Media credentials should be requested prior to each game. Season credentials are also available upon request. Passes will be available for pick up in the press box at the LSU Soccer Stadium. All requests should be made by contacting Aaron Hyder.

Postgame interviews, including those with players and coaches from both teams, will be held in the designated media area in the team meeting room approximately five minutes following the completion of each match. A member of the LSU Athletic Communications Department will take interview requests during the second half of each game. Game information, including halftime and final game statistics, will be provided in the press box.

Practices are open to the media with Brian Lee and the players available for interviews after each session. Please contact Aaron Hyder to make arrangements.

LSU SOCCER ON THE SEC NETWORK

The Southeastern Conference and ESPN have a 20-year agreement through 2034 to create a multi-platform SEC Network which launched in August 2014. The SEC Network and its accompanying digital platform airs SEC content 24/7, including more than 1,000 events annually. The LSU Soccer program will feature twice on the SEC Network during the 2019 season with a home match against Arkansas on Oct. 10 and an away match on Oct. 3 against Auburn.

In addition, each of LSU's 10 matches in SEC play will stream live online on the SEC Network+ that includes ESPN3.com and the Watch ESPN app on the internet and available on all smartphones and tablet devices.

THE INCREDIBLE GOAL – and the penalty kicks that followed to clinch LSU's first ever SEC Tournament championship – was the culmination of an unforgettable eight days in Orange Beach, Ala. The Tigers became the first team in SEC history to win four games in eight days to win the tournament. Two of those games went into double overtime – 413 minutes of soccer in just over a week, an almost impossible workload to manage.

How did LSU manage the burden?

It wasn't by accident or chance, though. It took a combination of pre-game preparation, in-game management, post-game recovery, and positive energy from the sidelines to navigate the historic run.

During games, Lee and the training staff were able to monitor the fatigue levels of each player through heart rate trackers linked to an iPad on the sideline. If a player neared 'the red' – a visual marker of excess workload – Lee made sure to get a substitution in the game on the front foot.

"We were able to be a little proactive about it and get them out a minute or two or five minutes before fatigue really hit," he says.

Recovering between games was also vital. The players credited the work of trainer Hannah Faldetta and strength coach Tim Johnson for helping them maintain peak performance. NormaTec sessions and "shake outs" – a series of exercises to flush out the players' legs – combined with massages and pool recovery to help keep the team as fresh as possible.

The collective mentality embodying the SEC champs might be best summed up by the LSU bench, whose energy and activity on the sidelines caught the attention of fans on social media and the tournament broadcast crew.

Most importantly, it caught the energy of the players on the field.

"We talk about knowing your roles a lot," mentioned SEC Tournament MVP Caroline Brockmeier, who made 19 saves and stopped three penalties in the tournament, "whether it's playing time or being on the bench to celebrate and support the team. Everyone buys into their roles. We have one of the most hype benches in NCAA soccer, which has helped us incredible amounts."

Some of their motivational tools included: Gatorade cup binoculars for set pieces, rally pennies, and a stuffed Tiger from Build-A-Bear. The Tiger spent games in a papoose, worn by Jade Clarke in the first half and Caitie Cantrill in the second. The Tiger's heart, stuffed by the players at the workshop, came with a wish, as per Build-A-Bear tradition.

Other contributions from the bench were more direct, like Megan Johnson's decisive penalty kick against Tennessee. Johnson didn't play a minute all tournament and had played just 66 all season long during her freshman campaign, but she buried her attempt from the spot in the ninth round of kicks against the Volunteers to send the Tigers into the semis.

"It was unbelievable," said Johnson, a Baton Rouge native. "I've dreamed of coming to LSU and playing soccer my entire life, pretty much. It's an absolute dream."

When she wasn't burying game-winning penalties, though, Johnson joined her teammates in providing energy from the bench.

"I think it's so important," she noted. "The people on the field look to the people on the sidelines for energy. It's such a huge role to play. I'm glad I got to do that for my teammates."

IT WAS NEVER easier to maintain that hypeness than after Cooke's goal to equalize the SEC championship match, though. After Abbey Newton – who buried the title-winning penalty minutes later – won a 50-50 ball in midfield, Cooke took one touch and simply tried to put a shot on target to make the keeper work in windy conditions.

"I just remember Abbey passing me the ball," she said. "I looked up, and I knew the wind was behind me, because we'd already played the half before with the wind against it. I thought, 'We're down. I've just got to go for it.' I thought I could at least get a corner from it, because I knew I could get it on frame from there. I thought the keeper might tip it over and we'd get a corner from it. But I looked in the back of the net, and it was in."

The on-field celebration was almost as good as the goal, from Cooke's easily-lip-read, "Oh my God!" to the swarm of teammates who closed her down in a way Arkansas' defense might've regretted not emulating.

The tournament win was LSU's first in program history, after a series of close calls during Lee's tenure. During his 15 years as head coach at LSU, the Tigers made six NCAA Tournaments and won the SEC West three times and advanced to the SEC title game one time prior to 2018.

"Historically, I feel like we've been the nearly men when we've had good teams," Lee mentioned. "We've been runners up in the SEC three or four times. We'd lost a final on penalties before. We'd lost a semifinal in penalties. But, as that game wore on, we felt really, really good about our chances."

That special run at the SEC Tournament propelled LSU to match its best ever finish in program history as it advanced to the Round of 32 for the third time in program history.

Top Bins. 32 Strong. Winning four matches in eight days. The result was a team trophy that won't ever be forgotten.

LSU SOCCER STADIUM

The LSU Soccer Stadium has traditionally been a difficult place for visiting teams to play as the Tigers have posted a strong 132-75-29 home record for a .621 winning percentage over the first 24 seasons in program history.

The LSU Soccer Stadium has received extensive renovations in recent years as the program continues its ascent to the pinnacle of the SEC and the NCAA. The venue is now a home worthy of an emerging power in women's college soccer.

In March 2011, construction teams broke ground on Phase 2 of the renovation as $2.3 million was invested to transform the facility while creating additional seating, installing new lighting and building a new press box for the media and concession stand and restrooms for the LSU supporters to enjoy.

By adding a second level of bleacher seating to the existing structure, the official capacity of the LSU Soccer Stadium increased to 2,197, easily accommodating a fanbase that has created one of the more intimidating home-field advantages in the SEC. In addition, new gates were built on the west side of the complex with brick columns throughout. New gating was also installed at the top of the bleachers.

In the spring of 2019, a new home locker room was added to the west side of the current on site facility. The facility now houses a team meeting room, a brand new locker room, new locker room for coaches and it features a renovated officials' locker room as well.

Fans attending matches at the LSU Soccer Stadium also benefit from the addition of the permanent concession stand located directly below the press box. With the building of two new restrooms at the facility, it now features a total of four as men's and women's facilities are located at both ends of the stadium.

Members of the media also enjoy a functional press box that has been constructed to make the covering of matches a state-of-the-art experience. Not only does the press box interior measure 333 square feet, but hard-wired internet is available across the work space along with a wireless internet signal that has long been accessible in previous seasons. In addition, television cameras and videographers have access to the crow's nest installed on the roof of the press box in a space that also features hard-wired internet access.

The Tigers have been a formidable foe at the LSU Soccer Stadium over the years. LSU's initial season in 1995 was played on the Unviversity High field adjacent to the football practice facility and ever since 1996 the Tigers have called LSU Soccer Stadium home.

The Tigers have posted a winning home record in 18 of the 23 seasons played at LSU

Soccer Stadium with the 2007 and 2015 seasons standing out the most with unbeaten records on the home pitch. 2007 saw the Tigers go 5-0-3 and 2015's unbeaten record at home was 8-0-4.

The impressive run with an unbeaten 5-0-3 home slate in 2007 was followed by an impressive 8-1 campaign in 2008, a 7-1-2 season in 2009, a 6-2-1 mark in 2010 and a stellar 7-1-1 season in 2011. While winning four SEC Western Division championships and making four trips to the NCAA Tournament from 2007-11, the Tigers posted a 33-5-7 record with a .811 winning percentage. They most recently finished the 2015 season unbeaten at home with an 8-0-4 mark in 12 matches played in Baton Rouge.

In fact, LSU's home performance is highlighted by a school record 18-game home unbeaten streak that came to an end on Oct. 26, 2008, with a 2-1 defeat to the No. 6-ranked Florida Gators.

2019 marks the 24th season in the life of the LSU Soccer Stadium, which was first opened on Sept. 13, 1996, when the Tigers hosted SEC rival Tennessee.

Chapman Continues to Excel on World Stage

Allysha Chapman made her second-consecutive appearance at the World Cup in 2019 as she played as a member of the 23-player Canadian squad wearing the Maple Leaf. She made her first World Cup appearance in 2015 as Canada hosted the World Cup for the first time in the history of the country. Chapman remains the only LSU soccer player to appear in the World Cup.

CHAPMAN ENJOYS QUICK RISE IN CANADIAN RANKS

Chapman burst onto the scene as one of the first names on John Herdman's team sheet for the Canadian Women's National Team since making her full international debut with the squad on Oct. 25, 2014, in a friendly match against 2011 World Cup Champion Japan.

"Chappy" has gone on to earn 68 international caps with 53 starts for Canada at the senior level dating back to 2014 while being the team's top option at the starting left back for that period. She scored her first international goal with the winner in the 51st minute for a 1-0 win over Italy in the semifinal round of the 2015 Cypress Women's Cup.

A three-time All-SEC performer and the 2011 SEC Defensive Player of the Year during her collegiate career, Chapman's professional career has taken off after playing her final season with the Tigers in the fall of 2011. She joined the Houston Dash of the National Women's Soccer League before the 2015 season as an allocated national team player from her former club team Eskilstuna United DFF in Sweden. Chapman played two years with the Dash before being traded to the Boston Breakers in November 2016. She has now returned to the Houston Dash and played in Houston the last two seasons.

Before reigniting her international career at the senior level, Chapman was a two-year member of Canada's Under-20 Women's National Team, even appearing at the 2008 FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup in Chile.

2015 WORLD CUP

Chapman helped anchor a Canadian back line that conceded just one goal to its opponents in three group stage matches as the home nation advanced to the knockout rounds at the 2015 FIFA Women's World Cup with a 1-1 draw against The Netherlands in their third and final group match held at Olympic Stadium in Montreal.

Canada finished atop Group A with five points while also blanking China, 1-0, in the opening match of the tournament and playing New Zealand to a 0-0 draw to earn five points.

Thanks to Josée Bélanger's goal in the 52nd minute and Chapman leading a dogged defensive display from the hosts, Canada advanced to the quarterfinals of the 2015 FIFA Women's World Cup with a 1-0 shutout of Switzerland in their Round of 16 match at BC Place Stadium in Vancouver.

With 53,885 supporters on hand at BC Place Stadium – a record crowd for a Canadian men's and women's national team in any sport – Canada earned its place in the World Cup quarterfinals for the first time since 2003 while competing in the knockout rounds for just the second time in six appearances all-time in the tournament.

With Chapman anchoring a Canadian back line surrendering just one goal in four matches going into their match against England in the quarters, the hosts were confident for a return to the tournament semifinals for the first time since 2003 when Canada earned its best finish of third place, but England pulled out a 2-1 over Canada.

2019 WORLD CUP

Chapman helped anchor Canada's backline that gave up only two goals and recorded two shutouts during the first three matches of the 2019 FIFA Women's World Cup to help the Canadian's advance to the Round of 16.

Canada opened up the World Cup with a 1-0 win over Cameroon on June 10, and then they blanked New Zealand 2-0 on June 15. The Netherlands defeated Canada in their final group play match on June 20 by a tally of 2-1.

Chapman played a part in all four decisions for Canada while earning three starts. She now owns a career 68 international caps for Canada at the senior level dating back to the fall of 2014. Chapman logged a total 258 minutes in the first four matches; Canada was knocked out in the Round of 16 by Sweden (L, 1-0).

A three-time All-SEC defender and the 2011 SEC Defender of the Year while at LSU, Chapman has been consistent on the professional level. Chapman remains as the only LSU soccer player to play in the FIFA Women's World Cup.

THE HERMANN TROPHY

MALORIE RUTLEDGE

'08-'09 HERMANN TROPHY CANDIDATE

- 3-time All-American
- 2-time SEC Offensive Player of the Year
- 3-time First-Team All-SEC Selection
- 3-time NSCAA/adidas All-Region Selection
- U-23 U.S. Women's National Team Player Pool
- 2010 WPS Draft (13th Overall Pick by Philadelphia Independence)

Each year, the Heisman Trophy Trust presents the famed Heisman Trophy to the most outstanding college football player in the country. In the sport of college soccer, athletes from across the country compete each season for the right to raise the Hermann Trophy as the premier soccer player in the NCAA as presented by the Missouri Athletic Club in St. Louis.

Considered the highest honor in intercollegiate soccer, the recipient of the Hermann Trophy is selected each year by Division I head coaches who are certified members of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. After releasing the Hermann Trophy Watch List each preseason, the field is then cut to 15 semifinalists in November before three finalists are named prior to the NCAA Women's College Cup in early December.

The LSU Soccer program has been represented on the Hermann Trophy Watch List twice in its history as former Tiger All-American Malorie Rutledge was recognized as one of the top players in the country by the Missouri Athletic Club. While Rutledge never made the cut as one of the award's 15 semifinalists, she certainly earned a reputation as being one of the elite talents in all of college soccer with a brilliant four-year career from 2006-09.
