

Charles Baglio

Coordinator of High School Relations

Charles Baglio, one of the most successful high school football coaches in Louisiana over the last 20 years, enters his second season with the LSU athletic department as Coordinator of High School Football Relations.

Baglio came to LSU after coaching at Independence High School for 34 years, 22 of which were as head coach. While at Independence, Baglio posted a head coaching record of 205-69. He won nine district titles and led his team to the state championship game twice.

Baglio also had numerous players go on to play collegiate football, including former Tiger running back LaBrandon Toefield, who is now a member of the Jacksonville Jaguars in the NFL.

Baglio, who goes by the nickname of "Coach Bags", graduated from Southeastern Louisiana University in 1967 with a degree in health and physical education and then followed that up with a Master's degree from SLU in 1973 in supervision and administration.

Baglio is a native of Independence, La.

James Coley

Graduate Assistant - Offense

James Coley enters his first season with the Tigers after spending six seasons coaching in the prep ranks in Miami. Coley joined the Tigers prior to spring practice last March.

As a member of the Tiger coaching staff, Coley will work on the field with the LSU offense, while breaking down tape and assisting in game plans and scouting reports off the field.

Coley came to LSU after serving as offensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Miami-Norland High School. In 2003, Coley helped lead Miami-Norland to a 13-2 overall mark and the Class 6A state title. Coley's offense was the most productive in Dade County, averaging 500 yards a game, 250 rushing and 250 passing.

Coley coached quarterbacks and wide receivers and was the passing game coordinator at Miami Senior High School in 1998 and 1999. In all, Coley had his quarterbacks earn First Team All-Dade County five times.

Coley, a native of Miami, graduate from Florida State in 1997.

Harlon Barnett

Graduate Assistant - Defense

Harlon Barnett, a former all-America defensive back at Michigan State, joins LSU as a graduate assistant this season.

Barnett, who played seven years with three teams in the NFL, will work on the field with the Tiger defense as well as assisting with scouting reports and film breakdown.

Barnett comes to LSU from Princeton High School in Cincinnati, where he served as defensive coordinator from 2000-02.

As a player, Barnett earned four letters as a defensive back for Michigan State from 1986-89, serving as a co-captain in 1989. Barnett earned First Team All-Big Ten honors as well as All-America honors from the Sporting News in 1989 after helping lead the Spartans to an 8-4 overall mark and a win over Hawaii in the Aloha Bowl. Barnett recorded 73 tackles and three interceptions, including one in that he returned 35-yards for a touchdown against second-ranked Miami.

Barnett was also a key member of Michigan State's 1987 Big Ten Champion squad. The Spartans capped the 1987 season with a 20-17 victory over Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl. Barnett finished his career with 154 tackles, six interceptions and 13 pass breakups.

Barnett was drafted in the fourth round of the 1990 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns, where he was coached by Nick Saban in 1991 and 1992. From there Barnett played with the New England Patriots for two years and then wrapped up his NFL career with the Minnesota Vikings in 1995 and 1996. Barnett played in 99 games during his NFL career, and he recorded four interceptions.

Barnett, a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, graduated from Michigan State with a degree in communications.

Barnett and his wife Tammy, have two children, Todd and Tori.

Scott Scherer

Administrative Intern

Scott Scherer, a former quarterback at the University of Memphis, joined the LSU staff over the summer and will spend the 2003 season as an administrative intern with the team.

Scherer graduated in 2003 from Memphis with a degree in finance with emphasis in management. While at Memphis, Scherer lettered for four years as a quarterback for the Tigers. Scherer was named a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete in 2002.

A native of Memphis, Tenn., Scherer started six games at quarterback for the Tigers in 2000. He threw for 857 yards and four TDs in 2000 and he capped his career by completing 86-of-156 passes for 865 yards. He played in 27 games during his career.

Chad Walker

Recruiting Intern

Chad Walker enters his first season as a recruiting intern with the LSU football staff after returning to his alma mater last spring.

Walker, a 2000 graduate in kinesiology from LSU, spent the 2002 season as a defensive graduate assistant at Louisiana-Monroe. He served as a defensive graduate assistant at Virginia in 2001 after a stint as a student assistant with the LSU football team in 2000.

Walker, a New Orleans, La., native, is a newlywed as he married the former Robyn Noska in June of 2003.

Jeff Boss

Equipment Manager

One of the most recognizable faces on the LSU campus, Jeff Boss enters his 24th year with the LSU football staff. Boss, who serves as LSU's Equipment Manager, is responsible overseeing all equipment-related activities for the LSU Athletic Department. Boss is also responsible for issuing and maintaining all football equipment, in addition to supervising LSU's new locker room facilities as well as LSU's practice facilities, both indoors and outdoors.

In his 24th year with the LSU program, Boss is an active member in the Athletic Equipment Managers Association. He was selected the winner of the Glenn Sharp Award in 1990, given annually to the Equipment Manager of the Year as chosen by that organization. His years of expertise in the field have also aided him in the design and development of a football shoe, the "Boss Shark," which was nationally marketed for intercollegiate play by the Nike Shoe Company.

Before coming to LSU in 1980, he served five years as a teacher and football coach at Morgan City High School. He previously held similar positions at Kaplan High School in 1974-75.

He began his athletic administration career at Franklin Junior High in 1972 before serving as athletic director and head football coach there in 1973-74. While at Franklin, he coached former LSU and Atlanta Falcon great Lyman White.

Boss earned a master's degree of Education in Administration and Supervision. He is married to the former Karen Ibert of Franklin, La., and the couple has a daughter, B.J.

Tommy Moffitt

Strength & Conditioning Coordinator

Considered by many in college football to be one of the nation's premier strength and conditioning coaches, Tommy Moffitt enters his fourth season at LSU after coming to the Tiger staff from the University of Miami.

Moffitt was appointed as LSU's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator on Jan. 10, 2000. In February of 2000, Moffitt was named the 1999 Collegiate Football Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

In three years with the Tigers, Moffitt has developed LSU into one of the most durable teams around by combining a program that focuses on both strength and speed. Moffitt has also incorporated a weekly karate routine in the Tigers' off-season program. The karate program increases the player's flexibility, while forcing the team to stay focused for a lengthy period of time.

Moffitt manages LSU's fourth quarter program, which is the focus of the Tigers' off-season workouts. The fourth quarter program consists of the following components: effort, toughness, discipline and commitment, all of which add up to equal "TigerPride."

Moffitt served as the head strength and conditioning coach at Miami for two years, helping head coach Butch Davis rebuild the Hurricane program. While at Miami, Moffitt was named the 1998 Big East Strength Coach of the Year.

Moffitt went to Miami after four seasons, 1994-97, as associate head strength and conditioning coach at Tennessee.

A 1986 graduate of Tennessee Tech, Moffitt started his career as an assistant football coach at John Curtis High School in River Ridge from 1987-94, earning the 1992 award as the National High School Strength Coach of the Year, given by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

Born in Summerville, Tenn., Moffitt is married to the former Jill Beron and they have two children, Clay and Aaron.

Jack Marucci

Director of Athletic Training

Jack Marucci enters his seventh season as director of athletic training at LSU. Since joining the Tigers, Marucci's leadership and vision has taken LSU to the forefront of athletic training at the collegiate level.

As director of athletic training at LSU, Marucci oversees the athletic training operation for all 20 varsity sports at LSU, supervising a staff of five full-time trainers.

An experienced trainer with a strong background in collegiate athletics, Marucci helped design the new athletic training facility at Tiger Stadium.

Marucci served as assistant athletic trainer at Florida State from 1988-96, a stint that included seven bowl trips with the Seminoles. While in Tallahassee, he served as the host trainer for two NCAA regional baseball tournaments.

Marucci graduated from West Virginia in 1986 with a bachelor's degree in athletic training, then gained his master's from Alabama in 1988, serving as a graduate assistant trainer for the Crimson Tide from 1986-88.

He also worked stints in 1987 in athletic training with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and the Philadelphia 76ers, and in 1985 he worked in athletic training with the Cleveland Browns.

Andy Barker (r) received the Southeastern Athletic Trainer's Association "Backbone" award in 2000 honoring him as the top assistant trainer in the region.

Andy Barker

Senior Associate Athletic Trainer

Andy Barker enters his seventh season as senior associate athletic trainer at LSU as he came to Baton Rouge from Florida State where he was an assistant athletic trainer for six years.

Since joining LSU, Barker has been integral in the designing and implementing a state-of-the-art computer tracking program that assists the staff in following the progress and rehabilitation of injuries. The program produces daily injury reports for a variety of sports, and it also tracks and monitors purchasing and inventory as well as tracking insurance and medical bill payments. Most recently the system was upgraded to provide reports to the NCAA to help track injuries involved in the Injury Surveillance System.

In April of 2000, Barker received the Southeastern Athletic Trainers Association "Backbone" Award, an award that recognizes the top collegiate assistant athletic trainer from the seven states included in the Southeastern district of the National Athletic Trainers Association.

A 1988 graduate of Clemson University, Barker then went on to become a graduate assistant trainer at Florida State in 1988. After two years as a graduate assistant in the Seminole athletic program, Barker was named an assistant athletic trainer there in 1990 and served in that position until joining LSU in August of 1996.

While at Florida State, Barker worked seven postseason bowl games with the Seminole football team, served as host trainer for a 1995 NCAA regional basketball tournament, the host trainer for seven NCAA regional baseball tournaments and the host trainer for the Junior Pan-Am Games in 1990.
