The Series

The Commodores, who enter the match 17-3-2, were named SEC Tournament Champions and have spent the year among the country's most dominant defensive sides. Vanderbilt has conceded fewer than a goal per game, only allowing 12 goals throughout the 2025 season, and have recorded double-digit shutouts (13). Offensively, Vanderbilt has scored 47 goals on the year, the second most in the conference behind LSU, and owns the second-most shot attempts with 358. Vanderbilt is ranked No. 8 in the country in the last United Soccer Coaches Poll of the year and No. 4 by Top Drawer Soccer.

NCAA Tournament

The No. 25 nationally ranked LSU Soccer team earned its fifth consecutive NCAA Tournament berth, securing a No. 4 seed placement and earning the opportunity to host first-round action last Friday in Baton Rouge, where they kicked off postseason play with a win in the first round over Houston Christian. The Tigers earned their place in the Sweet Sixteen after a gritty 2-1 win over No. 21 Iowa on Friday afternoon in Nashville. The victory marked LSU's first time advancing past the second round in program history and extended the team's unbeaten streak to 13 matches, during which the Tigers have gone 10-0-3. The win also tied the program record for single-season victories with 15, matching the 2000 and 2009 squads. Monday's matchup marks a chance at redemption and an opportunity to secure the program's first-ever berth in the Elite Eight for LSU as the four-seed taking on the one-seed in Nashville.

Storylines

- The Tigers have secured their fifth consecutive NCAA berth November under Sian Hudson, who has led the Tigers to postseason appearances in five out of six seasons at the helm thus far.
- The Tigers entered the 2025 season No. 11 in the preseason coaches poll and finished the regular season fifth, their highest under Hudson and in school history since 2013.
- LSU is on a program-record 13-match unbeaten streak (10-0-3), having not lost since September 21
- LSU scored their most goals in SEC play since 2011 with 20 and currently lead the league in total goals scored with 54 on the season.
- The Tigers are currently ranked No. 14 by Top Drawer Soccer and sit at No. 25 in the final United Soccer Coaches poll of the year, marking their first appearance in the national rankings since September 2021.
- This year marks LSU's 11th overall appearance in the NCAA Tournament.
- A win on Monday would mark the program's first Elite Eight appearance. LSU already made history with their advancement past the second round for the first time ever.
- LSU is currently 5-9-2 all-time in NCAA Tournament play.

The Matchup

LSU SEC Tournament History

This year marked LSU's 21st overall appearance in the SEC Tournament in program history.

LSU is now 15-13-10 all-time when competing in the tournament after their run to the finals in 2025. The program owns one championship title in 2018.

The Tigers have appeared in the SEC Tournament every year under Hudson.

2025 All-SEC Awards

Five members of the LSU Soccer team were recognized by the SEC as the league announced its 2025 All-SEC postseason awards this week. Galligan was named First Team All-SEC, Hermannsdottir and Cheesman were selected to the Second Team, while Ferguson and Bailey each landed on the Third Team. Bailey was also named to the SEC All-Freshman Team, marking one of only three freshmen league-wide to appear on multiple lists.

This year's honor marked the first in their career for Galligan, Ferguson and Bailey, while it was the second award for Cheesman in her career and third for Hermannsdottir. All voting was conducted by the league's 16 coaches.

A junior from Ashburn, Virginia, Galligan leads the Tigers with eight goals and 19 total points in 18 appearances this season, including a team-high five game-winning goals. The forward has been vital for the LSU offense all year, recording braces in wins over Florida and FGCU. She currently ranks among the league's top scorers with a .195 shot percentage and 41 total shot attempts, with 19 of those being on goal. Her first career placement on the All-SEC First Team comes after earning the final SEC Offensive Player of the Week honor of the regular season on Monday.

Hermannsdottir, a consistent force in the midfield, earned Second Team honors after totaling six goals and five assists across 18 starts. The Iceland native converted three of four penalty kicks on the season and logged a .625 shots-on-goal percentage, ranking second on the team in both goals and total points (17). She currently sits in the top-10 all-time in LSU Soccer history with the most career goals (25).

It is the second All-SEC honor for Cheesman this year, a senior defender from Lafayette, Colorado. Cheesman is one of the anchors of the back line, starting in 16 of 18 games in 2025. The LSU defense allowed just 1.06 goals per game and helped record five shutouts in 18 matches thanks to the efforts of Cheesman, while also tallying one goal and two assists this year. Her one goal came in a massive strike from distance in the Tigers' road win at Auburn.

Ferguson serves as another vital piece to the LSU back line, as her and Cheesman make up the Tigers centre back duo over the last two years. The senior captain from Conyers, Georgia, has started in all 18 matches and recorded a team-high 1,588 minutes. Ferguson has contributed on both ends of the field this year, tallying two goals and two assists, highlighted by a goal in the squad's 4-1 win over Texas A&M on October 10.

Bailey has made an immediate impact in her debut season in Baton Rouge, earning Third Team All-SEC and All-Freshman honors in her first year. The forward is currently tied for second on the team with six goals and six assists for 18 points, registering multi-goal performances against Texas A&M and contributing in eight different scoring matches.

SEC Tournament Recap

The Tigers made a run back to SEC Tournament Championship match for the first time since 2018 this year, marking their third championship appearance in program history (2009, 2018, 2025), and first for Head Coach Sian Hudson in her sixth season at the helm.

Five-seed LSU collected wins over Auburn (3-2), No. 14 Tennessee (2-0), and Mississippi State (3-1) in Pensacola before battling No. 8 Vanderbilt to a 1-1 draw in the final that was decided on penalty kicks.

Galligan tallied her 10th goal of the season against Mississippi State to become the first LSU player since 2016 to reach double digits in goals in a single season. Hermannsdottir's eighth goal of the year tied her career-high in a single season set in 2024, while Bailey's header marked her seventh of her freshman campaign. Graduate student Morgan Witz is another piece of the LSU attack who was crucial for the squad in Pensacola, scoring two goals in the Tigers first two matches to help lead her team to the finals. LSU led the tournament with most goals scored (9) in four games, while Galligan, Hermannsdottir and Witz have the most goals by a single player in the tournament this year with two each.

LSU also led the tournament in assists (10) as Bailey and Hermannsdottir tallied two each at the beach. Defensively, LSU had been equally resilient, anchored by the backline of captains Jazmin Ferguson and Kelsey Major and seniors Sydney Cheesman and Jocelyn Ollivierre, who conceded just four goals throughout the tournament. The Tigers' collective composure and structure had been key throughout the tournament, even earning a clean sheet in the quarterfinals against Tennessee.

Ferguson led the squad in action, playing every minute of every match in Pensacola.

2025 All-Tournament Team

LSU Soccer's Jazmin Ferguson, Gabbi Ceballos, and Ava Galligan were each named to the 2025 SEC All-Tournament Team following Sunday's championship match. The trio played key roles in leading the Tigers on a memorable tournament run that ended with a berth in the SEC Championship match for the first time since 2018.

Galligan was an attacking force throughout the tournament, recording two goals and one assist across LSU's four matches. The junior forward was one of six players to lead the tournament in goals across all matches, finding the net in back-to-back wins over Auburn and Mississippi State. She finished the week with 13 shots, six on target, and 280 minutes.

Ceballos not only held down the midfield, but also made her impact in crucial moments, scoring the Tigers' lone goal in the 1-1 draw against Vanderbilt in the championship match. The junior midfielder also tallied an assist in LSU's opening-round win over Auburn, finishing the tournament with one goal and one assist while logging 345 minutes of action.

Ferguson anchored LSU's back line, playing all 380 minutes across the four games and contributing both defensively and in transition. The senior center back tallied an assist in the Tigers' first-round win against Auburn and helped limit opponents to just four goals over the entire tournament, including one shutout.

Together, Ferguson, Ceballos, and Galligan helped propel five-seed LSU (3-0-1 in the tournament) to victories over Auburn (12), Tennessee (4), and Mississippi State (8) before battling Vanderbilt (2) to a draw in the title match. Their leadership and consistent performances were central to LSU's deep run in the tournament and recognized them among the SEC's best.

Tigers in the Rankings

The LSU Soccer program returned to the national rankings for the first time in four seasons on November 4th. The Tigers entered the polls ranked No. 23 by Top Drawer Soccer and No. 25 by United Soccer Coaches, marking their first appearance in the national rankings since September 2021. The rankings mark LSU's first appearance in the TopDrawerSoccer poll since 2018 and its first United Soccer Coaches top-25 ranking since 2021. The last time LSU appeared in the national polls, they were ranked No. 18 by Top Drawer Soccer and No. 24 by United Soccer Coaches.

Throughout the 2025 season, the Tigers have earned multiple results against nationally respected opponents and have positioned themselves amongst the top of the Southeastern Conference (SEC). LSU earned their highest finish in the SEC under Head Coach Sian Hudson this year (fifth), while also tallying their highest finish since 2013 when the conference moved to overall standings.

The Tigers currently sit No. 14 in the country by Top Drawer Soccer.

2025 NCAA Tournament

The No. 25 nationally ranked LSU Soccer team earned its fifth consecutive NCAA Tournament berth, securing a No. 4 seed placement and the opportunity to host first-round action in Baton Rouge. [4] LSU kicked off the NCAA postseason against Houston Christian in the first round on Friday, November 14 inside the LSU Soccer Stadium.

The Tigers' postseason berth came on the heels of an impressive run in the SEC Tournament, where LSU advanced to the championship match for the first time since 2018. It was the third SEC Championship appearance in program history and the first under Head Coach Sian Hudson, who has guided LSU to five straight NCAA Tournament appearances since taking over the program in 2020.

The field of 64 teams was announced by the NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Committee. 30 conferences were granted automatic bids for the 2025 championship, while the remaining 34 teams were selected at-large by the Division I Women's Soccer Committee. LSU was one of 16 teams to earn a seed (4), matching their highest seed placement in the national tournament since 2009.

First round action began on Friday, Nov. 14 through Sunday, Nov. 16, while the second/third rounds were held this weekend on November 20 and 23, and quarterfinals are set for November 28 or 29.

The 44th annual NCAA Women's College Cup will be played Dec. 5 and 8 at CPKC Stadium in Kansas City, Missouri with the University of Kansas and Kansas City Sports Commission serving as hosts. The first national semifinal will be played and broadcast live on ESPNU at 5 p.m. CT on Friday, Dec. 5, followed by the second semifinal beginning at approximately 7:45 p.m. CT live on ESPNU. The national championship match will take place at 6 p.m. CT on Monday, Dec. 8 and will also broadcast live on ESPNU.

The Tigers entered the NCAA Tournament with a 13-5-3 overall record.

The NCAA berth solidifies LSU's position among the nation's top programs as the Tigers continue to rise under Hudson's leadership. LSU returned to the national rankings earlier this month, entering at No. 23 in the Top Drawer Soccer poll and No. 25 in the United Soccer Coaches rankings — its first national recognition since 2021 and first Top Drawer Soccer appearance since 2018.

LSU made its NCAA Tournament debut in 2007 and have since established themselves as a consistent postseason contender. The 2025 selection marks LSU's 11th all-time appearance in the NCAA Tournament and the fifth straight under head coach Sian Hudson, the longest streak by a coach in LSU Soccer history. Prior to that, the longest streak of postseason appearances came in 2007-2009 under former head coach Brian Lee.

The Tigers have now hosted first-round action five times in program history after this year's first round action at home. Before that, the last time was in 2022 against Lamar as an eight-seed. That same year was the last time the Tigers advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament against No. 1 Florida State.

2025 Season

LSU entered the NCAA postseason playing its best soccer of the year, riding three SEC Tournament wins and a run to the SEC Championship match, a return to the national rankings and a surge to No. 14 in the RPI—the third-highest mark in the SEC behind only Vanderbilt (4) and Tennessee (9). The Tigers were one of eight SEC programs to rank inside the Top 40 RPI, underscoring the league's national strength entering tournament play.

The Tigers have secured their best season under Hudson with a current record of 15-5-4. The squad concluded the regular season on October 26 with a win over Florida, securing a fifth place finish in the SEC, their highest under Sian Hudson. The Tigers finished the regular season with a 10-5-3 overall record, a 5-2-3 mark in SEC play and a home record of 6-1-1 in 2025.

LSU's 50 goals this season rank 10th nationally, with 13 different Tigers contributing to the scoring effort. Junior forward Ava Galligan leads the team with 11 goals, while senior Ida Hermansdóttir follows with 10. Freshman standout Sariyah Bailey also has nine on the year. Together, the trio has combined for 30 goals and 21 assists.

Hermansdóttir joined Galligan with double digit goal tallies, the first time that LSU has had multiple double-digit goalscorers since the 2009 season (Malorie Rutledge - 13, Melissa Clarke - 12).

Other contributors on the year Morgan Witz with five goals, Gabbi Ceballos with four, Jazmin Ferguson, Amy Smith and Gadea Blanco Gonzalez all with two each, while Sydney Cheesman, Kelsey Major, Senai Rogers, Ryann Denecour and Daniela Hellin have tallied one for the Tigers.

Defensively, captains Jazmin Ferguson and Kelsey Major anchor a veteran back line that has held opponents to 25 goals all season. Goalkeepers Sophine Kevorkian and Audur Scheving have combined for six shutouts and 74 saves, giving LSU consistency and depth in the final line of defense.

LSU has consistently placed among the top of the SEC statistically all year, currently leading the league in goals (52), assists (41), points (145) and goals per game, averaging 2.17. The Tigers also sit in the top-five in the shots with 327 total on the year.

Sophine Kevorkian and Audi Scheving have split time as keeper for LSU this year, both finding their own success in between the posts. Kevorkian has appeared in 12 matches for the Tigers this year, tallying a 1.23 goals-against average (GA AVG), 38 saves and three shutouts. Scheving started in the squad's last five matches and owns three clean sheets and a GAAVG of 0.83.

Ferguson, Hermansdóttir, Ollivierre and Major are the only Tigers to earn the start in all 24 matches for LSU thus far.

Sian Hudson

HEAD COACH • 6th Season

Sian (pronounced SHAWN) Hudson was named LSU's head coach on December 11, 2019. Since that date, she's helped take LSU to places it's never been before. A No. 5 national ranking in the fall of 2021, the highest in program history, and she's already amassed five wins over nationally ranked teams. In only her third season as head coach of the Fighting Tigers, Hudson led her squad to the program's eighth NCAA Tournament appearance in 2022 and marked the second postseason appearance in her LSU career. The Tigers' first round win over Lamar on November 11 marked Hudson's first victory in the NCAA Tournament. Hudson recorded the program's 13th ten-win season with an overall record of 10-4-7 in 2022. The Tigers shutout five opponents and recorded a draw against three ranked opponents.

Now entering her sixth season at the helm of the LSU Soccer program, Hudson will look to lead the Tigers to their fifth consecutive postseason appearance in the NCAA Tournament. This streak is the longest by any coach in program history.

Hudson and the LSU Soccer program invest in developing their players. In her time as head coach, Hudson has had six players take their talents to the next level. Shannon Cooke, Lindsy Jennings, Alesia Garcia, Brenna McPartlan, Tinaya Alexander and Athene Kuehn were coached and developed by Hudson and are now playing professionally across the world.

In five years, Hudson and the Tigers have shattered LSU Soccer Stadium attendance records. Two of the program's top ten all-time largest crowds were under Hudson as LSU continues to be one of the top program's nationally with fan attendance, earning Top 15 status in 2021. The 2021 fall season started off about as good as it could have with the Tigers winning eight straight under the direction of Hudson. Included in those eight straight wins were triumphs over three ranked squads – No. 15 USF, No. 19 UCF, and No. 21 Arizona State. Pair those eight wins with the final three from the spring season of 2021 and LSU had won a program record 11 straight games.

The LSU Soccer Stadium has welcomed three of the program's top-10 largest crowds in total thanks to Hudson's efforts.

LSU tallied a total of four ranked wins during the 2021 season. The aforementioned three above in an 11-day span from late August to early September, and then the biggest one of them all came in the regular season finale against No. 4 Arkansas. With LSU's season on the line, the Tigers came out with a fiery passion under Hudson on Oct. 28, 2021, as the Tigers handed the Razorbacks their first and only loss of the conference regular season with a 4-2 victory. The win solidified LSU's positioning in the SEC and NCAA Tournament and was the highest ranked win in program history.

LSU scored 40 goals on the season while only conceding 25 times in 2021; that goal differential of 15 was the highest for the program since 2009. The 40 goals were the most in program history since 2009 as well. Fourteen different players factored into the scoresheet with goals to match the program record for most individual goals scorers in a single season.

Only three months into her gig at the helm of LSU soccer in March of 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic struck and halted all of collegiate athletics, but Hudson didn't let that deter her. Fast forward five months and the LSU soccer team returned to campus and began practice for the 2020-21 season, its first under Hudson. Hudson's first win of her LSU career came on November 13, 2020, as the Tigers shutout Alabama for a 2-0 win over Alabama in the first round of the SEC Tournament in Orange Beach, Alabama. The Tigers followed that up with a 2-1 win over No. 14 Ole Miss two days later to advance to the SEC quarterfinals in their first SEC Tournament appearance under Hudson's reign.

The 2020-21 season featured fall and spring games counted towards LSU's team record and Hudson made the most of the spring with her team. She led her squad to a record of 6-1-1 in the spring of 2021 and the level of expectation within the program has risen heading into the fall of 2021. The Tigers ended the 2020-21 season with an RPI of 54.

Hudson came to LSU with nearly 20 years of coaching experience. She came to Baton Rouge after serving as the head coach at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs for the past three seasons. During her time as head coach at UCCS, Hudson led the Mountain Lions to a 52-10-4 record. Each of those three seasons saw UCCS qualify for the NCAA Tournament, the first three appearances in school history, including a run to the national semifinals in 2017. Her win totals in each of the three seasons – 17 in 2017, 16 in 2018, and 19 in 2019 – were the three winningest seasons in program history.

Hudson earned her bachelor's in Sports Coaching Science, majoring in sport psychology from Cardiff Metropolitan University in 2002. She's graduated with her master's degree in sports coaching from the University of Denver in May of 2020.

The LSU Soccer Stadium saw the 2007 and 2015 seasons standing out the most with unbeaten records on the home pitch. 2007 saw the Tigers go 5-0-3 and 2015's unbeaten record at home was 8-0-4.

The impressive run with an unbeaten 5-0-3 home slate in 2007 was followed by an impressive 8-1 campaign in 2008, a 7-1-2 season in 2009, a 6-2-1 mark in 2010 and a stellar 7-1-1 season in 2011. While winning four SEC Western Division championships and making four trips to the NCAA Tournament from 2007-11, the Tigers posted a 33-5-7 record with a .811 winning percentage. They most recently finished the 2015 season unbeaten at home with an 8-0-4 mark in 12 matches played in Baton Rouge.

In fact, LSU's home performance is highlighted by a school record 18-game home unbeaten streak that came to an end on Oct. 26, 2008, with a 2-1 defeat to the No. 6-ranked Florida Gators.

2022 marked the 27th season in the life of the LSU Soccer Stadium, which was first opened on Sept. 13, 1996, when the Tigers hosted SEC rival Tennessee.

The 2021 season saw multiple record breaking moments for the Tigers. LSU had the longest winning streak in the program with eight straight victories. The soccer stadium also saw a record breaking attendance in the 2021 season. In the Tigers match against Mississippi State on September 17, a crowd of 3,021 people showed out to watch the Tigers defeat the Bulldogs 2-0 at home. The attendance marked the highest in program history. LSU averaged 1,334 fans per home match during the 2021 season to set the program record, and that average ranked as the 12th highest in the nation.

In 2022, Hudson drew in the sixth largest crowd in program history against Missouri with 2,004 fans on September 22.

This year, Hudson and the Tigers continued to shatter LSU Soccer Stadium attendance records as they welcomed another Top-10 crowd in program history in a conference matchup against Florida.
