11th straight year. LSU has won at least eight games in a season every year from 2000-10. LSU's streak of years with at least eight wins ranks as the longest such streak in the SEC and is third nationally. Here's a look at those teams with a current streak of winning at least eight games in a season:

Rank	No.	Team
1.	13	Virginia Tech *
2.	12	Boise State*
3.	11	LSU*

Miles Has Victories Over Every SEC Team

With last year's win over Georgia, LSU coach Les Miles has recorded at least one victory over every team in the SEC. Miles is 33-14 in SEC regular season games and 34-15 in all league games (including SEC Championship Game). In addition, Miles has faced 50 different teams during his head coaching career and he's beaten all but two of them – Texas and Penn State. With the win at Florida, Miles has now won on the road at every SEC venue with the exception of Kentucky. The Tigers lost to the Wildcats in 2007 in his only game there.

LSU Goes 3-0 Against SEC Eastern Division For Just Third Time In School History

LSU swept its three games against the SEC Eastern Division this year, beating Vanderbilt (27-3), Tennessee (16-14), and Florida (33-29). It's the first time that LSU has gone 3-0 against the SEC Eastern Division since 2002. Since going to the divisional format in 1992, LSU has posted a 3-0 mark against the SEC East three times – 1997, 2002, and 2010.

Barksdale Takes Over At Left Tackle

When LSU opened the 2010 season, it marked the first time in 53 games that the Tigers had a new face at left tackle as senior Joseph Barksdale has taken over the spot this year. Barksdale, who has started a team-high 39 straight games (27 at right tackle, 12 at left tackle), replaced Ciron Black, who started a school-record 53 games at left tackle over the past four years. As a matter of fact, since the start of the 2002 season, only two players have started at left tackle for the Tigers - Andrew Whitworth and Black. Whitworth, now a starter for the Cincinnati Bengals, started 52 straight games at left tackle from 2002-05 with Black starting every game at the position from 2006-09.

Saturday Night Special – Tigers Are 43-4 In Night Games Under Miles

LSU football loves a night game and with the results that the Tigers have had under Les Miles, it's hard to argue. LSU's Been Good As A Top 10 Team

LSU's top 10 rankings haven't come by accident in recent years as the Tigers have backed up their placement in the polls by winning 55 of the 70 games they've played as an AP Top 10 team. Since returning to the top 10 on a consistent basis during the early 2000s, LSU has recorded a 55-15 record in games in which they have been ranked in the AP Top 10. That record goes back to the 2002 season when LSU cracked the AP Top 10 the week they faced Auburn. LSU was 6-3 in 2009 as a top 10 team and the Tigers are 3-2 this year.

In just three years as LSU's primary place kicker, Josh Jasper has firmly established himself in the Tiger record books. Jasper, a senior from Memphis, Tenn., is the LSU career leader in field goal percentage having drilled 84.9 percent (45-of-53) of his field goals. That percentage also ranks second in SEC history. Jasper shattered the LSU game record for made field goals with five against Mississippi State and was named SEC Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts. It broke the previous record of four in one game, set nine different times. Jasper's previous career high was four against Arkansas last season. He hit from 44, 32, 51, 37 and 21. Jasper has also faked a punt for a first down three times in his career when he did so versus Georgia in 2008, against McNeese State on Oct. 16 and versus Alabama with a 29-yard run in the third quarter. Jasper has racked up 45 yards rushing this season. Jasper is the only consensus All-America kicker in LSU history as he earned the award this year.

LSU Is 34-0 Under Miles When Rushing For 100 Yards and Holding Opponents To Less Than 100 Yards

One look at LSU's results in relation to rushing the football and it's easy to figure out that head coach Les Miles is a former offensive lineman who understands the importance of running the football. In 78 games under Miles, LSU's success is easy to predict when it comes to net rushing yards. Get to 100 yards rushing and LSU will more than likely win as the Tigers are 57-6 under Miles when that happens. Hold the opponent to fewer than 100-yards and the Tigers are 36-3. An even more telling stat is that when LSU rushes for 100-plus yards and holds the opponents to fewer than 100-yards, the Tigers are 34-0. The following is a look at LSU's rushing numbers during the Miles era and how the Tigers have fared in those games:

Year	LSU 100+	LSU 100-	Opp 100+	Opp 100-	LSU 100+/Opp 100-

Youth Movement

LSU has played a total of 26 first-time players - 25 freshmen, 1 junior college transfer - this year. Of the 25 freshmen, 12 are true freshmen and 13 are redshirt freshmen. The 12 true freshmen are the most to play in a single-season for LSU under Les Miles. The following is a look at the true freshmen who have played during Les Miles' six years at LSU:

Murphy To Wear Jersey No. 18

Jersey No. 18 - one of the new traditions in LSU history - has been passed down to senior running back Richard Murphy this year. The Jersey No. 18 tradition was born in 2003 when quarterback Matt Mauck guided the Tigers to its first national championship since 1958. His number (No. 18) became synonymous with success - both on and off the field - as well as a selfless attitude that has become the epitome of being an LSU football player. After his final year with the Tigers, Mauck passed Jersey No. 18 down to running back Jacob Hester, who then helped the Tigers to another national title in 2007. Richard Dickson wore Jersey No. 18 in 2008 and 2009. LSU coach Les Miles, along with input from the three other players who have worn Jersey No. 18, determined that Murphy would wear the jersey in 2010.

LSU's The Winningest Program In SEC Over Last 10 Years

LSU is the winningest program in the SEC since the start of the 2001 season as the Tigers have posted a 101-29 mark during that span. The 101 victories for LSU are four better than Florida (97-32). LSU also has won more SEC titles (3) than any other team in the league during the 10-year span from 2001-10. The following is a look at how the SEC stakes up over the past 10 years:

LSU Has Become D-Line U.

You can now refer to LSU as D-line U as the Tigers have made it a habit of producing All-Americans and NFL Draft picks from its defensive line. Since the 2003 season, LSU has had five defensive linemen earn a total of six First-Team All-America honors and 10 members of its defensive line selected in the NFL Draft. In 2007, DT Glenn Dorsey became the most decorated defensive player in school history - winning four national awards - on his way to becoming the fifth overall pick in the 2008 NFL Draft. In the spring of 2009, Defensive end Tyson Jackson became the highest LSU defender ever picked in the NFL Draft, going No. 3 overall to Kansas City. The following is a look at the accomplishments by the LSU defensive line since 2003:

2003	DT Chad Lavalais - First-Team All-America; 5th round NFL Draft pick DE Marquise Hill - 2nd round NFL Draft pick
2004	DE Marcus Spears - First Team All-America; 1st round NFL Draft pick
2005	DT Kyle Williams - First Team All-America; 5th round NFL Draft pick DT Claude Wroten - First Team All-America; 3rd round NFL Draft pick DE Melvin Oliver - 6th round NFL Draft pick
2006	DT Glenn Dorsey - First Team All-America DE Chase Pittman - 5th round NFL Draft pick
2007	DT Glenn Dorsey - First Team All-America; 1st round NFL Draft pick (No. 5 overall)

LSU 150

In celebration of the school's sesquicentennial anniversary in 2010, the Tigers will be boasting an "LSU 150" patch on their jerseys this season. The LSU 150 logo will also be painted onto the field in Tiger Stadium. The University will celebrate 150 years of excellence the entire season. Classes first began in 1860 and in 1870, the institution officially became Louisiana State University.

LSU Capped Decade of Dominance In 2009

LSU put an end to the most successful decade in school history in 2009 by posting a 9-4 overall record and advancing to a major New Year's Day Bowl. LSU's 99 wins during from 2000-09 ranked second to only Florida (100) in the SEC. The decade saw LSU claim a pair of national championships in 2003 and 2007 and three SEC titles (2001, 2003, and 2007). LSU played in a bowl game each year, winning seven, four of which were BCS games. Five national award winners, 18 first-team All-Americans, six Academic All-Americans, 53 NFL Draft picks and 180 college graduates highlight a decade that has seen LSU establish itself as one of the premier football programs - on the field, in the classroom and in the community - in college athletics.

Notables

- LSU began playing football in Tiger Stadium in 1924 and is currently in its 86th year in the venerable stadium. This season marks the 79th year LSU has played under the lights in Death Valley. The Tigers defeated Spring Hill, 35-0, on Oct. 3, 1931 in the first night game in the stadium's history.
- LSU has won 36 of its last 41 games at home. Head coach Les Miles is 28-1 in Saturday Night games in Death Valley.
- More than 85,000 fans have attended each of LSU's last 76 home games. In that span, the Tigers have eclipsed the 90,000 mark 66 times, including a school-record 93,129 for the Oct. 10, 2009 game that pitted No. 4 LSU against No. 1 Florida.
- Since national attendance figures began being kept in 1957, LSU has finished in the nation's top 10 in average attendance in 46 of the past 53 seasons.
- Since 1960, LSU owns a stellar 219-60-4 (.781) record in traditional Tiger Stadium night games. On the other hand, the Tigers are just 24-25-3 (.490) at home during the day in that span.

Quotables

“(Tiger Woods) pumped both fists and yelled, as jacked as you'll ever see him. But the crowd explosion drowned out whatever was coming out of his mouth. It was the closest golf has ever come to sounding like fourth-and-goal at LSU's Tiger Stadium on a Saturday night.”

- Pat Forde, ESPN.com on Tiger Woods' putt to force a playoff at the 2008 U.S. Open; June 14, 2008

“I'm not sure what it was like to walk into the Coliseum, but I bet it was something like this. The best place in the world to watch a sporting event.”

- Wright Thompson, ESPN.com; Nov. 10, 2008

“Dark. That combined with Tiger Stadium on a Saturday night is something loud, strange and holy. There is noise everywhere in stadiums from Eugene to Tuscaloosa. Only in Baton Rouge is there a living, breathing lurking in its grand, old stadium.”

- Dennis Dodd, CBSSports.com; Oct. 8, 2009

“The toughest place to play in the SEC is LSU. Death Valley. The fans there are relentless.”

- Darren McFadden, Former Arkansas running back and Heisman Trophy finalist

“All I began to hear was a chant 'L-S-U, L-S-U.' It got louder and louder. It was the loudest I've ever heard a stadium.”

- Mark Richt, Georgia Head Coach

Tigers Battle But Lose Opener in DiNardo's Debut, 33-17

LSU opened its 102nd season of football with a 33-17 loss to third-ranked Texas A&M. The Tigers held the Aggies scoreless in the first quarter thanks to a blocked field goal by Gabe Northern on A&M's first possession. The Aggies opened the scoring in the second quarter with a 24-yard field goal from Kyle Bryant. A&M scored twice more in the second quarter, first on a Keith Mitchell safety to make it 5-0, and then again on a TD pass from Corey Pullig to Albert Connell with 18 seconds left in the half to make it 12-0, A&M. Leeland McElroy scored the first points of the third quarter with an 18-yard touchdown run. The Tigers' first points of the game came on an 11-yard Kendall Cleveland touchdown run with 6:02 left in the third. McElroy scored again to make it 26-7, A&M. LSU followed that up with a touchdown pass from Jamie Howard to Cleveland and a field goal to bring the score to 26-17, but A&M put it out of reach when McElroy scored on a 33-yard run with 5:27 remaining in the contest.

Tigers Survive North Carolina Rally To Win Season-Opener, 30-24

LSU held off a furious North Carolina rally as the Tigers opened their sixth season under Les Miles with a 30-24 victory over the 18th-ranked Tar Heels in the Chick-fil-A Kickoff Game in Atlanta. Leading 30-10 early in the fourth quarter and with North Carolina backed up on its own 3-yard line, the Tigers spotted the Tar Heels a 97-yard TD pass to close the gap to 30-17 with 10:34 to play. That TD changed the momentum of the game as the Tiger offense couldn't get anything going. LSU went 3-and-out on its next possession before the Tar Heels marched 67 yards on 13 plays to pull within 30-24 with 2:31 to play. After UNC recovered its onside kick, the Tiger defense stepped up, forcing what appeared to be a game-ending turnover on fourth down. With the ball on the UNC 39-yard line and with just over a minute left, LSU tried to run out the clock but a fumble by Stevan Ridley gave the ball back to UNC with 1:08 left in the contest. With no timeouts, the Tar Heels marched all the way to the LSU 6-yard line before the Tiger defense batted away passes in the endzone on consecutive downs to seal the victory. LSU jumped out to a 30-10 halftime lead thanks to a series of big plays in the second quarter, including an 87-yard punt return for a TD by Patrick Peterson, a 50-yard TD run by Russell Shepard and a 51-yard TD pass from Jordan Jefferson to Reuben Randle. Peterson finished with a school-record 257 return yards, just nine yards shy of tying the SEC record. LSU's defense limited UNC to just 24 yards rushing, while the Tigers racked up 162 yards on the ground, 81 coming from Ridley and 67 from Shepard.

Stevan Ridley rushed for a career-best 159 yards and one touchdown and the LSU defense dismantled Vanderbilt as the Tigers broke open a tight game with 17 fourth quarter points in the 27-3 win over the Commodores in Nashville. LSU rolled up 392 yards of total offense, including 280 on the ground, as the Tigers overpowered the Commodores on the both sides of the ball in the victory. After a scoreless first quarter, Russell Shepard got the Tigers on the board with a 30-yard run just 40 seconds into the second quarter. Josh Jasper tacked on a 36-yard field goal as LSU led 10-0 at halftime. Vanderbilt pulled to within 10-3 early in the third quarter on a field goal. From there, it was all LSU as the Tigers scored 17 fourth quarter points highlighted by a 65-yard TD run by Ridley. Alfred Blue scored his first career TD on a 6-yard run and Jasper kicked a 23-yard field goal to round out the scoring for the Tigers. For the game, LSU's defense forced punts on 10 of Vanderbilt's 12 possessions - including all seven first half possessions - as the Tigers limited the Commodores to only 135 total yards - 65 rushing, 70 passing. Vanderbilt crossed into LSU territory just twice in the contest and they got inside the Tiger redzone just one time. Drake Nevis led the Tigers with five tackles and 2.5 sacks, while Kelvin Sheppard added nine stops for an LSU defense that recorded six sacks and held Vanderbilt to only eight first downs.

Peterson, Defense Lead Tigers Past #21 West Virginia, 20-14

Patrick Peterson returned a punt 60-yards for a touchdown and the LSU defense held West Virginia to just 177 total yards as the Tigers extended the nation's longest non-conference regular season winning streak to 31 games with a 20-14 win over the Mountaineers. LSU never trailed in the contest, taking a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter on a 1-yard run by Stevan Ridley. LSU extended the lead to 10-0 on a 49-yard field goal by Josh Jasper with 12:01 left in the first half. After forcing WVU to its fourth three-and-out of the first half, Peterson gathered in a punt and returned it 60 yards for a TD and a 17-0 LSU lead at the 9:39 mark in the second quarter. West Virginia added a score just before halftime, cutting the LSU lead to 17-7 at the break. WVU pulled to within 17-14 early in the third quarter, going 30 yards on a two plays following a Jordan Jefferson interception. Ridley's Game Winner Caps Wild Finish For LSU, 16-14

In a wild finish that saw the lead exchange hands with nothing but zeros on the scoreboard, Stevan Ridley bulled his way into the endzone on a 1-yard run as LSU rallied for a 16-14 win over Tennessee in Tiger Stadium. With LSU on the Tennessee 1-yard line and with the clock reading under three seconds, the Tigers had appeared to be on the losing end of the contest after an errant snap sailed past Jordan Jefferson on what was thought to be the final play of the game. However on that play, Tennessee was flagged for having 13 players on the field and LSU was given on more shot at victory with 0:00 showing on the game clock. On the next play, Ridley took a toss sweep around the left side and pounded his way into the endzone for the 16-14 LSU victory. It's thought to be the first time in modern day school history that LSU scored the game's winning points on a play that started with no time left on the clock. The Ridley TD capped another fourth-quarter comeback for the Tigers as the Vols had taken their first lead of the game at 14-10 on a 3-yard run by Matt Simms with 11:34 to go in the game. On its next possession, LSU drove to the UT 9-yard line before a Jarrett Lee pass was intercepted in the endzone. LSU's defense stuffed Tennessee on fourth-and-1 at the Tiger 31-yard line setting up the game-winning drive with just over five minutes to play. LSU converted two third downs and then a fourth-and-14 with just over a minute left on the game-winning drive that saw the Tigers go 69 yards on 16 plays for the victory. Ridley led LSU with 123 yards and one TD, while Jefferson added 100 rushing yards, 83 coming on the first play of the game when he scampered for the longest run by a quarterback in school history for a TD and a 7-0 LSU lead. Lee threw for 185 yards on 16-of-23 passing as the Tigers alternated quarterbacks throughout the game.

Lee To Toliver Caps Wild Finish in the Swamp, 33-29

Jarrett Lee connected with Terrence Toliver on a 3-yard TD pass with six seconds left to lift LSU to another wild come-from-behind victory for the second straight week with a 33-29 win over Florida. The game-winning score was setup by a fake field goal just three plays earlier. Faced with a fourth-and-3 at the Florida 36-yard line, LSU appeared to have opted for a field goal that would have sent the game into overtime. However, LSU faked the kick – holder Derek Helton flipped the ball over his head – and kicker Josh Jasper picked up the ball, which bounced one time, in stride and raced five yards for a first down. The Tigers scored three plays later as LSU won in Gainesville for the first time since 2004. In a game dominated by LSU, the Gators took a 29-26 lead with just over three minutes left on a 5-yard TD run. LSU opened the fourth quarter with a 3-yard TD run by Jordan Jefferson to take a 26-14 lead with 14:17 left in the contest. However, Florida returned the ensuing kickoff 88-yards for a score to cut the deficit to 26-21 just 11 seconds later. The teams exchanged scoreless possessions before the series of fireworks during the final five minutes of the contest. LSU took charge of the contest early, taking a 3-0 lead on a 45-yard field Jasper field goal on its first possession. A series of early mistakes kept Florida in the game, as the Gators scored their two first half TDs on drives of 17 and 16 yards after LSU turnovers. The Tigers, despite limiting Florida to only 65 first half yards, led 20-14 at halftime. After a scoreless third quarter by both teams, LSU took its biggest lead of the game, 26-14, on the 3-yard run by Jefferson to open the fourth quarter. LSU alternated quarter-backs throughout the game, with Lee throwing for 124 yards and two TDs and Jefferson adding 100 passing yards and a pair of rushing scores. Toliver led the Tigers with six catches for 111 yards and two TDs.

Ford and Ridley Power LSU Past McNeese, 32-10

Michael Ford rushed for a career-high 86 yards and two touchdowns and Stevan Ridley added a pair of scores as LSU won its seventh straight game with a 32-10 non-conference win over McNeese State in Tiger Stadium. In what was the first-ever meeting between the two teams in football, McNeese took a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter after a Jordan Jefferson fumble gave the Cowboys the ball at the LSU 5-yard line. McNeese scored three plays later. LSU tied the game at 7-7 on its next possession when Ridley scored on a 2-yard run. Another LSU miscue setup another McNeese score as the Cowboys took a 10-7 lead on a field goal at the 11:26 mark in the second quarter. The Tigers responded with an 8-play, 56-yard drive to take the lead for good at 14-10 on a 10-yard run by Ridley. LSU added a safety for a 16-10 lead at halftime. Ford scored on a 6-yard run midway through the third quarter to run the score to 22-10. Josh Jasper added a 31-yard field goal to run the score to 25-10 with nine minutes left in the game. Ford added the game's final points on a 36-yard run with just over a minute left in the contest. For the game, LSU limited McNeese to 219 total yards, but the Cowboys became the first team this year to rush for 100 net yards against the Tigers, finishing with 101 yards on the ground on 34 carries. LSU managed 282 total yards, which included 179 rushing yards. Jarrett Lee connected on 9-of-14 passes for 75 yards. Russell Shepard led all receivers with seven catches for 53 yards. Shepard added 25 rushing yards on three carries. Kelvin Sheppard led the Tiger defense with 10 tackles and a fumble recovery, while Ryan Baker added nine tackles and a pair of sacks.

Auburn Runs Past LSU, 24-17, In Battle Of Top 10 Teams

Auburn's Onterio McCalebb raced 70 yards for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter to break a 17-17 tie as the fourth-ranked Tigers went on to a 24-17 victory over sixth-ranked LSU in a battle of the final two unbeaten teams in the SEC. McCalebb's run highlighted a day that saw Auburn rush for 440 yards against LSU, the most ever surrendered by a Tiger team. Despite being outgained 526-243, LSU still had chances to win the game as outstanding punting by Derek Helton and Josh Jasper kept Auburn bottled up inside its 10-yard line for most of the day. Auburn started five of its 12 drives inside its 10-yard line, including two at the 1-yard line. LSU scored on two of its four possessions on the first half as the teams were tied at 10-10 at halftime. LSU's first half scoring came on a 48-yard field goal by Jasper and on a 2-yard run by Jordan Jefferson that tied the game at 10-10 with 15 seconds left in the first half. Auburn extended its lead to 17-10 on a 49-yard run by Cam Newton on its first possession of the second half. The score remained that way until early in the fourth quarter when LSU used a trick play – a halfback pass from Spencer Ware to Rueben Randle that covered 39 yards – to tie the game at 17-17 with 12:16 to play. After forcing Auburn to punt on its next possession, LSU got the ball at its own 40-yard line with 7:51 to go in the game. LSU went three-and-out and Auburn scored on a 70-yard run three plays later for the winning points. LSU turned the ball over on downs on its final possession of the contest. Jefferson led LSU with 74 yards rushing and one TD. He also completed 7-of-14 passes for 46 yards and a score. Randle led all receivers with six catches for 73 yards and a score. Ryan Baker had 12 tackles for LSU.

Jefferson's Career Game Keys Upset of No. 5 Alabama, 24-21

LSU clicked in all three phases of the game and QB Jordan Jefferson had the best game of his career, leading the 10th-ranked Tigers to a 24-21 win over No. 5 Alabama. Jefferson engineered four second half scoring drives – 2 TDs and 2 field goals – as LSU overcame a 7-3 halftime deficit to beat the Crimson Tide. LSU regained the lead for the first time since early in the first quarter at the 8:17 mark in the second half when Jefferson connected with Rueben Randle on a 75-yard TD pass giving the Tigers a 10-7 advantage. Alabama came back on its next possession, going 73 yards on 10 plays capped with a 5-yard run by Mark Ingram to regain the lead at 14-10 at the 2:30 mark in the third quarter. The Tigers pulled to within 14-13 on a 35-yard field goal at the 14:16 mark in the final quarter. After forcing Alabama to a 3-and-out on its next possession, Jefferson directed an 11-play, 77-yard drive that put the Tigers up for good at 21-14 on a 1-yard run by Stevan Ridley. The drive included Les Miles at his best when he called for a double-pitch reverse to tight end Deangelo Peterson on a 4th-and-1 at the Bama 26-yard line. Peterson got the first down, getting all the way to the 3-yard line before being knocked out of bounds. LSU extended its lead to 24-14 on another Jasper field goal after forcing a fumble on Alabama's next possession. The Crimson Tide pulled to within 24-21 with 3:17 to go in the game. Faced with a 3-and-13 at its own 20-yard line, Jarrett Lee connected with Rueben Randle on a 47-yard pass. LSU was able to run the clock down to 18 seconds before having to punt the ball back to Alabama. Backed up on its own 14-yard line and out of timeouts, Alabama ran three plays before the clock expired. Jefferson threw for 141 yards and 1 TD and ran for another 27 yards, while Ridley rushed for 88 yards and a score. The Tiger defense held Alabama to just 102 rushing yards.

Defense Leads Tigers To 51-0 Homecoming Win over UL-Monroe

The LSU defense scored two touchdowns and the Tigers pitched their first shutout of the year in a 51-0 homecoming victory over Louisiana-Monroe. The win extended LSU's regular season non-conference streak to a nation's best 33 straight and in the process improved LSU coach Les Miles' record in non-SEC games to 27-1. The game was never in doubt as the Tigers scored 13 points in the first quarter and led 23-0 at halftime. Ron Brooks scored all the points the Tigers would need, returning an interception 32 yards for a 7-0 LSU lead at the 7:05 mark in the first quarter. Josh Jasper kicked three first half field goals, including a career-long of 53 yards, to run his season total to 20. Patrick Peterson setup LSU's other first half TD, making an acrobatic interception at the LSU 3-yard line and returning it 85 yards to the ULM 12. Stevan Ridley scored on a 1-yard run five plays later for a 20-0 Tiger advantage. Ridley added a 7-yard run on LSU's first possession of the second half and then defensive end Lavar Edwards picked up a fumble and raced 29 yards for a score just 15 seconds later for a 37-0 LSU advantage. Freshmen Spencer Ware and Michael Ford closed out the scoring with TD runs. For the game, LSU held the Warhawks to just 191 total yards, including just 67 passing yards, and the Tigers forced five turnovers. Ridley led the Tigers with 67 rushing yards and a pair of TDs, while Richard Murphy added 44 yards on five carries. LSU quarterbacks Jordan Jefferson and Jarrett Lee combined to complete 8-of-22 passes for 95 yards.

Jefferson Leads LSU Past Ole Miss In Home Finale Shootout, 43-36

Stevan Ridley scored on a 7-yard run with 44 seconds left as LSU overcame a pair of fourth quarter deficits for a 43-36 comeback victory over Ole Miss in Tiger Stadium. The win was the 11th straight at home for the Tigers and gave LSU a 10-win season for the fourth time under Les Miles. LSU scored three fourth quarter TDs as the Tigers overcame deficits of 30-29 with 8:49 to play and then 36-35 with 4:57 to go. Michael Ford's 27-yard reception from Jordan Jefferson put the Tigers up 35-30 with 7:30 to go. Ole Miss responded with a 65-yard TD to regain the lead at 36-35 with under five minutes to go setting up LSU's game-winning drive. LSU scored first, taking a 7-0 lead on a 2-yard run by Ridley just three minutes into the contest. Ole Miss tied the game 30 seconds later setting up a back-and-forth battle between the two teams. The game was tied at 10-10 after the first quarter and the Tigers led 20-17 at halftime. Ole Miss took its first lead of the game at 24-23 with 4:34 to go in the third quarter. LSU responded with an 8-play, 80-yard drive to regain the lead at 29-24 at the 14:22 mark in the fourth quarter. The game featured nearly 900 yards of offense and 11 ties or lead changes with the Tigers rolling up a season-high 470 total yards. Jefferson had his best game at LSU, throwing for a career best 254 yards and 1 TD. Ridley rushed for 89 yards and a career-high three scores.

Big Plays Lead Arkansas Past LSU, 31-23

Three long scoring plays, including an 80-yard TD reception as the first half ended, were too much for LSU to overcome as 12th-ranked Arkansas held off the 10th-ranked Tigers, 31-23, in Little Rock in the regular-season finale for both teams. Arkansas, behind 320 passing yards from Ryan Mallett, never trailed in the game, taking a 7-0 first quarter lead on a 14-yard run by Knile Davis. LSU tied the game on its next possession when Stevan Ridley scored on a 5-yard run. Arkansas regained the lead at 14-7 when Mallett hit Cobi Hamilton on an 85-yard TD pass on 3rd-and-9 from its own 15-yard line. The Tigers regrouped and tied the score at 14-14 on another TD run by Ridley with 2:20 to go in the first half. It appeared that the teams would go to halftime tied at 14-14, but an improbable 80-yard TD pass from Mallett to Hamilton as time expired gave the Hogs a 21-14 advantage at intermission. LSU pulled to within 21-17 at the 10:39 mark in the third quarter and then 21-20 three minutes later on a pair of field goals by Josh Jasper. That was as close as the Tigers would get as Mallett threw his third TD pass - this time a 39-yarder to Joe Adams on 4th-and-3 - that extended the Razorback lead to 28-20. LSU got the ball back on final time, however Jordan Jefferson fumbled the ball away on a sack with just under a minute to go. Ridley led LSU with 75 yards rushing and a pair of TDs, while Jefferson threw for 184 yards and rushed for another 34.

CB Patrick Peterson

"One of the premier defensive backs in college football, Peterson has been exceptional for the Tigers this season in every way. He has four interceptions and is the most complete cornerback to come through this league in a long time."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, December 1, 2010

"His four interceptions this season don't begin to tell you what kind of player he is. Not only is he the best cornerback in college football and outstanding in man coverage, but he's also one of the surest tacklers in the game."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 24, 2010

"He's been one of the finest cornerbacks this league has seen in a long time, but LSU's Patrick Peterson will almost certainly play his final game in Tiger Stadium on Saturday against Ole Miss. Peterson is projected by ESPN's Mel Kiper as the No. 4 overall prospect in the 2011 NFL draft if he comes out, which Peterson is expected to do. There simply aren't many 218-pound cornerbacks on this planet who can run, tackle, cover and return kicks the way Peterson can. He's been a treat to watch. That is, unless you're the team having to punt the football to him."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 18, 2010

"Don't look at his statistics. Look at how few passes are completed to his side of the field when he's in coverage, and look at what a sure tackler he is."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 17, 2010

"I praised Peterson in this week's Stock Watch; he's more than an athlete. Peterson has continued to improve his technical cover skills."

--Mel Kiper, ESPN.com, November 10, 2010

"Peterson is the closest thing you will find to a shutdown cover corner in college football. He's also shown remarkable return skills in 2010 in his first year on the job."

--Todd McShay, ESPN.com, November 10, 2010

"Everyone knows what a terrific cover corner Peterson is. He has a great feel, he possesses top ball skills and he closes quickly. This season, he's also proven to be a lethal punt/kick returner, averaging 18.8 and 27.0 yards respectively. What does not get as much mention is he's also as good a tackler at the position as you will find at the college level."

--Mel Kiper, ESPN.com, November 8, 2010

"Peterson is as accomplished a speed-size combination as you'll find at the corner position, with the safety size, foot skills and speed of a much smaller corner. He continues to show why many think he's the top overall talent in the draft class. We know he has return skills."

--Mel Kiper, ESPN.com, November 3, 2010

"Peterson is far and away the top corner on our draft board and I'll be shocked if he's not a top-10 pick in the 2011 draft no matter what happens this weekend."

--Todd McShay, ESPN.com, November 3, 2010

"Peterson is considered the top NFL draft prospect at cornerback in the country. He leads the SEC in punt returns and has two interceptions and one blocked field goal this season."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 3, 2010

"His greatest value is that he takes one whole side of the field away and can match up with anybody. Peterson has two interceptions. He's also blocked a field goal and returned two punts for touchdowns."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 13, 2010

"Not many teams throw his way, which underscores his value. He typically takes away one whole side of the field."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 6, 2010

"He's too explosive of an athlete to count out and the best cornerback in the country."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 5, 2010

"I honestly haven't seen anybody more explosive in college football this season."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 1, 2010

"He's dynamic enough to be that defensive player that gets the annual Heisman buzz because people can see what kind of talent he is. In the truest sense of the Heisman being about the most outstanding college football player, that may well be Peterson. We've talked plenty about what a physical freak he is."

--Bruce Feldman, ESPN.com, October 1, 2010

"He's the most dangerous special teams guy in the country."

--Dennis Dodd, CBSsports.com, September 30, 2010

"He's one of the best cover corners and run defenders in college football."

--Ralph N. Paulk, Pittsburgh Tribune-Review, October 1, 2010

"The lone defensive player on the list, Peterson is quickly becoming a Heisman contender. Not only does he have two interceptions, but he is also second in the nation in punt returns, averaging 28.1 yards with two touchdowns. He is also 15th in the nation in kickoff returns, averaging 31.7 yards."

--CBSsports.com, September 28, 2010

"If Ingram is the best player in the SEC, then Peterson is the most explosive player. Every time he gets his hands on the ball or even gets near the ball, you expect something big to happen."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 28, 2010

"In this his junior year, Peterson's solid defense play combined with a knack for big time performances in big time games has put Patrick on the short list of Heisman contenders."

--SportsIllustrated.com, September 27, 2010

"The LSU corner/return man had just returned a punt 60 yards in the Tigers' 20-14 win over West Virginia on Saturday night, when he stopped in the end zone and struck that familiar stiff-armed Heisman Trophy pose. It drew a 15-yard penalty for excessive celebration, but come December, that yellow flag could turn into much more -- like a bronze trophy."

--Corey McCartney, SI.com, September 27, 2010

"I'm skeptical that another player can equal Charles Woodson, but Peterson is that rare defender in the same mold as the 1997 Heisman winner."

--Corey McCartney, SI.com, September 27, 2010

"LSU may not have begun its Peterson Heisman campaign, but for all intents and purposes, it's officially underway."

--Corey McCartney, SI.com, September 27, 2010

"The last Saturday in September yielded a few climbers for the Heisman. It also served as a launch party for likely the nation's corner back and punt returner."

--SI.com, September 27, 2010

"I still say the guy is one of the most explosive football players I've seen this season."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 26, 2010

"Patrick Peterson is the best football player in the United States of America right now, with Denard Robinson being a close second. Seriously: Is anyone doing more for his team or making more impact plays each game than Peterson is? Let's not be biased against defensive players or special-teams studs. If you're the best player in the country, you're the best player in the country. Period. That's what Peterson is right now."

--Matt Zemek, CollegeFootballNews.com, September 26, 2010

"Peterson proved he's the most dynamic player in college football since Charles Woodson during No. 15 LSU's 20-14 win over No. 22 West Virginia."

--Larry Holder, CBSsports.com, September 26, 2010

"Peterson doesn't need no stinking trophy to tell me that he's the best NFL player in college football. He could be the next Woodson in the NFL, and that's saying something."

--Larry Holder, CBSsports.com, September 26, 2010

"Peterson is already the Darrelle Revis/Nnamdi Asomugha of college football cornerbacks. No one throws his way."

--Larry Holder, CBSsports.com, September 26, 2010

"He is now making an argument that he is the best cornerback in college football. A junior, over six feet tall, 210 pounds, gifted athletically. He has been strong in coverage. He has that versatility to help out the special teams in the return game. There is not a cornerback in college football playing better now than Peterson. Sheppard the linebacker and Nevis the defensive tackle are also playing the best football of their careers.”

--Mel Kiper, ESPN, September 23, 2010

“It’s difficult to find a tackle-linebacker-cornback combo anywhere in the country that’s playing better right now than Drake Nevis, Kelvin Sheppard and Patrick Peterson.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 23, 2010

“He is great. He should be up for the Heisman. The guy is the best defensive back in the country.”

--West Virginia coach Bill Stewart, September 21, 2010

“He should be up for the Heisman. He’s the best defensive back in the country. He’s a shut-down guy. He’s great, just great.”

West Virginia head coach Bill Stewart, September 21, 2010

“He’s as good as I’ve ever seen. When you watch tape, he is always on your best guy. He plays left side, right side, down the middle. You look at tape from last year, he was on Julio Jones at Alabama and A.J. Green at Georgia.”

--West Virginia offensive coordinator Jeff Mullen, September 21, 2010

“He can change the game, if you let him. He is a great player, one of the best in the nation.”

--West Virginia quarterback Geno Smith, September 21, 2010

--West Virginia offensive coordinator Jeff Mullen, September 21, 2010

“The chances of him actually winning the Heisman Trophy aren’t very realistic, but I didn’t see a more dynamic player across college football the first week. He’s already one of the best cornerbacks in the country and is a touchdown waiting to happen when he drifts back deep on a punt return or kickoff return. Wonder how many more chances he’ll get to return a kick this season after his 87-yard touchdown against North Carolina?”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 7, 2010

“He hasn’t returned kicks since high school, but Peterson showed little rust. He recorded 244 of his 257 combined return yards in the first half, including an 87-yard punt return for a touchdown. He was facing a UNC special teams group depleted by suspensions, but he clearly helped his Heisman candidacy, eliciting more than a few comparisons to Charles Woodson from those in the press box.”

--Cory McCartney, SI.com, September 7, 2010

“The first defensive player to toss his name into contention is Peterson, who almost single-handedly saved LSU from defeat against a severely depleted North Carolina team on Saturday night. His 257 return yards against the Tar Heels stand as a school record, second-best in SEC history.”

--Bruce Feldman, ESPN.com, September 7, 2010

“If the award is for the most outstanding player in college football, Peterson deserves to be in the mix. The 6-1, 222-pound corner is a spectacular talent who is physical, shifty and explosive. And, as he proved to UNC and everyone else in the Georgia Dome on Saturday night, he’s also a devastating return man. Peterson set an LSU record with a combined 257 combined yards on kickoff- and punt-return yards in his first action as the Tigers’ main return guy. Those 257 yards are the second-highest total in SEC history.”

--Bruce Feldman, ESPN.com, September 7, 2010

“I guess I need to add return specialist to his duties as well, although I doubt many teams will be kicking it to him the rest of the season. He is truly a special football player, and is off the charts as an athlete. First of all, you just don’t see cornerbacks pushing 220 pounds who can run like that. And then he steps back there to return kicks for the first time since high school and rolls up 244 return yards by halftime, including an 87-yard punt return for a touchdown. Hey, I’d hand it to him a few times on offense, too. Peterson said Saturday night after the 30-24 win against North Carolina that he was game.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 6, 2010

“(Peterson) is a corner that could probably play for most NFL clubs right now.”

--Vanderbilt coach Robbie Caldwell, September 6, 2010

“Already one of college football’s top cornerbacks, Peterson put on a show in the return game in LSU’s 30-24 win over North Carolina. He flirted with an SEC record and set a school record with 257 combined yards on kickoff and punt returns. Included was an 87-yard punt return for a touchdown in the second quarter. He had 244 return yards by halftime.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 5, 2010

“If you’re UNC, you might want to consider going for it on fourth down from now on.”

--Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN, September 4, 2010

“So while he has the speed and cover skills to lock down on any receiver in the country, he has the size and power usually reserved for a linebacker to be able to get anybody in the country on the ground.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 3, 2010

“Michigan’s Charles Woodson won the Heisman playing cornerback in 1997, but he also moonlighted as a receiver and returned kicks. Well, guess which 222-pound cornerback will add kick returner to his résumé this season? Success as a return man should draw attention to Peterson, who probably would otherwise be ignored by ignorant Heisman voters because of his lack of statistical production. What those voters don’t understand is that Peterson’s stats suffer because he does his job too well; opposing offenses simply avoid his side of the field. The sidekick who could help Peterson the most is sophomore Morris Claiborne, who will occupy the cornerback spot opposite Peterson. If Claiborne also locks down receivers, quarterbacks will have no choice but to test Peterson on occasion.”

--Andy Staples, SI.com, September 1, 2010

“Opposing offensive coordinators probably will avoid Peterson’s side of the field altogether. Only a few receivers -- think Alabama’s Julio Jones or Georgia’s A.J. Green -- have the skills to beat Peterson, and even the best could struggle against his combination of strength and speed. Even if a receiver is brawny enough to keep the 6-foot-1, 211-pound Peterson from jamming him at the line of scrimmage, he likely still can’t outrun the Pompano Beach, Fla., native.”

--Andy Staples, SI.com, August 24, 2010

“Why isn’t he being penciled in as someone’s starting corner going into NFL training camp? He will be next year. Almost everyone’s No. 1 pro corner prospect, Peterson has a perfect blend of 6-1, 211-pound size, solid open-field tackling ability, and the requisite speed and quickness. On a team full of speedy athletes, it should say something that he’s getting the first look to be the main kick and punt returner (especially for a player of his size).”

--Pete Fiutak, FoxSports.com, August 18, 2010

“LSU has great speed and perhaps the best cornerback tandem in the SEC in Patrick Peterson and Morris Claiborne.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 29, 2010

“If you’re looking for the fastest secondary in the SEC, look no further than the unit the Tigers will put on the field this season. Patrick Peterson is the best cornerback in the country -- period -- and his running mate on the other side, Morris Claiborne, has been turning heads since the spring. They may end up being the best cornerback tandem in the league.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 28, 2010

“He’s exactly what you’re looking for in a cornerback in every facet. Athletically, he’s off the charts. Just this offseason, he was laser-timed at 4.37 in the 40-yard dash, recorded a vertical leap of 39 inches and squatted 535 pounds. The 6-foot-1 Peterson weighed in at 220 pounds, too. He has great ball skills and the upper-body strength to overpower receivers.

You won’t find a better tackler from the cornerback position, either. Go back and watch a few of the plays he made on Tim Tebow in the open field last season. His 43 solo tackles were second on LSU’s team a year ago to middle linebacker Kelvin Sheppard’s 50. So when he’s not shutting down the opposing team’s best receiver, he’s equally effective in run support and makes up for a lot of mistakes. The other thing that makes Peterson so great is his undying confidence. He has a genuine belief that he’s going to make every play, and that confidence wears off on his teammates. Heading into last season, Peterson might have been overshadowed some by safety Chad Jones in the LSU secondary. But the Pompano Beach, Fla., product motors into the 2010 season as the SEC’s premier defensive back and a guy who many NFL scouts believe might be the most talented cornerback in all of college football.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, June 30, 2010

“On any level of football, lockdown cornerbacks come at a premium. Not only is Peterson a lockdown corner, but he an exceptional tackler, a budding leader and the kind of player who rubs off on everybody else around him with his unyielding confidence. The LSU coaches love the potential of Morris Claiborne on the other side. But if Claiborne all of a sudden has to become the “man” at corner, that changes things for the Tigers in what should be the best secondary in the SEC.”

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, June 1, 2010

LB Kelvin Sheppard

"Sheppard has had a great senior year so far."

--Mel Kiper, ESPN.com, November 3, 2010

"Nobody in the SEC is playing better defense than LSU, and Sheppard has been a rock in the middle for the Tigers. He's second in the league with 66 total tackles."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 20, 2010

"It's difficult to find a tackle-linebacker-cornback combo anywhere in the country that's playing better right now than Drake Nevis, Kelvin Sheppard and Patrick Peterson."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 23, 2010

"Senior Kelvin Sheppard returns as one of the top middle linebackers in the SEC. He's a tackling machine who was fourth in the league in tackles a year ago with 110. He's one of those defenders who's a factor on every play."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 27, 2010

"The SEC was loaded with talented linebackers last season, and when you started listing them, Rolando McClain, Eric Norwood, Brandon Spikes, Rennie Curran, Jamar Chaney, Patrick Benoist and Micah Johnson were the names you usually heard first. The 6-foot-3, 239-pound Sheppard deserved to be in that group then, and he enters the 2010 season at the forefront of the top linebackers in the league and the country. He's coming off his best season in more ways than one. Not only was he the Tigers' leading tackler, but he was also their emotional leader on defense. That role will be even more important in 2010 when you look at all of the quality players the Tigers lost on defense. Plus, they will be especially young and inexperienced around Sheppard at the other linebacker spots. The good news for LSU is that Sheppard is a tackling machine and makes plays sideline to sideline, in the opposing backfield and even dropping into coverage on occasion. A weakside linebacker earlier in his career, he's an extremely instinctive player, which is the reason he's always around the ball. It's also the reason he's so consistent. In three straight games last season against Florida, Auburn and Tulane, he recorded 13 tackles and had at least seven tackles in 11 of LSU's 13 games. So when you start reeling off the top linebackers in college football heading into this next season, don't forget about the guy on the Bayou."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, June 17, 2010

DT Drake Nevis

"Although overshadowed at times by Fairley, Nevis has had a stellar season in his own right and leads all SEC interior defensive linemen with 56 total tackles, including 13 for loss."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, December 1, 2010

"Outside of Fairley, there hasn't been a more dominant interior lineman in the SEC this season than Nevis. He leads all SEC defensive linemen (ends and tackles) with 53 total tackles, including 12.5 for loss."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 24, 2010

"Anybody who watched Nevis wreak havoc against Alabama last Saturday knows what a great football player he is. He leads all SEC interior defensive linemen with 47 total tackles."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 10, 2010

"Explosive, up-the-field tackle, ideal 3-technique who plays with great leverage and passion. Solid against the run and the pass."

--Mel Kiper, ESPN.com, November 10, 2010

"Nevis struggles to get off of blocks, which ultimately could prevent him from being a first-round pick. However, few defensive tackles in the country have his first-step quickness and ability to disrupt plays in the opposing backfield."

--Todd McShay, ESPN.com, November 10, 2010

"After having a down game for his standards two weeks ago against Auburn, Nevis made life miserable for the middle of the Alabama offensive line last Saturday."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 8, 2010

"No player on coordinator John Chavis' defense stood out more than Nevis, who continued his 2010 assault on SEC offensive lines. The 296-pound junior used his quick first step and violent hands to keep off of blocks and disrupt several plays in the Crimson Tide backfield."

--Todd McShay, ESPN.com, November 8, 2010

"Nevis has been a bit more productive, proved himself to be a high-motor player and has improved his draft stock as much as any defensive player in college football."

--Todd McShay, ESPN.com, November 3, 2010

"He's been running a close race with Fairley as the top interior defensive lineman in the league. Nevis still leads all SEC tackles with 40 total tackles."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 27, 2010

"It continues to be a close race for the top spot. Nevis stays on top again this week. He leads all SEC interior linemen with 38 total tackles."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 20, 2010

"Coming off a dominant performance against Florida in which he had 4.5 tackles for loss, Nevis has been a nightmare to block all season. He leads all SEC interior linemen with 33 total tackles and is tied for second among all players in tackles for loss (10.5) and sacks (5)."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 13, 2010

"Great defenses start with dominant interior linemen, and that's what Nevis has been for the Tigers. Florida couldn't block him last week. Of course, a lot of teams haven't been able to."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 12, 2010

"LSU defensive tackle Drake Nevis was a one-man wrecking crew Saturday night against the Florida Gators."

--Rob Rang, CBSsports.com, October 11, 2010

"Nevis was arguably the bigger thorn in the side for the Gators. Certainly considering the fact that the Gators feature one of the SEC's best and most experienced offensive lines, Nevis' ability to dominate the action early and force Florida to alter their game plan deserves special acknowledgement."

--Rob Rang, CBSsports.com, October 11, 2010

"The Tigers are ranked fifth nationally and first in the SEC in total defense, and the havoc that Nevis has wreaked up front is a big reason why. He leads all SEC interior defensive linemen with 33 total tackles and he was unblockable last week with 4.5 tackles for loss against a veteran Florida offensive line."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 11, 2010

"He's been a disrupter up front all season for the Tigers and leads all SEC interior defensive linemen with 26 total tackles."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 6, 2010

"It's difficult to find a tackle-linebacker-cornback combo anywhere in the country that's playing better right now than Drake Nevis, Kelvin Sheppard and Patrick Peterson."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 23, 2010

"He is much more than just a run stuffer. He is a play maker up front, and he has made everybody around him better on that LSU defense."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 22, 2010

"Glenn Dorsey predicted that Nevis, only a freshman at the time, would be the next great defensive tackle at LSU. It's taken him a couple years, starting on and off as a freshman and sophomore. He didn't start at all last year, but this year he is playing at that level that Glenn Dorsey predicted several years ago."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 22, 2010

"He's easily one of the most explosive athletes in all of college football."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 21, 2010

"Nevis has four tackles for loss in his past two games and has pretty much been unblockable."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 21, 2010

"A guy like Drake Nevis has a lot of ability. This year already 3.5 sacks through two games of the season. He has great leverage, great intensity. He's a kid that has skyrocketed up the board. You can make an argument right now, he has been the most disruptive defensive tackle in all of college football."

--Mel Kiper, Jr., ESPN.com, September 16, 2010

"The enforcer in the middle of that defensive line has been senior tackle Drake Nevis, who already has 3.5 sacks and is playing the best football of his career. Not many people have blocked him to this point."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 16, 2010

"When you start talking about the top interior defensive linemen in this league, don't sleep on Nevis. He had 2.5 sacks Saturday in the win against Vanderbilt and has 3.5 sacks in his first two games."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 13, 2010

"...he has a great motor, is excellent at getting into the backfield, and has the size to be an anchor. If he can be the tackle everyone works around, the defense should be terrific."

--Pete Fiutak, FoxSports.com, August 18, 2010

"Senior tackle Drake Nevis rates up there with Jerrell Powe as one of the top interior linemen in this league."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 26, 2010

CB Morris Claiborne

"LSU has great speed and perhaps the best cornerback tandem in the SEC in Patrick Peterson and Morris Claiborne."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 29, 2010

"If you're looking for the fastest secondary in the SEC, look no further than the unit the Tigers will put on the field this season. Patrick Peterson is the best cornerback in the country -- period -- and his running mate on the other side, Morris Claiborne, has been turning heads since the spring."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 28, 2010

"Sophomore cornerback Morris Claiborne looks like he's going to follow in Peterson's footsteps as one of the SEC's best..."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, June 1, 2010

QB Jarrett Lee

"He's a perfect example of why it pays to hang in there. Lee threw 16 interceptions two years ago as a redshirt freshman, and seven of those were returned for interceptions. But he's come off the bench to pull the Tigers out of the fire each of the last two weeks with game-winning drives."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 11, 2010

"There's no telling where the Tigers would be right now without Lee. They certainly wouldn't be unbeaten. He deserves all the credit in the world for hanging in there, too. A lot of people thought he might transfer after his 16-interception season two years ago when he was a redshirt freshman. But Lee was determined to see it through at LSU, and the Tigers are fortunate that he's one of those who finishes what he starts."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 10, 2010

"But there Lee was Saturday night in the Swamp, as cool as cool can be, leading the Tigers back down the field in the final minutes and throwing the game-winning touchdown to Terrence Toliver on a perfectly placed pass. ... That's two games in a row now that he's saved the Tigers by engineering clutch drives."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 10, 2010

RB Stevan Ridley

"He's big, runs with great power and faster than you think... He's extremely underrated, and you also hit on a good point. He's been able to get his yards without the benefit of a passing game."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 15, 2010

"Ridley is having an excellent season despite teams loading up to stop the run. He's easily one of the SEC's most underrated players as we near the midway point and running with a real sense of purpose."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, October 8, 2010

QB Jordan Jefferson

"It's been a tough season for Jefferson throwing the football, but he came through with some clutch throws last week in the 24-21 win against Alabama. He's handled the criticism like a champ, too, which tells you a lot about his character."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 8, 2010

"Jefferson picked a prime spot to turn in one of his most efficient performances. The much-maligned junior completed 10 of 13 passes for 141 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions."

--Todd McShay, ESPN.com, November 8, 2010

"The quarterback who may be poised to make the biggest jump this season in the SEC is LSU's Jordan Jefferson, who had respectable numbers last season, but was hesitant to pull the trigger at times and was sacked 32 times."

----Chris Low, ESPN.com, September 1, 2010

"But having been through the league once now and being surrounded by the talent he has at receiver, look for him to be a more instinctive quarterback in 2010."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, August 13, 2010

WR Terrence Toliver

"The LSU threesome of Terrence Toliver, Rueben Randle and Russell Shepard will emerge as one of the most dangerous receiving triumvirates in the SEC: They combined for five touchdown catches last season. Don't be surprised if that number triples in 2010."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, August 30, 2010

"LSU is a factory for NFL caliber wideouts, and with Brandon LaFell gone, Toliver's table is ready. The Tiger receiving corps is loaded with Reuben Randle and Russell Shepard each likely to make a lot of money at the next level in the near future, but it's Toliver who'll be the No. 1 target. At 6-5 and 206 pounds, the senior has excellent size to go along with the deep speed to be a killer at the outside X position."

--Pete Fiutak, FoxSports.com, August 18, 2010

WR Reuben Randle

"Randle showed off the kind of speed that made him one of the top receiving prospects in the country a couple of years ago."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, November 6, 2010

"The LSU threesome of Terrence Toliver, Rueben Randle and Russell Shepard will emerge as one of the most dangerous receiving triumvirates in the SEC: They combined for five touchdown catches last season. Don't be surprised if that number triples in 2010."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, August 30, 2010

"Also look for receiver Rueben Randle to make a big jump from his freshman season. Randle has the size and speed to be a great one."

--Chris Low, ESPN.com, July 22, 2010

RB Michael Ford

"A redshirt freshman, Ford had an outstanding spring and should see a lot of playing time as the Tigers look to upgrade their running game. He led all rushers with 139 yards in the spring game and is probably the strongest of the skill position players, recording a bench press of 425 pounds and a 510-pound squat in workouts in May."

--Yahoo! Sports LSU Team Report, August 6, 2010

K Josh Jasper

"The Tigers have one of those clutch senior place-kickers that proves so valuable in the tight games. Josh Jasper was 6-of-8 on field goals over 40 yards. After missing a 52-yarder against Auburn, he connected on his last seven attempts."

Don Trull passed the injury-ridden Tigers dizzy, hitting on 26-of-37 passes and rolling up 430 yards in total offense. Still, it took two fourth period touchdowns for the Bears to pull the victory out before 50,000 frozen fans in Houston. Joe Labruzzo ran a kickoff back for 72 yards late in the game, but Baylor held and Trull ended the game still firing away at the Tiger secondary.

Charles Alexander won Offensive Player of the Game honors as he set a pair of Sun Bowl rushing records, carrying 31 times for 197 yards, but LSU mistakes and a superb passing attack by the Pac-8 team enabled the westerners to take the victory. LSU scored the second time it had the ball, but Stanford racked up a touchdown and a field goal for a brief lead which LSU topped with a final minute, first half six-pointer to take a 14-10 lead into intermission. The second half was all Stanford as quarterback Guy Benjamin added two more TD passes to his second period strike for the triumph.

Missouri 20, LSU 15

It was a case of two separate games: the first half was all Missouri and the second half all LSU. The only trouble was that the Big 8 team put more points on the board in its half than the SEC entry did in its. Missouri piled up a seemingly commanding 20-3 halftime advantage, but Coach Charles McClendon's charges came out firing. Although they were not able to overcome the score, they did pile up 247 yards to 84, and 15 first downs to four for Missouri. All-America tailback Charles Alexander played his last game as a Tiger and made it memorable as he gained 133 yards on 24 carries.

In one of the most exciting games in LSU history, the Tigers came within an eyelash of upsetting powerful Nebraska. Leading 17-7 late in the third period by virtue of two Dalton Hilliard touchdown runs and a 28-yard Juan Carlos Betanzos field goal, it appeared the Bayou Bengals were on the verge of the upset of the year. But two late touchdowns by the Cornhuskers offset a 49-yard Betanzos field goal, and the Tigers' noble efforts resulted in a one-point heartbreaker.

1985 Sugar Bowl Superdome • New Orleans, La. January 1, 1985 (75,608)

Nebraska 28, LSU 10

The 1985 Sugar Bowl featured LSU against Big 8 Conference champion Nebraska. It had been a remarkable turnaround season for LSU. The Tigers finished 8-2-1 after going 4-7 (0-6 in SEC play) the year before in 1983. Bill Arnsparger, in his first year as the LSU head coach, made believers out of everyone in the state of Louisiana with the Tigers surprising ascension in 1984. A heavy underdog, LSU jumped out to a quick 10-0 lead over Tom Osborne's Cornhuskers. Freshmen kicker Ronnie Lewis put LSU on the board with 4:40 left in the first period drilling a 37-yard field goal. Dalton Hilliard, LSU's outstanding running back, who saw limited playing time due to a case of the flu, scored with 13:11 left in the second period on a 2-yard run putting the Tigers ahead 10-0. Nebraska woke up after that and scored on its next possession. Quarterback Craig Sunberg hit receiver Doug Dubose on a 31-yard TD pass with 10:31 left in the second quarter, cutting the lead to 10-7. The second half was all Nebraska. The Huskers scored one touchdown in the third quarter when Sunberg scored from nine-yards out to take the lead 14-10. Two fourth quarter touchdown passes by Sunberg to Todd Frain sealed the deal and Nebraska pulled away for a 28-10 win.

Baylor 21, LSU 7

The Tigers got on the scoreboard first, but that would be all the scoring LSU could muster, as the Baylor defense stopped the Tigers, 21-7, before 40,186 at Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium in Memphis. Norman Jefferson provided the LSU heroics with a 79-yard punt return with 5:17 left in the first quarter that would give the Tigers a 7-0 lead. The return would be a Liberty Bowl record and Jefferson's second scoring return in an LSU uniform. Baylor's high-powered offense was able to gain 489 yards against LSU's defense while the Tigers settled for 192 yards. Jeff Wickersham completed 11-of-24 passes for 95 yards while Dalton Hilliard carried 20 times for 66 yards.

Nebraska 30, LSU 15

In Bill Arnsparger's final game as LSU head coach, No. 6 Nebraska ripped off 30 unanswered points to beat the Tigers 30-15. The Cornhuskers swarmed all over standout LSU freshmen quarterback Tommy Hodson giving him little time to throw the football. Meanwhile, the Nebraska offense flourished en route to defeating No. 5 LSU. The loss was LSU's fourth straight in a bowl and dropped LSU's Sugar Bowl mark to 3-7, in what would be the Tigers' final appearance in the New Orleans classic until 2002. LSU scored first on a one-yard run by Harvey Williams, capping a 66-yard drive on the first series of the game. Nebraska's scoring started with a field goal by Dale Klein. Quarterback Steve Taylor polished off a 72-yard drive with a 2-yard touchdown run with 39 seconds before halftime to give the Cornhuskers a 10-7 lead. Nebraska came out in the second half and marched 78 yards for another score on a 1-yard run by running back Tyrese Knox, building its lead to 17-7. Completing a run of 30 unanswered points, Nebraska added two fourth quarter touchdowns on a three-yard pass from Taylor to tight end Todd Millikan and another 1-yard plunge by Knox. With 2:01 left in the game, Hodson completed a 24-yard touchdown pass to receiver Tony Moss. A successful two-point conversion pass to Alvin Lee made the score 30-15.

LSU 30, South Carolina 13

The Tigers closed out Mike Archer's first year as head coach in grand fashion with a resounding 30-13 win over South Carolina. The LSU defense ran the South Carolina offense into confusion, but it was the offense that owned the show as the pitch-and-catch combination of Tommy Hodson and Wendell Davis thrilled the crowd of 82,119. LSU jumped out to a 14-0 lead before the Gamecocks could put a field goal on the board. The Tigers led 20-6 at the half and rolled from there in the second half. Davis--the game's MVP--caught nine passes for 132 yards and three touchdowns.

Syracuse 23, LSU 10

The Tigers went to Tampa, Fla., as co-champions of the Southeastern Conference, but came up short in this game as a solid Syracuse offense was spurred by the running halfback Robert Drummond. A stingy Orangeman defense held the Tigers at bay. Drummond was the offensive star of the game, running for 122 yards on 23 carries while Tiger quarterback Tommy Hodson was picked off three times by the aggressive Syracuse defenders. A crowd of 51,112 was on hand in Tampa Stadium for this January 2 game that saw Syracuse jump out to a 10-0 lead before the Tigers got a touchdown on the board to make it 10-7 at the half. But the last two quarters belonged to Syracuse as LSU finished its season at 8-4.

But the Tigers broke it open in the second half with 24 unanswered points, including a fumble return for a touchdown by defensive end Gabe Northern. LSU 10, Clemson 7

Quarterback Herb Tyler led a balanced LSU attack against a stubborn Clemson squad to send the LSU Tigers to a 10-7 win in the Peach Bowl at the Georgia Dome. The win gave the Tigers their second straight bowl win and their first 10-win season in nine years. Clemson struck first, taking a 7-0 lead when quarterback Nealon Greene took the ball in from five yards out after LSU had turned the ball over deep in Clemson territory. But it would be Clemson's only points of the night. In the second quarter, Kevin Faulk capped a seven-play, 80-yard LSU drive with a three-yard touchdown run and Wade Richey added a 22-yard field goal before intermission for a 10-7 LSU lead at the half that would stand the test of the second half. The game was sealed when LSU's Aaron Adams batted away a 52-yard Clemson field goal try with less than two minutes to play.

Rondell Mealey electrified a frigid Independence Bowl crowd with a 222-yard rushing performance to pace LSU to a convincing 27-9 win over Notre Dame, avenging a loss to the Irish during the regular season. Mealey subbed for starter Kevin Faulk who was injured early in the game, and didn't miss a beat. The teams exchanged field goals early before the LSU touchdown surge began. Scott Cengia hit field goals of 33 and 21 yards for the Irish in the first half while Wade Richey booted a 37-yarder for a 6-3 Notre Dame lead at the half. Richey added a 42-yarder early in the second half before LSU's Herb Tyler hit Abram Booty with a 12-yard scoring strike for a 13-6 Tiger lead. Cengia hit one more field goal, a 33-yarder early in the fourth quarter, but the Irish would score no more. Mealey scored twice in the final period on runs of two and one yard to send LSU to victory.

LSU 47, Illinois 34

LSU's high-powered offense led by quarterback Rohan Davey and Josh Reed proved to be too much for seventh-ranked Illinois as the Tigers rolled to a 47-34 win over the Fighting Illini. The win marked LSU's first New Year's Day bowl victory since a win over Wyoming in the 1968 Sugar Bowl. LSU, behind the arm of Davey and the running of tailback Domanick Davis, jumped on the Illini early as the Tigers hit paydirt on a 4-yard Davis run at the 7:22 mark of the first quarter. Davis followed with second-quarter touchdown runs of 25 and 16 yards to give the Tigers a 20-0 lead just 20 minutes into the contest. Davey hit Reed with a 5-yard TD pass with 4:42 left in the first half and then found Robert Royal for a 7-yard scoring strike just before halftime to give the Tigers a 34-7 cushion at the break. Illinois pulled to within 41-28 midway through the fourth quarter, but Davis' fourth touchdown run, a Sugar Bowl record, put the game away for the Tigers at 47-28.

LSU and Texas met on the gridiron for the first time since the 1963 Cotton Bowl and the two teams put on quite a show before a sellout crowd of over 70,000 fans in Dallas. Despite holding only a 10-7 lead after the first quarter, the Tigers dominated the first 15 minutes of the contest. In the first quarter alone, LSU racked up 187 yards of offense compared to zero for the Longhorns. In that first quarter, LSU ran 30 plays for 187 yards, compared to only three plays for zero net yards for the Longhorns. In all, LSU held the ball for just over 13 minutes in the first quarter, while Texas had it for less than two minutes. After a dominating first quarter, the Tigers stretched their lead to 17-7 early in the second quarter on a 10-yard run by Domanick Davis. Texas responded with a pair of TDs to take a 21-17 lead at halftime. LSU's offense never got back on track in the second half as the Tigers managed just a fourth quarter field goal in falling to the Longhorns, 35-20.

Running back Justin Vincent earned MVP honors for the game, rushing for 117 yards and one touchdown in leading the Tigers to the victory. Defensively, linebacker Lionel Turner led LSU with nine tackles, including a pair of sacks, one of which came on the last offensive play of the game for the Sooners. The Nick Saban era at LSU came to an end in dramatic fashion as 11th-ranked Iowa scored on a 56-yard pass as time expired to beat the 12th-ranked Tigers, 30-25. The last-second play erased what would have been a tremendous fourth-quarter comeback win for the Tigers as LSU erased a 12-point deficit over the final eight minutes of the contest to take a 25-24 lead with just 46 seconds remaining. Inserted into the game early in the final quarter, JaMarcus Russell led the Tigers on a pair of TD drives, the second coming on a 3-yard pass to Skyler Green that put the Tigers up for the only time in the game, 25-24. However, the Hawkeyes responded with a 3-play, 71-yard drive, capped on a 56-yard pass from Drew Tate to Warren Holloway to record the dramatic finish. Playing in only the fourth quarter, Russell connected on 12-of-15 passes for 128 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Joseph Addai rushed for 130 yards and a score as the Tigers dominated the final three quarters of the contest. With the scored tied at 3-3 at the end of the first quarter, the Tiger defense took over as LSU limited the Hurricanes to just two first downs and only 38 yards of offense over the final three quarters of the game. In all, Miami managed only six first downs and 153 yards of offense in the contest as LSU put together its most complete game of the season. With the Tiger defense holding the Hurricane offense at bay, the LSU offense came alive in the second quarter, first with a 51-yard TD pass from Flynn to Craig Davis. After a 47-yard field goal by Chris Jackson that put LSU up 13-3, the Tigers went on a 9-play drive just before the break, capped with a 4-yard pass from Flynn to Addai to stretch the lead to 20-3 at halftime.

JaMarcus Russell threw for 332 yards and a pair of touchdowns and the Tiger defense shut down Notre Dame's potent offensive attack in a 41-14 win over the Irish in the 2007 Allstate Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. In one of his best overall performances as a Tiger, Russell accounted for nearly 350 yards of offense and three LSU scores, including two in the first half as the Tigers led 21-14 at halftime. LSU wasted little time in taking control of the game as the Tigers needed only two plays to take a 7-0 lead. LSU's first points of the game came following a Notre Dame possession that saw the Irish unsuccessfully fake a punt from deep in their own territory. After another defensive stop by the Tigers, LSU went 80 yards on eight plays, capped with a Russell-to-Dwayne Bowe 11-yard TD pass for a 14-0 advantage. The Irish scored on its next possession to cut the margin to 14-7 at the end of the first quarter. The Irish then knotted up the contest at 14-14 late in the second quarter on a Quinn TD pass. The Tigers came right back, though, taking a 21-14 advantage just before halftime on a 5-yard run by Russell. Russell's TD run was set up when the quarterback connected with Early Doucet on a 58-yard pass down to the Irish 5-yard line. LSU built on the momentum in the second half as the Tigers scored 13 straight points to open the third quarter to extend the lead to 34-14. Notre Dame never could recover as the Tiger tacked on another TD in the fourth quarter for the final margin.

LSU 38, Ohio State 24

Matt Flynn tied a school record with four TD passes as LSU overcame an early 10-0 deficit to post a 38-24 win over top-ranked Ohio State in the BCS National Championship Game. The victory capped a 12-2 season for the Tigers as LSU won its second BCS title in five years and the school's third overall national championship in football. After spotting the Buckeyes a 10-0 first-quarter advantage, the Tigers dominated the rest of the way. LSU outscored Ohio State 31-0 over a span that stretched from late in the first quarter to midway through the third quarter. The Tigers dominated the second quarter, scoring on three-straight possessions to take a 24-10 lead. LSU tied the score on a 10-yard TD pass from Flynn to Richard Dickson. Ricky Jean-Francois blocked a 28-yard field goal attempt by the Buckeyes minutes later to put the momentum back in favor of the Tigers. LSU scored 10 plays later when Flynn connected with Brandon LaFell on a 10-yard strike to give the Tigers the lead for good at 17-10 at the 7:25 mark. The Tigers led 24-10 at halftime when Jacob Hester scored on a 1-yard plunge that was set up by a Chevis Jackson interception. LSU's lead went to 31-10 on a 4-yard TD reception by Early Doucet at the 9:04 mark in the third quarter. Ohio State pulled to within 31-17 late in the third quarter before the Tigers put the game away with a 5-yard TD pass from Flynn to Dickson with 1:50 left in the game.

2008 Chick-fil-A Bowl

Georgia Dome • Atlanta, Ga.
December 31, 2008 (71,423)

LSU 38, Georgia Tech 3

LSU's defense shut down Georgia Tech's triple-option attack, and the Tiger offense was nearly flawless in a 38-3 win over the 14th-ranked Yellow Jackets in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. Jordan Jefferson, who was making just his second career start, threw for 142 yards and a score, while Charles Scott rushed for 65 yards and 3 TDs as the Tigers led from start to finish. The Tigers set the tone early, driving 60 yards on seven plays on the opening possession of the game to take a 7-0 lead. Georgia Tech would score its only points on a 24-yard field goal late in the first quarter. The second quarter belonged to LSU as the Tigers scored 28 unanswered points during that frame to take a 35-3 lead at halftime. LSU's second quarter outburst was aided by outstanding special teams play by the Tigers. After a 3-and-out by the Tigers, LSU forced a fumble on a Tech punt return, re-gaining possession at the Yellow Jacket 19-yard line. LSU scored six plays later on a 1-yard run by Scott to take a 21-3 lead. On Tech's next possession, the Tigers stuffed a fake punt attempt by the Yellow Jackets, giving LSU the ball on the Georgia Tech 24-yard line. The Tigers needed just two plays to score as Jefferson connected with Richard Dickson for a 25-yard TD, stretching the lead to 28-3. LSU added a final TD just before halftime when Keiland Williams raced 17 yards for a score. LSU tacked on a field goal in the third quarter for the final points of the game. LSU's defense played its best game of the season, holding the Yellow Jackets to 314 yards, which included just 164 rushing yards, some 120 yards below their season average. Jefferson was named the offensive MVP of the game, while LB Perry Riley was the game's defensive MVP after registering 11 tackles, including one tackle for a loss.

Penn State 19, LSU 17

No. 11 Penn State hit a game-winning 21-yard field goal with 57 seconds to play and time ran out on No. 13 LSU as the Nittany Lions handed head coach Les Miles his first bowl loss at LSU, 19-17. The Tigers scored two touchdowns in 3:02 to overcome a 13-point deficit and take a 17-16 fourth-quarter lead. With 6:54 to play, Penn State answered with a 12-play, 65-yard drive that took 5:57 off the clock and regained the lead. After sputtering through the first half, LSU's offense found life in the second half with a pair of scores against the No. 4-ranked scoring defense in the NCAA. A 24-yard touchdown pass from Jordan Jefferson to wide receiver Brandon LaFell, a 1-yard touchdown run by running back Stevan Ridley and a pair of PAT's by Josh Jasper gave the Tigers their first lead with 12:49 left to play. LSU was outgained, 340-243. Jefferson was sacked twice while completing 13-of-24 passes for 202 yards and a touchdown. Wide receiver Terrence Toliver had 81 yards on six catches, while LaFell added five receptions for 87 yards. The Tigers had 41 yards rushing on 25 attempts including 17 sack yards. The longest run of the game was for 11 yards by Trindon Holliday. Chad Jones led the way defensively with eight tackles.

In the 1947 Cotton Bowl LSU played in 29-degree temperature and a driving rainstorm. The matchup ended in a scoreless tie, became known as the Ice Bowl.

1947 COTTON BOWL

LSU 0, ARKANSAS 0

January 1, 1947 • Attendance: 38,000

For one team, the 1947 Cotton Bowl was not solace enough for a season that had soured on one loss that cost it a chance at dethroning the powerful Army-Notre Dame axis for the national championship. For the other, it was a surprising reward for a strong season and an unexpected conference championship.

When all was said and done, Mother Nature ruled the day in Dallas, preventing both LSU and Arkansas from denting the scoreboard on a frigid New Year's Day.

LSU was one of the few schools not to be shut down by World War II, as coach Bernie Moore kept the Fighting Tigers on the field throughout the war, even winning the Orange Bowl behind future NFL Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren in 1943.

The 1946 season, Moore's 12th in Baton Rouge, continued the legacy of LSU excellence, although the Tigers struggled with their first two opponents, downing Rice (7-6) and Mississippi State (13-6). LSU beat Texas A&M to move up to 12th in the nation before Bobby Dodd's Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets came to Baton Rouge and wrecked LSU's national championship hopes with a 26-7 victory.

Behind quarterback Y.A. Tittle, the Tigers recovered, and after a 41-27 victory over Tulane capped a six-game winning streak to end the season, Moore accepted the invite of the Cotton Bowl and its $60,000 payday.

The 1946 season was the first for new Arkansas coach John Barnhill, who was brought in from Tennessee to energize a lethargic Razorback program that had not enjoyed a winning season since 1936 and had made just one bowl appearance.

Barnhill's first move was to energize the state fan base by playing games in brand-new War Memorial Stadium in the state capital of Little Rock. Another key move was the recruitment of Clyde Scott, a world-class sprinter who would bring new life to the Razorback offense. Scott picked Arkansas over LSU and earned the nickname "Smackover" in honor of his hometown.

A 3-0-1 start had the Razorback fans excited, but road losses to Texas and Ole Miss left the Hogs back to square one and the fans grumbling. But consecutive wins over Texas A&M, Rice and SMU helped the Hogs clinch a share of the Southwest Conference championship and the league's berth in the Cotton Bowl.

As LSU and Arkansas prepared for their first Cotton Bowl meeting and first series meeting in a decade, Mother Nature blasted the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex with a blizzard, leaving a topcoat of snow on the field.

With game day now upon the Tigers and Razorbacks, 29-degree temperatures and a driving rainstorm, mixed with sleet and freezing rain, greeted the clubs.

Arkansas got the ball first and was forced to punt after failing to pick up a first down, and LSU immediately gained excellent field position when Ray Coates fielded a Razorback punt on his own 25 and returned it to the Arkansas 47. But the Tigers were stuffed when Tittle was sacked trying to pass from midfield, and the Hogs had the ball again at the 20.

Leon Campbell gained 19 yards to give Arkansas a first down at its own 39, but that proved to be the first and last time the Hogs would move the chains the entire game. The rains continued to fall, and neither team could put together a sustained offensive the rest of the opening period.

LSU got decent field position at its own 40 following a punt early in the second quarter, and Red Knight gained 16 yards and a first down to the Arkansas 44. However, the drive stalled, and Charles Lively blocked Knight's punt to give Arkansas the ball at the LSU 43.

Arkansas had been quick kicking trying to back up LSU, but it was the Bayou Bengals who used the strategy well midway through the second quarter. Knight punted to the Razorback 16, and two plays later, Aubrey Fowler was intercepted by Tittle, and LSU was in business at the same spot.

Tittle twice threw incomplete, and on third down, Jim Cason gained seven yards to make it fourth-and-3 from the nine. Moore eschewed a field goal in the morass, and instead ran it, but Knight was stopped one yard short of the first down, and Arkansas took over.

A 10-yard gain on a double reverse by Dan Sandifer gave LSU a first-and-goal at the 8 late in the first half, but after Knight was thrown for a 2-yard loss and LSU was penalized for too many time outs, Tittle overshot his receivers to end the half.

The teams emerged from the dressing rooms for the second half with the rain rapidly changing into sleet, and the footing became downright treacherous. LSU could not move with its opening possession, and Fowler returned Knight's punt to the Tiger 44 to give Arkansas a glimmer of hope.

But the hope faded when Kenneth Holland was brought down short of the first down on third-and-5, and the Hogs punted out of bounds at the LSU 8.

Coates got LSU out of the hole with an 18-yard gain, then Sandifer hit over right guard for 20 more to the Tiger 46. Two plays later, Sandifer picked up 19 more to put the Tigers in scoring position on the Arkansas 33. Coates and Knight combined to pick up another first down at the 21, but two plays later, Tittle threw in complete on fourth-and-8 to end the march.

Early in the fourth quarter, LSU had another golden opportunity to crack the scoreboard, as Coates' punt return set the ball up at Arkansas 41. Collins gained 16 yards over right guard, and Coates added 10 more for a first-and-goal at the Arkansas nine. On third down from the nine, Tittle hit Collins on the left sideline to the Razorback one. Needing only three feet for the touchdown, LSU called on freshman fullback Zollie Toth. But the Razorback front wall rose up to stuff Toth a foot short of paydirt.

LSU would get one more opportunity starting from the Arkansas 31, and reached the Razorback nine before Moore sent Holly Heard in for a 26-yard field goal attempt. However, holder Coates bobbled the snap and fumbled it away to the Hogs at the 16, ending the final scoring threat. The game ended with Arkansas at its own 19.

Moore would coach one more season before moving on to become commissioner of the SEC. The Tigers wouldn't return to the Cotton Bowl, though, for 16 years.

LSU QB Lynn Amedee (11) hands the ball to Ray Wilkins.

1963 COTTON BOWL

LSU 13, TEXAS 0

January 1, 1963 • Attendance: 75,500

LSU ended 1961 on a 10-game winning streak and a convincing 25-7 victory over Colorado in the Orange Bowl, but the Fighting Tigers would begin 1962 under new leadership, as coach Paul Dietzel departed Baton Rouge for the head coaching post at West Point. In Dietzel's place came the Tigers' 39-year old defensive coordinator, Charles Youmans McClendon, who had been an All-America defensive end for Bear Bryant at Kentucky.

McClendon had a wealth of talent in his maiden head coaching voyage, most notably All-America halfback Jerry Stovall and two-way tackle Fred Miller, who was a particular terror on the defensive side, as he and his mates had limited opponents to just 44 points in 11 games in 1961 and posted five shutouts.

Highlighted by a punt return for a touchdown by Stovall, LSU blanked Texas A&M in the season opener, 21-0, but then suffered a shocking 6-6 tie to Rice at home, marking the second straight year that the Owls ruined any hopes of a Bayou Bengal national championship.

LSU bounced back from the sister-kisser with an impressive 10-7 victory in Atlanta over fifth-ranked Georgia Tech in front of national television audience on CBS (the Tigers' first appearance on the network that now carries the SEC), and followed that up by allowing just three points in defeating Miami, Kentucky and Florida in succession, ending the streak with a 23-0 blanking of the Gators at Death Valley.

With the SEC championship on the line, the Ole Miss Rebels paid their fourth visit in the past five seasons to Baton Rouge, this time coming away with a 15-7 victory to punch their ticket to the Sugar Bowl. The Tigers again bounced back, posting shutouts of TCU and Mississippi State before mauling winless Tulane, 38-3, in New Orleans to wind up 8-1-1.

The Tigers accepted their first trip to the Cotton Bowl in 16 years, where their opponent would be a Texas team that, like LSU, had tied Rice. The only difference was that the Longhorns' 14-14 draw with the Owls was much more costly, as it denied coach Darrell Royal's club a legitimate chance at the national championship, a crown that went to John McKay's USC Trojans.

Despite missing out on the title, Royal had put together the Longhorns' first unbeaten regular season since 1923, and the former All-American from Oklahoma was stockpiling talent to build the 1960s most dominant college football program.

A perfect New Year's Day greeted the Tigers and the Longhorns for the 27th edition of the Cotton Bowl, and as the record crowd of 75,500 settled in, little did they know that the Tigers would unleash one of the most potent aerial assaults in their 69-year history.

As expected, defense dominated the early going, as Ted Koy's 72-yard punt pinned LSU deep in its own territory at the 12. The Tigers kept on the ground on their second march, moving steadily downfield before being stuffed near midfield, although Stovall's punt left the burnt orange deep in their territory at the 10.

The trade of punts continued through the first quarter and into the second before the Longhorns began the game's first sustained drive. John Genung found Joe Dixon for 17 yards to the 31, before Tommy Ford burst for 11 yards and another first down to the 42.

Genung continued his passing barrage, advancing to the LSU 30, as the large Texas contingent could sense their time had come.

Alas, the optimism of the Longhorn faithful was unfounded. Ford gained five yards on two tries, but Genung's third-down pass was batted away by Ruffin Rodrigue, and Hugh Crosby's 42-yard field goal attempt was short.

A pass interference penalty on Texas gave LSU a first down at the Longhorn 39, and then Lynn Amedee found Ray Wilkins for seven and a first down near midfield. Charles Cranford's 2-yard gain on fourth-and-1 kept the drive alive, and then with the ball at the Texas 34, Amedee hit Billy Truax over the middle for 22 yards to the Texas 12. LSU reached the Longhorn 5 with time running out in the first half, and Amedee booted a 23-yard field goal with eight seconds to play in the stanza for a 3-0 LSU lead.

Amedee turned the game permanently in LSU's favor on the second half kickoff when he recovered Jerry Cook's fumble at the Texas 37. Jimmy Field replaced Amedee under center and hit Gene Sykes for 11 yards to the Texas 23, and three plays later, Field got away from the Longhorn pressure, took off around left end and didn't stop until he had scored a 22-yard touchdown that gave LSU a 10-0 lead.

LSU's defense, which had allowed 10 or more points just four times in its previous 30 outings, was more than up to the task. The Tigers stalled Texas at the LSU 39 on the drive following Field's touchdown run, and on the next Longhorn possession, backup quarterback Virgil Wade was picked off by Rodrigue at the Texas 47.

The Tigers had a chance to put the game away by driving to the Texas seven, but led by All-America end Scott Appleton, the Longhorns stiffened with their backs against the goal line, and LSU had to turn over the ball on downs.

Texas failed to move, and after another punt, the Tigers milked 5:13 off the clock in driving to a 37-yard field goal by Amedee, bringing the score to 13-0 with 4:58 remaining. Fittingly, Stovall ended the final Texas drive with an interception in the waning moments to preserve the Tigers' second straight Cotton Bowl shutout.

Amedee finished as the game's Most Valuable Player, hitting on 9 of 13 passes for 94 yards, while kicking two field goals, the first in Cotton Bowl play since 1942.

1966 COTTON BOWL

LSU 14, ARKANSAS 7

January 1, 1966 • Attendance: 76,200 (Cotton Bowl record)

LSU went into the Cotton Bowl at an unheralded 7-3, especially after one-sided losses to Ole Miss and Alabama, but a 62-0 victory over Tulane in the season finale convinced the Cotton Bowl brass to extend the Bayou Bengals their third invitation to the New Year's Day bowl in Dallas.

The Tigers' task in Dallas would be a formidable one. All LSU had to do was beat the Arkansas Razorbacks, a team that entered the Cotton Bowl at 10-0, one of four undefeated teams in major college football, a team that was also on a 22-game winning streak dating back to the end of the 1963 season.

Coach Frank Broyles' Razorbacks returned to Dallas with hopes of a national championship. All his team would have to do is overcome LSU and hope that UCLA could upend Michigan State later that afternoon in the Rose Bowl.

The Associated Press had decided that it would not take its final poll until after the bowl games of January 1. In 1964, Arkansas had been denied the national championship despite an 11-0 record, as the AP voted Alabama number one after the end of the regular season, a month before the Crimson Tide lost to Texas in the Orange Bowl.

The Razorbacks had been challenged only once all season, and that was in a 27-24 victory over then-number one Texas, as the Hogs blew a 20-0 lead to the Longhorns, only to come back and win the game in the closing minutes.

Arkansas entered the Cotton Bowl with one of the most talented teams in school history, led by an unmatched offensive backfield that featured quarterback Jon Brittenum, running back Jim Lindsey and All-America receiver Bobby Crockett. The Razorback defense wasn't too shabby either, as All-America tackle Loyd Phillips anchored a unit that had three shutouts to its credit.

LSU, meanwhile, entered Dallas with little to lose and a lot of national respect to gain with a victory. Although the Tigers had remained strong under fourth-year coach Charles McClendon in the years after their 1958 national championship, many had branded LSU as a program that couldn't put it all together when it counted. Included in those stinging losses were setbacks to Tennessee and Ole Miss in the Sugar Bowl that cost LSU the 1959 national championship, a 1961 loss to Rice that denied the Tigers a perfect season, and the three SEC losses in 1965.

New Year's Day 1966 dawned as a warm, soupy day, with rain in the forecast, giving LSU the first edge of the game.

LSU gave a good account of itself on its opening drive, moving to the Arkansas 42, but a holding penalty eventually forced an LSU punt that went out of bounds on the Razorback 13.

The poor field position didn't faze the Ozark mountain gang, as Jones gained 25 yards on two rushes to the Razorback 41, and then Brittenum found Crockett for gains of 7 and 16 to eventually bring the ball to LSU 19. From there, Brittenum found Crockett on the right side behind LSU cornerback Jerry Joseph, and Crockett hauled in the touchdown pass that gave the Hogs a 7-0 lead with 3:35 to go in the first period.

Another penalty on LSU, killed the Tigers' next drive, but following a missed field goal attempt by the Razorbacks' Ronnie South, LSU got its act together.

Starting from the 20, Stokley hit Don Schwab for 18 yards and a first down. Then Screen replaced an injured Stokley and gained 11 on a draw before sparing Billy Masters for 14 and a first down at the Razorback 35.

Jimmy Dousay carried three times to and then Joe Labruzzo carried four of the final five plays on the 16-play, 80-yard march, culminating with a 4-yard touchdown run. All-America end Doug Moreau kicked the extra point, leaving the record crowd of 76,200 stunned at a 7-7 tie.

Arkansas then committed the game's first turnover when South fumbled a handoff, and Bill Bass recovered for the Tigers at the Arkansas 34.

Screen found Moreau for 12 and a first down, then handed the ball over to Labruzzo, and the little back from Lockport did the rest, ending the short drive with a 1-yard touchdown dive and sending the Tigers to halftime with a shocking 14-7 lead.

Arkansas' defense dominated the third quarter, forcing LSU into three three-and-outs, but the Razorbacks' only scoring threat later in the period ended without points when South missed his second field goal attempt of the afternoon from 46 yards out.

LSU looked to put the game away in the fourth quarter, making an impressive march from its own 46 to the Arkansas eight with a first-and-goal, but the Tigers could not crack the endzone, Moreau attempt a 19-yard field goal attempted, which sailed wide right with 8:27 to play.

Joseph intercepted Brittenum on the Hogs' next possession, but LSU could not run out the clock, giving Arkansas the ball at its own 11 with 2:35 to go.

Brittenum hit Crockett three times for 33 yards on the drive, with the third completion gaining 20 yards to the LSU 48. The Razorbacks reached the LSU 28 before Tiger All-America defensive tackle George Rice sacked Brittenum for a 7-yard loss back to the 35. With the clock almost gone, Brittenum found Crockett to the LSU 24, but the game was over and LSU had its monumental upset.

Labruzzo was named the game's Most Valuable Player, rushing for 69 yards and scoring both LSU touchdowns. Arkansas outgained LSU, 306-266, but the Tigers did not fumble or throw an interception, while the Tigers forced two costly Razorback turnovers.

Domanick Davis gained 206 all-purpose yards in the 2003 Cotton Bowl.

2003 COTTON BOWL

Texas 35, LSU 20

January 1, 2003 • Attendance: 70,817

After falling behind 17-7 in the second quarter, the ninth-ranked Texas Longhorns scored 28 unanswered points to beat the LSU Tigers, 35-20, at the 67th SBC Cotton Bowl Classic on Saturday afternoon at Fair Park's Cotton Bowl.

The Tigers (8-5) had a five bowl-game winning streak broken, while Texas (11-2) improved to 14-13-1 in traditional New Year's Day bowls. LSU's bowl record fell to 16-17-1 including a 2-1-1 in the Cotton Bowl. Twenty-three Tigers' seniors played their final game in an LSU uniform.

The Longhorns used quick strikes to decimate the Tigers defense, which otherwise played well against one of the nation's most potent offenses. Texas scored on drives of 40, 45 and 54 seconds, and also had a fumble returned 54 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter. The longest scoring drive of the game was exactly two minutes.

LSU, which ran a Cotton Bowl record 95 plays for 441 yards, had a 36:51 to 23:09 advantage in time of possession. However, it was Texas' ability to use wide receiver Roy Williams that proved to be the difference. Williams caught four passes for 142 yards including a 51-yard touchdown. He also rushed for a 39-yard score on an end-around and set up a touchdown with a 76-yard reception.

The Tigers rushed for 248 yards on 49 carries, while quarterback Marcus Randall struggled in the second half to finish 19 of 45 for 193 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Wide receiver Michael Clayton caught a game-high six passes for 88 yards, while LaBrandon Toefield caught his first touchdown reception of his career from 20 yards out.

On the ground, Domanick Davis rushed 13 times for 85 yards and a touchdown, while Randall ran 11 times for 78 yards including a 75-yard run that set up Davis' score. Toefield added 67 yards on 22 carries.

Texas quarterback Chris Simms was 15 of 28 for 269 yards and two touchdowns. The Longhorns rushed 32 times for 113 yards.

The Longhorns won the toss and elected to defer its decision until the second half, giving the Tigers possession to start the game. Texas defended the South endzone -- with the morning sun at its back -- in the first quarter.

The Tigers, making their fourth all-time appearance in the prestigious classic, dominated play in the first quarter with a ball-control offense. Meanwhile, Texas was able to stay close when linebacker Lee Jackson returned a Marcus Randall fumble 54 yards for a touchdown to take a 7-3 lead.

LSU fought back immediately, regaining the lead on an 87-yard drive that resulted in a 20-yard touchdown reception by LaBrandon Toefield, the first of his career. The Tigers led 10-7 with four seconds to play in the first quarter.

After forcing a Texas punt, Randall scampered 75-yards to the Texas 15-yard line to set up a 10-yard touchdown run by Domanick Davis. The Tigers led 17-7 with 12:04 to play in the half. Texas then earned its first of two touchdown drives of less than 45 seconds when wide receiver Roy Williams caught at Chris Simms offering over the middle for a 51-yard touchdown reception to trim the gap to 17-14. Williams beat LSU's man-to-man coverage and was able to outrun Corey Webster across the field to score.

LSU benefited from a short field after a Texas punt traveled only 17 yards to the Texas 33-yard line. However, the Tigers were only able to get to the Longhorn's 19 before attempting a field goal. After making a 26-yard attempt on LSU's first drive of the game, Corbello's attempt with the wind was missed to the right to give Texas the ball.

On the next Texas possession, the Longhorns again went back to Williams for a big gain. The All-American took the ball over the middle for a short gain, shook off two members of the LSU secondary and wasn't caught by LSU linebacker Bradie James until making it to the LSU 5-yard line. Two Cedric Benson rushes later, the Longhorns took the lead, 21-17, after a 45-second drive. On the play, James broke LSU's single-season record for tackles with 151, surpassing Al Richardson's effort in 1983.

After a Donnie Jones punt sailed 65 yards in the air and into the Texas endzone, the Longhorns began to trek down the field as the half was nearing its end. Without any timeouts, Texas' field goal unit ran onto the field and quickly set up for a 42-yard attempt. Placekicker Dusty Mangum's boot into the wind landed about one foot short of the crossbar as the half expired.

As the second half began, LSU jumped over a snake when Mangum missed yet another field goal, this time from 35 yards with 10:49 to play in the third quarter.

The teams traded punts to give the Tigers the ball at their 20 midway through the third quarter. Faced with a third-and-22 from its 8-yard line after a personal foul on Randall, Davis got LSU out of the shadow of its endzone with a 44-yard scamper on a draw up the middle to the Texas 48. After advancing to Texas' 34, Randall fumbled on a third-down rush to give the ball back to the Longhorns.

Three plays and 54 seconds later, Texas scored another quick touchdown to expand the lead to 28-17 with 4:08 to play in the third quarter. Back-to-back plays of 12 and 17 yards led to Williams' second touchdown of the day, this time a 39-yard rush on an end-around. Texas led 28-17 with 4:08 to play after a three-play, 67-yard drive.

Texas pinned the Tigers at their 1-yard line with a 49-yard punt by Brian Bradford and did not allow a first down. The Tigers returned the favor with a 41-yard punt to its 47, where Texas took over.

The Longhorns scored its fourth unanswered touchdown with just under 10 minutes to play in the game when Simms connected with Ivan Williams for an 8-yard score to lead 35-17.

For the first time since the second quarter, the Tigers got on the board. Taking over possession at Texas' 49, LSU went into its hurry-up offense but was only able to advance to the Texas 22, where Corbello connected on a 39-yard field goal with 7:41 to play. The Tigers trailed 35-20.

LSU resorted to an onside kick to regain possession, advancing to the Texas 34-yard line. The Tigers converted one fourth down, but were unsuccessful on a second to give the Longhorns the ball with just under six minutes to play. On the drive, Randall was intercepted when a pass was tipped by Clayton and caught by Johnson for the second time. The interception along with a long return was negated by an offside penalty on Texas.

LSU FOOTBALL HEAD COACH LES MILES

Bowl Bound

Les Miles is the first coach in LSU history to lead the Tigers to a bowl game for six straight years. LSU is 4-1 in bowl games under Miles with two of the four victories coming in BCS bowls.

A Perfect 10

Les Miles is the only coach in LSU history to average 10 wins a season in 5 or more years. In six years with the Tigers, Miles has averaged 10 victories a season as he's climbed to the third-winningest coach in school history with 61 wins.

Elite Company

With the win over Ole Miss this year, Les Miles joined Steve Spurrier, Mark Richt and Phillip Fulmer as the only coaches in SEC history to win 10 games in four of their first six seasons as an SEC head coach.

11

Since taking over at LSU in 2005, Les Miles has won 11 games over coaches who have a national title to their credit.

In A Class By Himself

Les Miles is the only coach in SEC history to beat Nick Saban and Urban Meyer in the same year twice (2007, 2010). Miles is also the only coach in LSU history to beat Auburn, Florida, and Alabama in the same year, which he's done two times (2005, 2007).

Big Wins

In six years with the Tigers, Les Miles has guided the Tigers to 22 wins over Top 25 teams, including a school-record 7 in 2007 and 4 this year. Of the 22 Top 25 victories, 9 have come against teams ranked in the Top 10.

Classroom Success

LSU's success hasn't just come on the field as the Tigers have graduated 124 players with another 89 players earning a spot on the SEC Academic Honor Roll. Going back to the 2007 season, LSU has graduated 60 of its 81 seniors, including 19 of 24 from the national championship team.

NFL Pipeline

LSU has seen 31 of its players selected in the NFL Draft over the past five years, including a school-record four first round picks in the 2007 draft. The 31 draft picks is the most in the SEC during that span. Of the 31 picks, eight were first round picks.

Cardiac Tigers

Under Les Miles, LSU has won 17 games despite trailing in the fourth quarter. LSU had four fourth quarter comebacks this year with all four of those victories coming against SEC teams – Tennessee, Florida, Alabama and Ole Miss.

A Top 25 Fixture

Since Les Miles took over at LSU at 2005, the Tigers have been represented in the AP and USA Today Coaches' Poll in 90 of 94 weeks during that 6-year span. The Tigers have played 76 of their 78 games under Miles as a Top 25 team.
