AWARD MESSAGE

Through the past year this amazing group of Software Engineers have dedicated a lot of effort working close to our DDS Lead Architect (Chris Odom) to get the DevOps Assessment Dashboard (DaD) scores very high at 95%~100%. Over the time, with new DevOps Blueprint V3 updates and other tool changes (Snyk replacing Black Duck, for example) our scores fluctuated down for a while until they did it again. The DDS Website has a much more complex architecture and is an actual end to end Application while the DDS code libraries (DataVis, Vanilla, Angular, and React) need special pipeline jobs given the unique way they deploy to Akamai and Artifactory. In both cases the team collaborated with each other, including an amazing knowledge transfer between the Website team members (Laura and Isabella) to the Vanilla team; and also from the Frameworks leader (Igor) to the other code libraries' teams (Angular, React, and DDV). All this hard work, navigating through uncertainties with customized needs given the complex architecture of each application resulted on a fantastic score improvement with a solid maintainability conquered which will hopefully mean a stable high score on compliance and standard. Congratulations for your hard work on this, keep on rocking!
