Head Coach Smoke Laval

Smoke Laval
Head Coach

Replacing a coaching legend is, in most cases, an unattainable goal. Continuing the legacy generated by the legend is, in Smoke Laval's case, the primary objective.

Raymond "Smoke" Laval is in his first season as LSU's head coach after serving seven years (1994-2000) as the head coach at the University of Louisiana-Monroe. Laval worked as LSU's administrative assistant during the 2001 campaign before taking over the head coaching duties last summer from the legendary Skip Bertman, who led LSU to five NCAA championships and 11 College World Series appearances during an 18-year (1984-2001) tenure.

Laval, 46, worked as Bertman's top assistant coach for 10 seasons (1984-93), helping lead LSU to its first two NCAA titles in 1991 and 1993. During Laval's 10 years as assistant coach, LSU posted a 483-182-1 record, won five SEC titles, appeared in six College World Series and captured two national championships.

Laval helped Bertman create what has become the nation's No. 1 college baseball program. Accordingly, Bertman - now LSU's athletics director - has rewarded Laval with the opportunity to perpetuate the Tigers' phenomenal heritage.

Laval established a reputation at LSU as one of the nation's best recruiters and brightest assistant coaches, as the Tigers reached the College World Series in only the third season (1986) of the Bertman-Laval regime. LSU followed the '86 CWS appearance with Omaha berths in 1987, 1989 and 1990 before the Tigers claimed the school's first baseball national title in 1991. After LSU captured its second NCAA crown in 1993, Laval departed Baton Rouge to become the head coach at Northeast Louisiana (now Louisiana-Monroe).

During his assistant coaching tenure at LSU, Laval - who worked as the Tigers' primary recruiter - tutored 24 players who would eventually reach the major leagues. Some of the major leaguers with whom Laval worked include all-stars Albert Belle Laval compiled a 241-159 (.603) mark as the head coach at ULM, guiding the Indians to NCAA Regional appearances in 1995, 1999 and 2000. The 2000 club posted a 41-22 mark en route to the Southland Conference title, tying the ULM record for wins. Laval, the 1999 SLC Coach of the Year, also led the Indians to the 1999 regular-season title and to the 1995 conference tournament crown. He was voted the 1995 Louisiana Coach of the Year by the Louisiana Sportswriters Association.

Laval supervised major improvements to ULM's Indian Field, including the addition of an outdoor batting facility, a picnic area for Coaches Committee members, renovations to the locker room, a players' lounge, a new sound system and a new scoreboard.

That obviously has changed, and Smoke played a large role in making it happen."*

Laval holds a bachelor's degree (1977) from Jacksonville in physical education and a master's degree (1979) from LSU in administration. Dan Canevari

Assistant Coach

Dan Canevari, who enters his 12th season as a member of the LSU baseball staff, has played an integral role in guiding the Tigers to five national championships in the past 11 seasons. That role has become even more significant in 2002, as Canevari will serve both as LSU's pitching coach and third-base coach.

Canevari, 43, was named pitching coach in June, 1997, after serving four seasons as the Tigers' administrative assistant. He worked for three years as an LSU graduate assistant coach prior to becoming a full-time staff member in August, 1993. His appointment continued a long-time association with legendary coach Skip Bertman, which began in 1977 when Canevari was a pitcher at the University of Miami (Fla.) and Bertman served as the Hurricanes' pitching coach.

The Canevari-Bertman combination helped to produce six NCAA championships, including five at LSU (1991, '93, '96, '97, '00) and one at Miami (1982).

During his previous 11 seasons at LSU, Canevari has earned a reputation as a vibrant, innovative coach and administrator with the talent to excel in all facets of a Division I program.

Canevari's 1998 staff posted the best ERA in the Southeastern Conference (4.39), and his 2000 staff helped lead LSU to the national championship with a stingy 3.44 ERA in the Tigers' nine NCAA Tournament games. Relief pitcher Trey Hodges was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 2000 College World Series.

Canevari in 2001 tutored left-hander Lane Mestepey, who earned National Freshman of the Year and SEC Freshman of the Year accolades.

Canevari has helped to produce some of the greatest pitchers in LSU history, including six major leaguers – Chad Ogea, Paul Byrd, Rick Greene, Mike Sirotko, Randy Keisler and Kurt Ainsworth.

In addition to his duties as pitching coach, Canevari edits and produces the Tigers' scouting videos, and he recruits players around the country. During his LSU tenure, he has supervised several aspects of the program, including facility management, equipment purchases, recruiting trip organization and community relations. He served as director of the Skip Bertman Baseball Camp – one of the nation's most highly respected camps – from 1995-2001.

Canevari, a native of Millerton, N.Y., came to LSU in 1991 after serving as the head coach at Coral Gables (Fla.) High School for three seasons.

Canevari earned his bachelor's degree in 1980 and his master's degree in 1983 from the University of Miami. He pitched for the Hurricanes from 1977-79 under the tutelage of Bertman, who was Miami's pitching coach from 1976-83.

Canevari worked as a graduate assistant coach at Miami from 1981-83 before becoming an assistant coach and teacher in 1984 at Southwest Miami High School. He was promoted to head coach at Southwest Miami in 1985, and his team set a school record for wins with a 25-7 mark.

Canevari spent the 1986 and 1987 seasons at Southwest Miami before assuming the head coaching job at Coral Gables High in 1988. He coached former LSU all-American pitcher Rick Greene at Coral Gables and his 1990 team posted a 21-7 record, establishing a school mark for single-season victories.

Canevari is married to the former Cortney Bilotti. He has three daughters, Tiffany (17), Barrett (11) and Avery (5), and one son, Nicholas (1).

Turtle Thomas
 Assistant Coach

Henry "Turtle" Thomas joined the LSU staff on July 1, 1999, after serving 12 seasons as an assistant coach at Miami (Fla.). Thomas, 48, serves as the Tigers' recruiting coordinator and hitting instructor, and he supervises LSU's catchers. As the recruiting coordinator and hitting coach at Miami, Thomas helped lead the Hurricanes to six consecutive College World Series appearances (1994-99), including the 1999 national championship.

Thomas' success has continued at LSU, as he helped direct the Tigers to the 2000 CWS title. Under his supervision, LSU's 2000 hitters established Southeastern Conference single-season records for hits (864) and doubles (194), and the Tigers set a school mark for batting average (.340). Thomas' star pupil in 2000 was LSU catcher Brad Cresse, who led the nation in home runs (30) and RBI (106). Cresse also won the 2000 Johnny Bench Award as the nation's most outstanding collegiate catcher.

More than 50 of Thomas' recruits have gone on to play professional baseball, including major leaguers like catcher Charles Johnson -- a National League Gold Glove recipient -- pitcher Alex Fernandez and catcher Jorge Fabregas. Thomas also recruited third baseman Pat Burrell, the No. 1 selection in the 1998 major league draft by the Philadelphia Phillies.

In addition to his recruiting duties, Thomas served as Miami's hitting coach from 1996-99. In his first three seasons in that capacity, the Hurricanes posted a .334 team batting average and a .557 slugging percentage while averaging more than nine runs per game. Miami's 1999 NCAA championship team batted .333 and launched 104 home runs.

Thomas is a 1975 graduate of High Point (N.C.) College, and he earned a master's degree from UNC-Greensboro in 1978. He was a four-year letterman at catcher, playing two seasons at Campbell University before completing his final two undergraduate years at High Point.

Wiederhold in 2000 directed the ULM pitching staff to a Top 15 national ranking in team ERA, and the Indians' top three pitchers - Kevin Orga, Kenny Holubec and Mike Wombacher - combined to form the nation's fifth-best rotation. Under Wiederhold, ULM in 2000 set the school's single-season strike-out mark en route to a school-record 41 wins.

During Wiederhold's tenure at Kennesaw State, the Owls appeared in four Division II College World Series. KSU won the 1996 national title and were runners-up in 1998 and 1999. Wiederhold's KSU pitching staffs led the nation in ERA in 1997 and 1998.

Prior to his stint at KSU, Wiederhold spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Oglethorpe University in Atlanta. During his stay at Oglethorpe, the Stormy Petrels went 46-28 overall (.622 winning percentage) with a Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference Eastern Division title in 1994.

2001 Season Notebook

Head coach Skip Bertman completed his remarkable LSU career with an 870-330-3 (.724) record.

Tigers Reach Super Regional in Bertman's Final Season

The 2001 LSU Tigers posted a 44-22-1 overall mark and advanced to NCAA Super Regional play, where the Tigers dropped two of three games to Tulane at Zephyr Field in Metairie. The Tigers failed to earn a berth in the College World Series for just the second time in six seasons, however, LSU did reach the "Sweet 16" of the NCAA Tournament for the third straight year.

In the final 2001 polls, LSU was ranked No. 9 by Baseball America, No. 10 by Collegiate Baseball and No. 9 by Baseball Weekly.

LSU played host to an NCAA Regional for the 12th straight year, as the Tigers defeated Virginia Commonwealth in the regional final to advance to the super regional. The Tigers also claimed the SEC Western Division title for the eighth time in 10 seasons, registering an 18-12 conference mark. LSU placed second in the SEC Tournament, dropping a 4-1 decision to Mississippi State in the title game.

The 2001 campaign marked the final season for legendary head coach Skip Bertman, who had announced his plans to retire from coaching in the summer of 2000. Bertman, who now serves as LSU's athletics director, guided the Tigers to five NCAA titles, including back-to-back championships in 1996 and 1997. His teams drew huge crowds to venerable Alex Box Stadium, as LSU led the nation in attendance in each of his final six seasons (1996-2001).

Bertman guided the Tigers to a 870-330-3 (.724) record in his 18-year tenure, including the 1991, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 2000 NCAA titles, 11 College World Series appearances and Southeastern Conference championships in 1986, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996 and 1997. He was named National Coach of the Year on six occasions - 2000, 1997, 1996, 1993, 1991 and 1986, and he served as head coach of the 1996 U.S. Olympic team, which captured the bronze medal in Atlanta.

In a Baseball America poll released in January 1999, Bertman was voted the second greatest college baseball coach of the 20th century, trailing only Rod Dedeaux of Southern California.

Skip Says Good-Bye to "The Box"

With the final out of the May 27 NCAA Regional championship game versus Virginia Commonwealth looming, the crowd at Alex Box Stadium broke into a cheer of "Thank you, Skip," as all realized that more than likely they were witnessing the final out of Bertman's storied 18-year career at Alex Box Stadium.

Moments after VCU's Danny Lopaze flew out to LSU's Todd Linden in left field, it was over. Bertman finished his illustrious career with a sparkling 547-124-1 mark at home, a winning percentage of .815. The Tigers closed 27-10 at home in 2001, giving Bertman 17 of 18 years with at least 25 wins at home and a percentage of .711 or better at "The Box."

Tigers, Wave Set Records

The LSU-Tulane NCAA Super Regional played at Zephyr Field in Metairie produced the highest total attendance - 35,268 - for a super regional series. The Game 3 attendance on June 3 of 11,870 was also the largest single-game crowd for an outdoor baseball game in the state of Louisiana.

Game 1 drew 11,679 fans and Game 2 attracted 11,719 patrons, as the series regis-

LSU and Tulane drew a total of 35,268 fans for the three-game NCAA Super Regional at Zephyr Field in Metairie.

LSU in the NCAA Tournament

LSU improved its NCAA Tournament record in 2001 to 90-31, maintaining the all-time highest winning percentage of .744. Of LSU's 13 regional championships, the Tigers have claimed 11 in the friendly confines of Alex Box Stadium, where the Tigers are 50-9 all-time in the NCAA Tournament.

LSU holds a 61-18 mark in pre-CWS NCAA Tournament play, good for a .772 winning percentage.

In super regional play, LSU is 3-4 since the current format was introduced in 1999. The Tigers were swept in 1999 at Alabama, LSU swept UCLA in 2000 en route to its fifth national championship, and the Tigers lost two of three games at Tulane in 2001. LSU is one of six teams to make the super regionals all three years, and the only school from the SEC to do so. The others to go three-for-three are Florida State, Miami, Clemson, USC and Stanford.

In championship round play (games that are to advance to the next round), LSU is 21-4, including losses in Games 2 and 3 of the 2001 Super Regional versus Tulane.

LSU vs. the Super Regional Field

The Tigers played four of the other 15 teams in the super regional field of 16, and the Tigers posted a 6-9 mark against "Sweet 16" teams. Here's a look at those games:

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	SCORE
3/7	Tulane	Baton Rouge	L, 13-3
3/9	Georgia	Athens	L, 8-7 (11)
3/10	Georgia	Athens	W, 5-3 (11)
3/11	Georgia	Athens	L, 4-3 (11)
3/23	Miss.State	Starkville	W, 9-1
3/24	Miss.State	Starkville	W, 7-1
3/25	Miss.State	Starkville	L, 13-0
4/6	S. Carolina	Columbia	W, 5-3
4/7	S. Carolina	Columbia	W, 12-5
4/8	S. Carolina	Columbia	L, 4-2
4/11	Tulane	Metairie	L, 7-6
5/20	Miss.State	Birmingham	L, 4-1
6/1	Tulane	Metairie	W, 4-3 (11)
6/2	Tulane	Metairie	L, 9-4
6/3	Tulane	Metairie	L, 7-1

tered a per-game average of 11,756.

One mark that was out of reach, though, is the record attendance for an NCAA pre-CWS session, which was set in 1995 when 15,379 watched Oklahoma defeat Auburn in Oklahoma City in the final of the Midwest I Regional.

LSU and Tulane had already set an attendance record during the regular season as their April 11 game at Zephyr field drew 11,669, at the time the largest outdoor baseball crowd in Louisiana.

The record for any Louisiana game was set in 1981 at the Superdome between UNO and Tulane, when an estimated 14,000 turned out.

Tigers Set Per-Game Home Mark

Although LSU did not break its single-season attendance record of 286,874 set in 2000, the Tigers did manage to put up one attendance record.

In 37 home dates in 2001, LSU drew 276,622 fans through the turnstiles at Alex Box Stadium, good for an NCAA per-game record of 7,476. It marked the third consecutive year LSU has averaged 7,000 or more fans per game and gave LSU its sixth consecutive NCAA attendance championship

Double Figures=Post-Season Victory

The Tigers scored 10 or more runs in all three of their 2001 NCAA Regional victories, as LSU has now won 14 consecutive post-season games when scoring in double figures. The last LSU loss when getting 10 or more runs was an 11-10 setback to East Carolina in the second game of the 1999 regional.

Unfortunately, pitching has often made

10 runs a necessity rather than a luxury. LSU won all six post-season games in 2001 (three in the SEC Tournament, three in the regional) when scoring 10 or more runs, but lost four of the last five games in which they failed to reach 10 runs.

LSU is 42-2 all-time in NCAA Tournament games in which it scores 10 or more runs, with the only other loss besides the aforementioned setback to East Carolina coming in a 15-12 loss in 1993 to Kent State. When counting the SEC Tournament, LSU is 58-3 when scoring 10 or more runs in the post-season.

Post-Season Power Surge

The Tigers played longball quite nicely in the post-season, as LSU clubbed 18 home runs in 11 post-season games, moving the Tigers to 98 on the year.

The Tigers' four home runs in the regional championship game against VCU tied a season high for homers in a game, set previously in 2001 against Duquesne (February 23), Arizona State (March 3), South Carolina (April 7) and Vanderbilt (April 22).

Tigers Struggle in Close Games

Although LSU fans would have preferred the games not to be so close, the Tigers did manage to win one-run games in the super regional (4-3 over Tulane) and the regional (10-9 over Minnesota). LSU completed the season with a 5-9 mark in one-run games.

LSU finished the year with a 14-8 all-time mark in one-run games in the NCAA Tournament, as the Tigers have won nine of their last 11 outings decided by one run in the NAAs, including a pair of CWS championship game victories over Miami in 1996 and Stanford in 2000.

The Tigers, however, did not post a comeback victory in 2001 when trailing entering the final inning. LSU hasn't done that since a victory in 2000 against South Carolina. The Tigers' last come-from-behind win in an NCAA Tournament game on the final at-bat was, of course, the famous 1996 CWS title game with Miami when Warren Morris delivered his two-out, two-run homer for a 9-8 victory.

Tigers Find "RISP" Groove in NCAA Regional

For much of the regular season, the Tigers struggled to get runners home from scoring position, a key component of a team's ability to score runs and in turn win games. But in the NCAA Baton Rouge Regional, that problem was solved.

In four regional games, the Tigers hit a sterling .415 (17-for-41) with runners in scoring position, and converted 13 of 16 RBI opportunities with a runner at third and less than two outs. The key catalysts came from the heart of the LSU lineup, as Wally Pontiff was 4-for-7 (.571) and Todd Linden was 4-for-8 (.500) with an RBI opportunity on the table.

Producing in the clutch was nothing new for the LSU third baseman, as Pontiff completed the season batting .404 (40-for-99) with runners in scoring position.

As a team, LSU finished the season with a solid .327 RISP average.

Mestepey Named National Co-Freshman of the Year

LSU pitcher Lane Mestepey was named 2001 National Co-Freshman of the Year (with Wake Forest 1B Jamie D'Antona) by Collegiate Baseball magazine. The southpaw from Zachary, La., was also named a third team All-American by Collegiate Baseball, as he was the only Tiger player selected to any of the All-America squads by the Tucson-based publication.

Prior to the SEC Tournament, Mestepey was named the SEC's Freshman of the Year and also earned First-Team All-SEC honors

Mestepey went 11-3 with a 3.75 ERA in 2001, recording 79 strikeouts in 139.1 innings. He turned in a brilliant 10-inning performance in LSU's Super Regional win over Tulane on June 1, limiting the Green Wave to three runs on 11 hits with one walk and six strikeouts. Mestepey fired 153 pitches as LSU finally prevailed, 4-3, in 13 innings.

Mestepey also delivered a gutsy effort

Pitcher Lane Mestepey earned National Co-Freshman of the Year honors from Collegiate Baseball magazine.

May 27 against VCU in the regional championship game. Despite pitching a little more than 48 hours after he threw 106 pitches in 5 2/3 innings against Minnesota, Mestepey came back and threw 6 1/3 innings to help LSU to the victory and the super regional berth. That effort earned the southpaw all-tournament team honors at the Baton Rouge Regional.

Pontiff Finishes On a Tear

LSU third baseman Wally Pontiff earned all-tournament honors at the NCAA Baton Rouge Regional with his solid play, as he batted .316 (6-for-19) with five RBIs to help the Tigers claim the regional title. Pontiff, a 2001 first-team all-SEC selection, proved to be one of the Tigers' leaders down the stretch, as he batted .362 (17-for-47) in post-season games with 10 RBI. He completed the 2001 campaign riding a 14-game hitting streak.

Fontenot, Theriot Complete Outstanding Careers

Second baseman Mike Fontenot and shortstop Ryan Theriot, who were instrumental in LSU's drive to the 2000 NCAA championship, completed their collegiate careers in 2001. Fontenot, a first-round selection of the Baltimore Orioles in the 2001 major league draft, earned first-team all-SEC recognition as he batted .339 (75-for-221) with 14 homers and 50 RBI. Fontenot, the 2000 National Freshman of the Year, finished his two-year career with a .347 average (178-for-513), 26 doubles, 31 homers and 114 RBI.

Fontenot's .347 career batting average ranks No. 9 in the LSU record book.

Theriot, a third-round selection of the Chicago Cubs, was LSU's second-leading hitter in 2001, batting .353 (94-for-266) with 18 doubles, three triples, one homer and 48 RBI. The Baton Rouge native earned second-team all-SEC honors, and he completed his three-year career with a .326 (255-for-783) batting average, 43 doubles, nine triples, five homers, 37 steals and 130 RBI.

Theriot finished his career in the Top 10 in several LSU career categories, including hits (No. 8 - 255), triples (No. 9 - nine) and walks (No. 5 - 157). He also collected 625 career assists, tying Jason Williams (1993-96) for first place in LSU annals.

Shortstop Ryan Theriot was the third-round draft choice of the Chicago Cubs.

Outfielder Todd Linden led LSU in homers (20) and RBI (76).

Second baseman Mike Fontenot received first-team all-SEC recognition.

Linden a Two-Sided Power Hitter

Outfielder Todd Linden, a second-team all-SEC selection, hit a pair of home runs in the NCAA Baton Rouge Regional championship game to help the Tigers subdue Virginia Commonwealth and advance to the Super Regional.

Not only did Linden do the job at the plate, he did the job in the field as well. His running over-the-shoulder catch on a drive by VCU's Nick Jones to end the eighth inning turned momentum in the Tigers' favor, and Linden crushed the Rams' hopes once and for all with a three-run homer in the ninth.

The home runs brought Linden's season total to 20, and it marked the third time in 2001 that the transfer outfielder from Washington hit two home runs in the same game, as he did so at Alabama on April 28 and again at the SEC Tournament against Ole Miss on May 19. Amazingly, in each of the three games in which he homered twice, he hit one home run from each side of the plate, and in each case, he hit the right-handed home run first, then followed it up with another blast from the left side.

Linden completed the season as LSU's home run (20) and RBI (76) leader, and he earned Third-Team All-America recognition from Baseball America.
