On The Break

- No. 7 LSU and Tennessee will be playing in women's basketball for the 75th all-time meeting Thursday night at the Maravich Center. The Tigers and Lady Vols will battle on ESPN with Ryan Ruocco (pxp), Rebecca Lobo (analyst) and Holly Rowe (reporter) on the call. In 74 games played, Tennessee leads the series, 53-21, but LSU has won the last 6 of 8 including the last three against the Lady Vols dating back to Feb. 13, 2020. LSU is looking to continue its longest winning streak versus Tennessee as the Tiger program has never defeated the Lady Vols four games in a row. When both teams play in Baton Rouge, LSU is 11-16. Under Coach Kim Mulkey, the Tigers are 5-1 against Tennessee.
- Going into the Tennessee game, junior guard Mikaylah Williams has 1,492 career points at LSU. Needing 8 points to eclipse 1,500 points in her collegiate career, Williams would become the 17th LSU player to surpass that milestone while in Baton Rouge. This season, Williams has continued to display her pure scoring ability with 360 points (12.9 average). In other statistical categories at LSU, Williams ranks 15th in assists (324) and 6th in three-pointers made (160).
- Junior MiLaysia Fulwiley ranks 1st in the SEC and 9th nationally in steals with 89. LSU's single season leader in steals, Raigyne Moncrief Louis finished the 2016-17 season with 107 steals in 32 games played. With four steals against No. 3 South Carolina, Fulwiley jumped into the all-time top-10 at LSU for steals in a season, currently ranking 7th among LSU players.
- After eclipsing 1,900 points against No. 4 Texas and becoming the 7th LSU Tiger to eclipse that milestone, senior guard Flau'jae Johnson inches closer to the 2,000 point mark. With 1,900 points, Johnson joined the likes of Joyce Walker (2,906), Seimone Augustus (2,702), Julie Gross (2,488), Cornelia Gayden (2,451), Sylvia Fowles (2,234) and Khayla Pointer (1,934). Johnson is 35 points away from joining five LSU legends as 2,000 point scorers. Johnson ranks 12th among active D1 players in points scored with 1,965.
- Through 28 games, LSU has averaged 95.5 points per game, which leads the nation. That mark would break the SEC record in scoring average set by Georgia in 1986 (32 games; 2,855 points, 89.2 average). The Tigers through its 28 contests have scored 2,673 points.
- Junior guard MiLaysia Fulwiley earned her first career double-double and paced LSU to a 108-55 victory over the Missouri Tigers with 22 points. With Fulwiley's 22 points and second-straight 20-point performance, she also grabbed 11 rebounds and collected her first career double-double in doing so. She also tallied four assists, two steals, and three blocks. Fulwiley's offensive outing was impressive going 7-of-11 from the field, 6-of-9 from behind the arc and 2-2 from the charity stripe. The six three-pointers was a career high for the first-year LSU player.
- In addition to junior MiLaysia Fulwiley's six treys vs. Missouri, LSU drained six more on the afternoon for 12 total, which was the second most in program history (13 vs. Missouri on 1/16/2014).
- LSU's record-setting day wasn't over against Missouri in the Maravich Center as the Tigers brought down 72 boards, marking the most by an LSU team in the NCAA women's basketball championship era (1982-present). The home Tigers outrebounded the visitors by 47 (72-25).
- LSU's final two game stretch in SEC play includes one road game (Mississippi State) and one home game (Tennessee). In the current AP Top 25, one teams are ranked.
- LSU leads the country in 3 statistical categories: bench points per game (39.7), rebound margin (19.1), and scoring offense (95.5).

Both Johnson and Besselman brought home LSU's first national championship in 2023 and have been members of the program for 120 wins and plenty of postseason success as LSU has been in at least the Elite Eight since their freshman season. Joyner came to LSU as one of the nation's best rebounders and has continued to display that skill in Baton Rouge with a team-leading 211 boards. Joyner, also known as "Myrmy" has been one of the many personalities on this year's squad that has shined through during her time as a Tiger.

LSU vs. Tennessee

Kim Mulkey Is A Champion

Kim Mulkey

In four seasons since returning to Louisiana, Kim Mulkey has brought LSU back to national prominence as one of the premier programs in the country.

Mulkey and the Tigers have recorded three consecutive 30-win seasons and three straight Elite Eight appearances, including the National Championship in 2023. It has become one of the most exciting programs across America, with top notch attendance records, driven by an energetic fan base.

Less than two years after Mulkey returned to Louisiana to do good and be a positive figure in her home state as the head coach for the LSU Women's Basketball team, the Hall-of-Famer Mulkey delivered the program's first National Championship to Baton Rouge in 2023.

The Tigers were dominant en route to their first national championship, compiling a 34-2 record, including a perfect 17-0 record at home in the PMAC. LSU defeated Iowa in Dallas for the national championship, 102-85, setting the record for points in a championship game. The championship game drew 9.9 million viewers across ABC and ESPN networks to set the record for the most watched women's college basketball game of all-time.

The Tigers averaged 82.3 points per game throughout the championship season to rank No. 5 in the nation. Scoring 100 points in each of the first five games of the season, LSU tied the NCAA record. The only other team to score 100+ points in five straight games was the 1981-82 Louisiana Tech team that featured Mulkey leading the team as the point guard. LSU set the program record for 100-point games in a season with their sixth in the final game of the season.

Mulkey, the most successful player-turned-coach in college basketball history, was named head coach of the LSU women's basketball team on April 25, 2021.

It did not take Coach Mulkey long to have success at LSU, winning the AP National Coach of the Year award after leading the greatest turnaround in SEC history by a first-year head coach. Coach Mulkey joined Geno Auriemma and Muffet McGraw as the only coaches to earn the AP Coach of the Year award three times. Taking over a team that had won nine games the previous season, Mulkey's first LSU team finished 26-6, in second place in the SEC and the Tigers hosted first- and second-round games in the NCAA Tournament as a No. 3 seed.

Mulkey, who also won an Olympic Gold Medal in 1984, is the only person in college basketball history – men's or women's – to win national championships as a head coach, assistant coach and a player. She's one of just three coaches (Bobby Knight and Dean Smith) in college basketball history to win national titles as a player and a coach.

A native of Tickfaw, La., Mulkey came to Baton Rouge as the most accomplished head coaching hire in LSU history. She returned to Louisiana as a six-time national champion and nine-time Hall of Famer and most recently was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in May of 2021.
