

Art Gallery | a cryptic puzzle by Emily Cox & Henry Rathvon

Each numbered row and column in the puzzle comprises two words clued in order. In the finished grid, take the letters directly above, below, and to the sides of each empty square (four letters in all), and anagram them with a fifth letter to make the surname of a famous artist. In each case, put that fifth letter in the empty square. Art will be created by these nine letters.
