The Tigers' brand new facility houses the locker rooms, offices, as well as an on-site training room.

LSU Soccer Complex

Maintaining LSU's commitment to providing the finest athletic facilities in the nation, the Tigers will begin their sixth season at the state-of-the-art LSU Soccer Complex. The field was christened on Sept. 13, 1996, when the Tigers hosted their Southeastern Conference rivals, the Tennessee Volunteers. The LSU Soccer Complex, located just a half-mile from the Mississippi River, provides seating for 1,500 spectators.

2000	15-6	5-4	7-3	3-2
TOTALS	49-67-4	17-28	29-28-2	11-15

The LSU Soccer Complex comfortably seats 1,500 spectators.

In addition, the stadium features a brand-new scoreboard, a modern sound system and is one of the only facilities in the Southeastern Conference equipped with lights.

The LSU Soccer Complex has served as the host site of three tournaments hosted by LSU and will be the sight of the 2001 SEC Tournament.

Locker Room

The LSU soccer program can now boast a modern, spacious, state-of-the-art locker room to call their own. The facility includes locker rooms for both the Tigers and the visiting team, as well as a changing room for the game officials. There is also an on-site training room, a meeting room for the Tigers and an office for the LSU coaching staff.

The spacious LSU locker room provides adequate dressing space for more than 30 players.

LSU's on-site training facility complete with taping tables and a whirlpool.

The Tiger Lounge provides the players with a place to unwind and to watch game film.

Weight Room

Strength and conditioning can be the heart and soul of an athletic program's success, and LSU has taken great strides to improve its strength program and facilities.

LSU student-athletes enjoy one of the finest strength and conditioning facilities in the nation with a 10,000-square foot weight room located on the North side of Tiger Stadium. The weight room features the latest in both strength training and cardiovascular training equipment.

Athletic Training

LSU boasts one of the largest and most complete athletic training facilities in all of college athletics. The Dr. Martin J. Broussard Center for Athletic Training is one of the few collegiate training centers with a full-service pharmacy as well as an on-site X-ray room. Focused on aggressive rehabilitation, the 23,000-square foot Broussard Center is furnished with the latest in both technology and equipment.

LSU's multi-million dollar athletic training facility is equipped with the largest hydrotherapy pools in both collegiate and professional sports, and is the only school in college athletics with a full-service vision center.

MEDIA INFORMATION

Members of the LSU soccer team get focused prior to one of their televised games.

The LSU 2001 Soccer Media Guide was written to provide members of the media with statistics and information needed to adequately cover the LSU Soccer team. If you need further information on the team, pictures, or wish to set up an interview with head coach George Fotopoulos, assistant coach Tracy Hay, as well as any of the student-athletes, please contact Zac Schrieber at the LSU Sports Information Office at (225) 578-8226.

SEASON OUTLOOK

OPPONENTS

S H A R P Shooter

Hard work and dedication are two vital aspects of building a championship contending team in the modern era of the Southeastern Conference, and the 2001 LSU soccer team is primed and ready to make a run at the 2001 SEC Western Division title. Second year head coach George Fotopoulos turned around a struggling LSU program last season and recognized the need for hard working athletes and emphasizes hustle and effort more than pure talent.

"The theme for our team this season is going to be hard work," said Fotopoulos. "We have a lot of players coming in this year with about the same amount of talent, so the players who are more dedicated and who work harder will get most of the playing time."

The 2001 version of the LSU soccer team boasts 10 returning starters, 15 returning lettermen and 18 incoming freshmen. The only loss from last season's starting squad which amassed a school record 15 victories and a second-place finish in the SEC Western Division is speedster Somalia Lindsay. Lindsay ended the 2000 campaign sixth on the team in both goals scored and points as she accumulated three goals and totaled six points on the season.

Even with 10 returning starters, the 2001 Tigers are definitely the youngest team in the SEC. LSU's roster includes 27 underclassmen, seven juniors and is completely void of seniors.

"We are indeed a very young team this season," admitted Fotopoulos. "But we are more experienced, more talented, and harder working than we were last season, and that bodes well for this program. If we can continue to develop our younger players and allow them to grow into our system, then we should be able to compete with anyone in the future."

After getting a taste of what it is like to compete in the SEC Tournament for only the third time in school history last season, the future is now. The LSU soccer team is determined to accept the upcoming challenge and earn a second-straight appearance in the SEC Tournament where the Tigers hope to play in front of a raucous home crowd at the LSU Soccer Complex. LSU will host the 2001 SEC Tournament on Nov. 8-11 in Baton Rouge.

FORWARDS

Offense by comr to describe the way scored during the 2C anced LSU attack al to post career-high n opposition on its hee their foes 50-22 in 2 played a major role i season. LSU returns weapons from last s expects the same ty 2001.

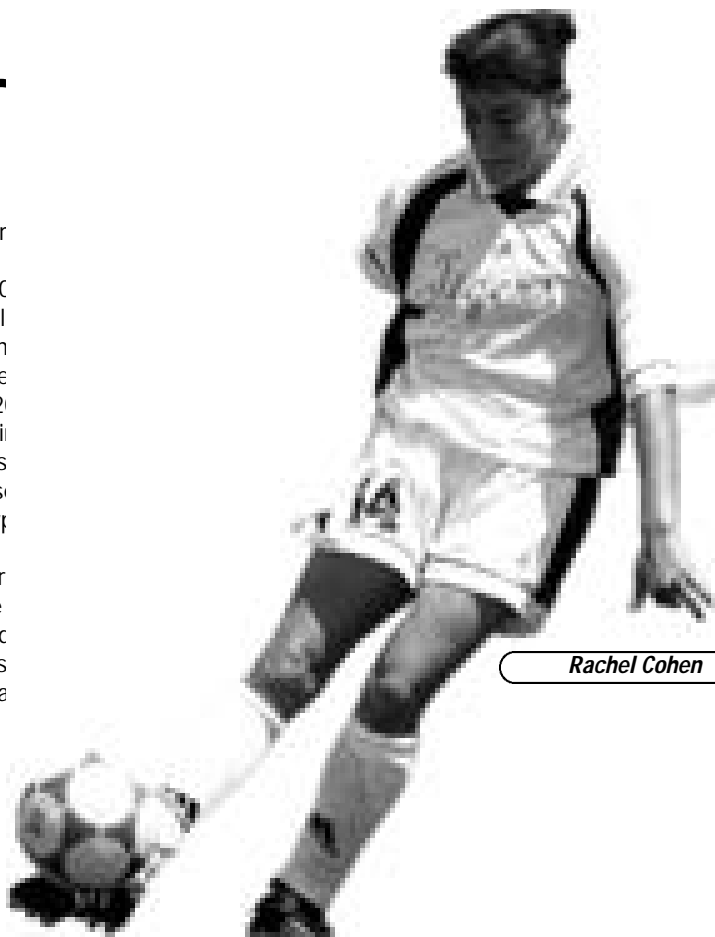

"We have numer offensive side of the that are very talented the ball in the net," s Fotopoulos. "Once a think that we'll have a combination of players forming a solid offensive attack as opposed to one or two individuals who do all of the scoring."

Leading the attack for the 2001 Tiger squad will be forward Kara Dean. Dean led the team in both goals scored and points last season as she scored 15 goals and posted two assists. She started in 20 of the Tigers' 21 contests and blasted six game-winning goals. Dean earned the Louisiana Collegiate Soccer Player of the Year award in 2000 and is expected to be one of the top returning players in the SEC this season.

Redshirt sophomore Mandy Heintz looks to rebound from an injury-plagued season in 2000 and demonstrate the potential that made her a highly sought after recruit out of high school. Possessing blazing speed and a nose for the net, Heintz could have a breakthrough year in 2001.

The Tigers scored 50 goals in 2000, the second-best total in school history, and the 2001 squad looks to continue upon the progress made last season by adding seven talented freshmen at the forward position.

"I don't expect the incoming freshmen to make a major impact on the team right away," Fotopoulos said. "We have a lot of talented offensive players returning this season and it's going to be hard for one of the new girls to break into the starting lineup. We will defitwins Jennirer and Jessica King, will add extensive depth to LSU's offensive attack in 2001.

MIDFIELDERS

The Tigers' midfield went from being the team's biggest downfall in 1999, when LSU finished 4-15-1, to being the most dependable group of players on the field for second-year head coach George Fotopoulos. In 2000, when the Tigers ended the season with a 15-6 overall record, the midfielders were able to maintain possession of the ball, apply constant pressure on the opposition and produce more offensive firepower.

This bodes well for the future of the LSU soccer program in that the Tigers return their entire starting corps of midfielders for the 2001 season.

"I think that the midfielders will definitely play a major factor in our offensive output this season," said Fotopoulos. "We have all of our starters returning in the middle, and they all have another year of experience behind them and they're all very talented. In the off-season we've been able to improve our team speed, fitness and depth in the midfield position and we think those factors will help us tremendously this year."

Rachel Cohen and Laura Klatter will anchor the Tigers at the midfield position along with the talented pair of Leigh McGovern and Melissa "Mo" Shelton.

Ashley Mitnick, a two-time All-SEC selection will captain the Tigers' defense in 2001, while Cohen and Shelton should add a potent scoring dimension to the unit. Mitnick, Cohen and Shelton combined to score 19 of the Tigers' 50 goals last season and accounted for 18 of LSU's 29 assists.

Freshmen Jennifer Craig, Laura Desobry, Suzanne Drake, Stephanie Keating and Mallery Sausser will bolster an already top-notch group of midfielders for the Tigers in 2001. The LSU newcomers are expected to provide depth and excitement for the Tigers throughout this year's campaign.

DEFENDERS

No matter what sport you're talking about, the following phrase holds true in all cases, "Defense wins championships." That is certainly true for the LSU soccer team.

In 2000, the Tigers allowed a conference-best 22 goals on the season and improved from a dismal 4-15-1 record in 1999 to an impressive 15-6 finish. With the entire defensive unit returning to Baton Rouge this season, optimism is high for the Bayou Bengals' chances to earn the SEC Western Division title.

"Defense is the cornerstone of our team," Fotopoulos said. "It has to be. All of the better teams throughout the years have had great defenses, and we've tried to excel in that area of the game. Our depth and speed is going to be very good this season and I think that we've really improved over the offseason."

The Tigers' junior team captain, Ashley Mitnick, leads a gang of six returning sophomores in Katy Bowman, Jenny deHay, Gina Deitering, Kasey Dexter, Elizabeth Marschall and Nicole Sprung on the defensive side of the ball in 2001.

Last season, Marschall became only the eighth player in LSU history to start in every game as a freshman and she finished the year tied in fourth place on the team by scoring five goals. The duo of deHay and Dexter will also play a vital role in the Tigers' defense during the upcoming season. The pair started in more than half of LSU's contests in 2000 and earned valuable playing experience in SEC competition. DeHay finished with five points on the year including a game-winning goal.

Bowman, Deitering, and Sprung will add the necessary depth for the Tigers in 2001 as well as provide coach Fotopoulos with plenty of talented choices on defense.

GOALKEEPERS

Bonnie Otililio returns for her junior season as the Tigers' goalkeeper and is expected to play a vital role in the team's success in 2001. Last season, Otililio led the SEC with a 1.04 goals-against average and set an LSU record by accumulating eight shutouts on the season. She was named the Tigers' Most Valuable Player in 2000 by the LSU coaching staff and will be a staple in goal for LSU this year.

"Bonnie did an outstanding job in goal for us last season," said Fotopoulos. "She definitely anchored our defense and played a major role in a lot of our victories. We're looking forward to another great season from her this year, and we're also very fortunate to pick up some excellent young goaltenders in the offseason who will be dominant in the future."

The Tigers' goalkeeping squad will also include redshirt freshman Robyn Desormeaux and two talented newcomers Jana Doege and Candice Maricle. LSU's abundance of skillful goaltenders will prove to be a valuable asset for the Tigers not only in 2001, but in the near future as well.

SCHEDULE

The LSU soccer program heads into its seventh year of existence in 2001 and the upcoming schedule deems to be the toughest yet in Tigertown. The Tigers open the season with a home contest against McNeese State before hosting the defending Southeastern Champion Florida Gators in an early SEC battle. LSU looks to earn its first victory over the Gators, as Florida leads the all-time series, 3-0. In the teams' most recent contest in 1999, Florida defeated the Tigers, 11-0, in Gainesville, Fla.

After the early season duel with Florida, the Tigers begin a seven-game stretch against non-conference opponents with a home game versus Louisiana-Lafayette. LSU will hit the road for three straight contests as they travel to Baltimore, Md., to play both Towson and Loyola, before concluding the trip with a match against South Alabama in Mobile, Ala.

"This is probably one of the toughest schedules that LSU has had in a long time," Fotopoulos said. "We are playing a lot of talented teams on the road this season, and I think that the harder schedule will be very beneficial for us as a program. As far as conference play goes, the SEC is going to be tough again this year."

The Tigers will host Nicholls State and Auburn-Montgomery in a weekend home-stand before heading to Huntsville, Ala., for a non-conference game against the Alabama A&M Bulldogs. Last season, LSU tied the all-time record for most goals scored in a single game by defeating Alabama A&M, 10-0, at the LSU Soccer Complex.

October represents the heart of SEC competition for the 2001 LSU soccer team as the Tigers face seven conference foes throughout the month. LSU welcomes Ole Miss and Mississippi State to Baton Rouge during the first weekend of competition in October prior to heading to Natchitoches, La. to face Northwestern State in the final in-state contest of the season. LSU then returns home to battle South Carolina in what could be the Tigers' last home game of the season on Sunday, Oct. 14.

The LSU soccer team concludes the 2001 regular season with six road matches. The Tigers head to Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Tennessee and Arkansas to finish of their SEC schedule, and then travel to Austin, Texas, for a vital non-conference match-up against the Texas Longhorns in the final regular season game of the season.

Baton Rouge will play host to the ninth-annual SEC Tournament this season which will be held at the LSU Soccer Complex from Nov. 8-11. The postseason tournament consists of the top eight teams in the conference as well as many of the nation's top-caliber athletes. LSU is poised to qualify for the tournament for the second-straight season and hopes to win its first postseason contest while performing in front of raucous home crowd.

1998	Tampa	9-7-1
1999	Tampa	11-7
2000	LSU	15-6

It took only one season for George Fotopoulos to start a new tradition with the Tiger soccer program - a winning tradition. Fotopoulos took a team that had won only four matches in 1999 and led them to 15 victories on the season. With an overall record of 15-6, the Tigers posted their first winning season since 1996, and the 10-game turnaround earned the Tigers the title of Most Improved Team in the NCAA Division I.

After being picked to finish fifth in the SEC West in the preseason poll, Fotopoulos led his Tigers to a record of 5-4 in the Southeastern Conference and a second-place finish in the Western Division. LSU made an appearance at the SEC Tournament for only the third time in the program's history.

LSU's second-year head coach has made it his goal to instill a winning attitude in the Tigers and he has already been successful in that category. He expects only the best from his athletes and gives them the same. His name and reputation in the soccer world allows him to recruit some of the nation's top athletes and has helped him turn the LSU program around. The Tigers represent 12 different states this season and Fotopoulos has proven that he is also concerned about recruiting the top players from Louisiana and has 14 of the top players from the state. Fotopoulos came to LSU after accumulating a 20-14-1 record in two seasons at Division II Tampa. In 1998, he directed a first-year Tampa program to a 9-7-1 record and turned the Spartans into a nationally competitive program in just their second year of existence. Tampa finished 11-7 in Fotopoulos' final season.

A 1992 graduate of the University of Tampa, Fotopoulos played forward for the Spartans for two years after transferring from Old Dominion. He was named First-Team All-

Sunshine State Conference twice and as a senior, was voted the NSCAA National Field Player of the Year in 1992 after leading the Spartans to the Division II national championship game.

Following his collegiate career at Tampa, he continued his playing career in the professional ranks with the APSL Tampa Bay Rowdies. He then went on to compete internationally with AEK of Tripoli in the Greek second division in 1993. His professional playing experience also includes a stint with the New Orleans Riverboat Gamblers in 1994.

Fotopoulos began coaching on the high school level in his native-Tampa, serving as head coach of the boy's soccer team at Tampa Catholic from 1993-97.

During the 1996 season he also rejoined the collegiate ranks as an assistant for the University of Tampa men's program and served in that capacity for two seasons before the inception of women's soccer at Tampa in 1998.

Heavily involved in club soccer in the state of Florida, he directed the Tampa Bay Heather soccer club to United States Youth Soccer Association (USYSA) national championships in the Under-19 and Under-20 age divisions. Fotopoulos placed over 125 Florida youth players on college teams.

Fotopoulos was heavily involved with the Florida Olympic Development Program throughout the 1990's. In 1997, he was named Director of Women's Soccer for the state of Florida. He has a United States Soccer Federation (U.S.S.F.) "A" license, the highest level a coach can receive.

His wife, Danielle, owns the NCAA record for career points (284) and career goals (118), men or women, spending two years at SMU and then two at Florida. Danielle helped the Gators to the 1998

NCAA title, scoring the lone goal in Florida's shocking 1-0 upset of perennial power North Carolina and was named the National Player of the Year.

In the summer of 1999, she was a member of the United States women's World Cup team that brought home the championship with a thrilling shootout victory over China to cap a run she captured the hearts of a nation.

She has since become a respected color analyst on women's soccer broadcasts and served in that capacity for ESPN's coverage of the NCAA women's Final Four.

Danielle now plays professionally for the Carolina Courage of the Women's United Soccer Association. Fotopoulos' first child, Alexia, was born on Nov. 18, 2000.

ASSISTANT COACH/SUPPORT STAFF

Tracy Hay
Assistant Coach
Second Year

Entering her second full season as the assistant women's soccer coach, Tracy Hay continues to be a catalyst for the Tigers' recent success. Hay has worked hard to instill the desire to win into the Tigers, and has led by example with her tremendous athletic ability.

With her specialty being defense, Hay assisted George Fotopoulos in crafting one of the best defenses in the history of the LSU soccer program. The Tigers allowed only 22 goals during the 2000 season and that number proved to be the least amount of goals allowed in the Southeastern Conference.

She came to LSU in the spring of 2000 after serving as a volunteer assistant coach at the University of Texas at Dallas for a season. Hay played collegiate soccer for the Florida Gators under her maiden name, Tracy Ward, and was a member of three SEC Championship squads. She was a starting defender on the 1998 NCAA Championship squad for the Gators and was a three-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll. Hay received the Gator Soccer Award for her excellent performance both on and off the field in 1998.

The Tampa native also played competitively for the Tampa Town N'Country Heather club team which won National Championships in both 1995 and 1996. Hay has also been a member of the Florida Olympic Development Program since 1992. Hay grew up in Tampa, Fla., and graduated from St. Petersburg High School in 1995. She earned a bachelor's degree in zoology from Florida in 1999. Active in her community, Ward received the Gator Community Service Award in 1997. On Aug. 5, 2000, she was married to Bumper Hay in Florida.

TIGERS RISE TO SEC'S ELITE

Kara Dean

The LSU soccer team entered the 2000 season with the hope of making a new name for itself. First-year head coach George Fotopoulos accepted the challenge of turning around a struggling Tiger program that had recorded its third-straight losing season, and a team that consisted of just 10 returning players and 17 newcomers.

Led predominantly by underclassmen, the 1999-00 Tiger team charted the best season in school history and recorded the first winning season in four years by accumulating 15 wins and only six losses.

LSU proved to the competition early in the season that its youth and inexperience ot going to inhibit the ' ability to win. The women's soccer team d the season by earn- ee quick wins and d its best start in l history. oving into the postsea- ie Tigers finished with st season record in l history, earned the shutouts in a season 0, and qualified for the eastern Conference ment for the first time 1998.

a 4-0 shutout over State to begin the son, LSU proved it uld be a tough team. owever, the future vas dimmed just two lays later as the Tigers ook on Louisiana- lonroe in a non-con- erence battle. LSU trailed the Indians by a count of 2-1 at the half, with the Tigers' lone goal coming from senior track All-American, Somalia Lindsay. In the second half, the team pulled together behind the play of sophomore captain Kara Dean whose three second-half goals made her only the fourth Tiger in school history to earn a hat trick. The outstanding performance lifted the Tigers over the Indians, 4-2.

The youthful Tigers' confidence was osted even further in the next contest as LSU defeated Texas Tech, 2-1, at home in the LSU Invitational. After suffering their first loss of the season to Oklahoma, 2-0, the Tigers then rattled off six-straight wins. LSU's six-match winning streak is the second longest in school history.

LSU recorded a pair of 2-0 victories on the road over non-conference opponents against Stetson University and Embry-Riddle before returning home to defeat both Alabama A&M, 10-1, and Northwestern State, 3-0.

The Tigers extended their winning streak to five games when they opened SEC play at home against the talented Arkansas

Lady'backs and improved to 7-1 on the season with the victory. LSU freshman defender, Elizabeth Marschall, booted the only goal for the Tigers and helped beat the Lady'Backs, 1-0, for the first time since 1998.

Before taking to the road to face both Ole Miss and Mississippi State, the team picked up a 4-0 victory over in-state rival, Louisiana-Lafayette, in the first year of their program. Tiger goalies, Bonnie Otilio and Bryna Warnock, combined in goal for LSU's sixth shutout of the season. Rachel Cohen, a native of Lafayette, picked up a goal for the Tigers in front of a raucous home crowd.

LSU then split the two SEC matches in Mississippi. The Tigers dropped a close contest to rival Ole Miss, 2-1, to end the six-game winning streak and the defeat marked the Tigers' lone loss of the season to an SEC Western Division opponent. Sophomore Melissa Shelton recorded the Tigers' goal and Otilio claimed 10 saves in the contest.

Two days later, the Tigers shutout the Mississippi State Bulldogs, 2-0, in Starkville, Miss. Sophomore Ashley Mitnick scored LSU's game-winning goal and added an assist on a goal scored by Dean.

After returning home to the LSU Soccer Complex, the Tigers dropped two close SEC matches to Eastern Division opponents in

2000 SEASON REVIEW

Georgia and Tennessee. Dean and Mitnick each scored for the Tigers in a 3-2 loss to the Lady Bulldogs. Otillio recorded a season high 11 saves in the loss.

LSU then fell to the Tennessee Volunteers in a 4-2 contest. Otillio gave a tremendous effort with 10 saves for the Tigers and LSU scored on goals from both Dean and Shelton, but the Volunteers proved to be too tough.

The Tigers then returned to their winning ways by recording two vital wins over SEC Western Division opponents, Alabama and Auburn. The Tigers' 2-1 victory over Alabama marked the first time in school history that LSU defeated the Crimson Tide. After a scoreless first half, Alabama jumped out to an early 1-0 second-half lead, but was then out-matched by a pair of quick goals by the Tigers later in the half. Mitnick scored LSU's tying goal on a penalty kick and the Tigers followed with a goal from Cohen just 14 seconds later. The two explosive goals proved to be the fastest two goals in LSU history.

Two days later, the Tigers picked up their third SEC shutout with a commanding 1-0 victory over the Auburn Tigers. LSU set a school record by earning its eighth shutout of the season. The win improved the Tigers to an overall record of 12-4 on the season which set the school record for wins in a season. Dean's winning goal placed her second all-time for most goals scored in a season as she scored a total of 15 goals in 2000.

LSU then traveled to Thibodaux, La., for an in-state contest versus Nicholls State. The Tigers earned their ninth shutout of the season by handily defeating the Lady Colonels, 4-0. Marschall notched the game-winning goal and was supported by Laura Klatter, Dean, and freshman Katie Jones who also added goals in the contest. Jones' goal was the first of her collegiate career.

The Tigers then hit the road to end the SEC regular season. LSU traveled to Lexington, Ky., to face the Wildcats where Lindsay scored for the Tigers to tie the score going into half-time. LSU then held on for a short time in the second half, but Kentucky managed to score two additional goals in the second half. The latter goal was scored with one second remaining in regulation.

In the Tigers' final regular season SEC match, LSU headed to Nashville, Tenn., for a suspense-filled game against the Vanderbilt Commodores. The Tigers were outshot, 25-3, but after a stellar performance by Otillio in goal with nine saves, freshman Cohen scored an unassisted goal with only two minutes left to play in regulation time to put LSU on top. The win ended a 19-game losing streak to Eastern Division opponents dating back to 1995 and sealed a spot in the SEC Tournament for the Tigers.

LSU closed out the regular season with an impressive 2-1 win over in-state rival Tulane in a game some termed the "Louisiana State Championship." Cohen assisted both Tiger goals in the match which were scored by Shelton and Dean.

The Tigers appeared in the SEC Tournament for the first time since 1998 but were unable to earn their first SEC Tournament win. LSU fell to the fourth-seeded Kentucky Wildcats, 2-0, in Athens, Ga. Despite losing in the opening round of the SEC Tournament, the 2000 season was exactly what the Tigers needed to start a tradition in Baton Rouge. A tradition of a winning LSU soccer program.

ACADEMICS

LSU ACADEMICS

The LSU women's soccer program, under the tutelage of second-year head coach George Fotopolous, strives for excellence both on and off the field. Last season, eight Tigers were named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll and improved LSU's total number of honorees to 38 since the program's inception in 1995.

Senior Sarah Gilbert led the way for the Tigers in 2000 by earning her third-straight Academic All-SEC honor for her tremendous work in achieving a degree in elementary education. Coach Fotopolous, along with the entire LSU Athletic Department, realizes that in a student athlete's life, the player is a student first and an athlete second.

Academic Center for Athletes

The Academic Center for Athletes is responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes. The staff acts as a liaison between the athlete and the academic communities and insures that student-athletes comply with academic rules established by the university, the NCAA, and the SEC. The staff also coordinates academic programs designed to assist student-athletes in acquiring a quality education.

The Academic Center for Athletes is entering its fourth year in the newly renovated Old Gym Armory. A showpiece of the Center is the Steven W. Deumite Memorial Library, a 2,400 square-foot resource and study facility offering reading materials and a relaxing quiet area conducive to learning.

The Center also has private study rooms, made possible by generous donations from alumni, and the Tammany Tigers Computer Room, which has the latest in technology to meet all of the student-athletes' needs. The newest additions to the facility are the Eric Hill Communications Studio, which is used to train student-athletes in the art of interviewing and speaking, the Skip Bertman Conference Room, and the Bengal Belle Study.

The Center is open from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. and the Academic Center for Athletes provides the student-athletes with the tutorial support necessary to excel in the classroom, develop their intellectual and personal skills, and prepare properly for their professional careers. The support services offered include tutoring, career counseling and development, time management, study skills, and other programs that help each student-athlete reach and receive the highest-quality education and a degree.

Strength and Conditioning

Strength and conditioning can be the heart and soul of an athletic program's success, and LSU has taken great strides to improve its strength program and facilities.

LSU offers a diversified staff of professionals to train and condition Tiger athletes in all 20 men's and women's sports.

LSU athletes saw improvement of the weight facilities in the summer of 1997 and now enjoy one of the finest strength and conditioning facilities in the nation with a new 10,000 square foot weight room within Tiger Stadium.

The new weight room, a state-of-the-art facility, features the latest in both strength training and cardiovascular training equipment.

Athletic Training Center

Dr. Martin J. Broussard Center for Athletic Training

LSU completed construction on the new Center for Athletic Training in July, 1998. The 23,000 square-foot, multi-level training facility puts LSU among the finest in the nation in athletic training.

The Center for Athletic Training enables LSU to regain the position of athletic training leadership in the Southeastern Conference which it enjoyed when Dr. Marty Broussard served as head trainer for several decades. In his honor, the new facility is named the Dr. Martin J. Broussard Center for Athletic Training.

Focused on aggressive rehabilitation, the new facility is furnished with the latest in technology and equipment. Some distinguishing features of the training facility include a large aquatic rehab area, an on-grounds x-ray facility, a networked computer system featuring the latest in medical record-keeping and injury tracking, physician examination rooms and a pharmacy.

Athletics Director Skip Bertman

J. Stanley "Skip" Bertman was named LSU's athletics director on January 19, 2001, succeeding Joe Dean, who finished his 14-year term as A.D. on Dec. 31, 2000. Bertman, who completed a brilliant 18-year career this June as LSU's head baseball coach, served both as athletics director and head coach during the 2001 baseball season before assuming the full-time role as A.D. in August.

With Bertman, LSU gains an athletics director who can provide the leadership and experience necessary to manage the Tigers' nearly $35 million athletic budget. He is one of the most respected people in the Baton Rouge community and throughout the state of Louisiana. His talent as a fund-raiser and businessman, as well as a public relations mastermind, developed the LSU baseball program into the best in the nation.

One only has to look at what Bertman has accomplished with the Tiger baseball program over the last 18 years to see he brings all the tools necessary to direct LSU's 20-sport athletic department.

Bertman guided LSU to five NCAA titles, including back-to-back championships in 1996 and 1997. His teams drew huge crowds to venerable Alex Box Stadium, as LSU led the nation in attendance in each of his final six seasons (1996-2001). Bertman's unyielding desire to succeed drove him to the pinnacle of his profession, and his astute knowledge of the game -- obtained from over 40 years of coaching -- combined with his steadfast determination and irreplaceable enthusiasm transformed LSU Baseball into the nation's premier program.

Those same characteristics will carry over to the athletics director's chair, where Bertman has inherited a program considered to be one of the best in the country.

Bertman, 63, guided the baseball Tigers to a 870-330-3 (.724) record in his 18-year tenure, including the 1991, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 2000 NCAA titles, 11 College World Series appearances and Southeastern Conference championships in 1986, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996 and 1997. He was named National Coach of the Year on six occasions -- 2000, 1997, 1996, 1993, 1991 and 1986, and he served as head coach of the 1996 U.S. Olympic team which captured the bronze medal in Atlanta.

In a Baseball America poll released in January, 1999, Bertman was voted the second greatest college baseball coach of the 20th century, trailing only Rod Dedeaux of Southern California. LSU was voted No. 3 in a poll of the greatest college baseball programs of the century.

LSU is one of only three schools to win five NCAA championships, and the Tigers are one of only 10 teams to have made 11 College World Series appearances. Bertman and Dedeaux are the only coaches to win five CWS titles, and LSU (1990s) and Southern California (1970s) are the only schools to win four championships in one decade.

Bertman mastered the art of winning big games throughout his career, guiding the Tigers to a 21-4 record in championship games in NCAA post-season play. That mark includes all NCAA Regional, NCAA Super Regional and College World Series championship contests. Bertman also directed LSU to the highest all-time NCAA Tournament winning percentage with a 89-29 (.754) record.

Bertman led LSU to its fifth national title in 2000, as the Tigers recorded a 52-17 mark, including a perfect 13-0 post-season record. LSU won the SEC Tournament with four straight wins, and the Tigers raced to a 9-0 mark in the NCAA Tournament. The Tigers captured the national title with a thrilling 6-5 win over Stanford in the CWS championship game, as LSU scored four runs in the last two innings to overcome a 5-2 deficit. Catcher Brad Cresse's RBI single in the bottom of the ninth inning drove home shortstop Ryan Theriot with the winning run. LSU became only the third school in NCAA baseball history to win five national championships, joining Southern California and Arizona State.

The Tigers took their first crucial step toward college baseball prominence in 1983 when Bertman was hired to pump new blood into the program. He had previously earned stellar recognition as one of the nation's brightest assistant coaches while at the University of Miami (Fla.) for eight seasons (1976-83).

Bertman was known as the "best assistant coach in college baseball" while a member of Ron Fraser's staff at Miami, and he brought to LSU the same brand of exciting, winning baseball he helped install at UM.

Even before working at Miami, Bertman was renowned for his coaching excellence. In 11 seasons at Miami Beach High School, he directed the Hurricanes to a state championship and two runners-up finishes. He was named Florida's Coach of the Year on three occasions.

Bertman left Miami Beach High School in 1974 to author the book, Coaching Youth League Baseball, funding the project out of his own resources. The book has become required reading for youth league coaches around the nation and in many foreign countries.

In 1975, Bertman went back to coaching at Miami-Dade Downtown, leaving after one season to join Fraser at Miami. The move was a homecoming of sorts, as Bertman spent his collegiate playing days with the Hurricanes as an outfielder and catcher from 1958-60. He earned his B.A. in health and physical education from Miami in 1961 and received his master's degree from UM in 1964.

Bertman and his wife Sandy are the parents of four daughters -- Jan, Jodi, Lisa and Lori. The Bertmans have two grandchildren -- Sophie Faith and Isaac Stanley, the children of Emile and Lori Bertman Guirard.
