

CATALOGUE

Les Éditions Lunii, Lunii's publishing house, offers a catalogue of stories to help develop auditory memory, enrich the imagination, culture and vocabulary. We want to offer children an immersive audio journey thanks to our authors, translators, actors, sound engineers and sound designers.

We offer diverse content, both original and in partnership:

Incredible adventures, childhood nursery rhymes, fantastical stories, everyday stories, historical stories, fun quizzes, stories that take you traveling to real or imaginary countries, stories about little girls, little boys or animals, life stories...

We believe that children develop through learning, through curiosity and through access to diverse content to enrich their own critical apparatus.

Available in seven languages, the Lunii catalogue extends its creative approach across borders, promoting French artists abroad, and working with internationally renowned authors in each language.

Authors

Muriel Bloch

A storyteller for over thirty years, Muriel Bloch has published around forty books, most of them in the storytelling genre. She likes to combine music with stories, and regularly collaborates with musicians to accompany her texts.

Nadine Brun-Cosme

With over thirty years specializing in children's literature, Nadine writes novels and books, as well as plays. The author of Grand Loup & Petit Loup [Big Wolf & Little Wolf], she has now turned her hand to writing gentle, poetic stories for Les Éditions Lunii.

Davide Cali

A prolific author, Davide Cali has written over 60 books. His amusing, offbeat stories have wowed various publishers, and for good reason. Les Éditions Lunii is publishing the adventures of Pandaroux, a funny and very flamboyant superhero!

Ingrid Chabbert

Ingrid published her first children's book, La Fête des deux mamans in 2010. Today she has more than 100 books to her name. By adapting texts into graphic novels, such as En attendant Bojangles, she has recently added a new string to her bow.

Monica Clark-Robinson

Monica Clark-Robinson is a writer, an actress, an educator and a children's librarian. She strongly believes that the right book, at the right time, can change a child's life. Her debut picture book, Let the Children March, was published by Houghton Mifflin Harcourt in January 2018.

Vincent Cuvellier

From books to documentaries, graphic novels to musical shows, Vincent has many works under his belt. Author of the Émile series for the publisher Gallimard Jeunesse, or recently Les Jours pairs [Even Days] for Hélium, he artfully demonstrates his love of words.

Lena Hach

Lena attended clown school and studied English, German and literary creation. After working as a journalist, she devoted herself to children's and YA literature. She has since published numerous works, some of which have been awarded various prizes.

Romain Lesiuk

With a boundless imagination that takes us to fantastic and amazing worlds, Romain has been a Lunii author from the very beginning. We grow and evolve together as we collaborate on projects.

77

Authors

Susanna Mattiangeli

Susanna Mattiangeli lives in Rome where she has written over fifteen books for children. She received the Andersen Award 2018 for her work, and she continues to write, with poetry and gentleness.

Christophe Nicolas

Author of the graphic novel Tétine Man [Dummy Man] published by Didier Jeunesse and the collection of early reading books L'Apprenti chevalier [The Apprentice Knight] published by Nathan, Christophe has a real way with words. Humour and irony are his hallmark.

Pino Pace

Pino Pace has published more than 30 books for children, teens and adults. His book Bestiacce! is being adapted into a cartoon. He teaches writing courses and directs the Matota youth literary festival in Turin.

Juliette Saumande

Juliette Saumande is an author and translator. Living in Dublin, she has written more than 40 books for children, in both English and French. The album The Wanderly Tales was the first original English language album made available on the LuniistoreTM.

Christiana Hills

Christiana Hills is an American literary translator. She has translated the novels One Hundred Twenty-One Days [Cent vingt et un jours] by Michèle Audin (Deep Vellum, 2016), which was longlisted for the Pen Translation Prize, and Hunting Party [Une partie de chasse] by Agnès Desarthe (Unnamed Press. 2018).

Sam Gordon

A partner of Lunii Publishing since our very first forays into the international sphere, Sam Gordon has translated all of our stories into British English. He is, most notably, the translator of Timothée de Fombelle's works, and also translated the novel Arab Jazz by Karim Miské (MacLehose Press, 2015).

Francesca Martino

Francesca Martino studied literature and languages at the University of Florence then went on to specialize in translation at University of Paris 8. She has been translating since 2010 and has been working with Les Éditions Lunii since their first projects in Italian.

Maria Hoffmann-Dartevelle

A German translator who has been with Les Éditions Lunii for a while, Maria Hoffmann-Dartevelle glides through the world of children's publishing like a fish through water. The finesse of her language, and her in-depth knowledge of the publishing house's world and concepts make her an essential figure in the catalogue.

Voice Actors

Benoît Allemane

An actor specialized in dubbing, he is best known as the French voice of Morgan Freeman. For the little ones, he has played various Santas, as well as Foghorn Leghorn in Looney Tunes.

Maximilian Artajo

Maximilian has dubbed characters in many TV series, films, video games and radio plays. In 2002 he won the German Dubbing Awards for his performance in Der kleine Eisbär. He has already recorded several audio books for children and teens, for different publishers.

Paul Bandey

Born in London, British actor Paul Bandey trained as an actor at the famous Bristol Old Vic Theatre School. Living for years in Paris, he has an extensive CV of roles in theatre, and on the big and small screen. He also works in all fields of voice acting.

Xavier Béjà

Trained at the French national drama academy in Paris, Xavier has received the Audience Audio Book Award in 2012 for Le Rire, essai sur la signification du comique [Laughter, an essay on the meaning of the comic] by Henri Bergson, and in 2016 for L'Appel de Cthulhu [The Call of Cthulhu] by H.P. Lovecraft.

Jenny Bryce

After an early start in TV, film and theatre, Jenny has become one of London's hardest working voice over actors, from animation to dubbing on blockbusters, documentaries, audio books and commercials. She's also recorded a children's songs album which was voted Britain's most popular preschool activity.

Luis Carreño

A graduate of the Central University of Venezuela, Luis Carreño now lives in Miami. The official voice of SpongeBob in Spanish for Latina America for over 16 years, he also does voice-over for numerous TV programs in the United States, in particular for A+E Network

Mathieu Carrière

Mathieu Carrière is a regular on German and French TV and in films. He has, over the course of his career, acted in over two hundred films. French-speaking and a Francophile, he lives between Germany and France, and has been wiring novels for some years.

Emmanuel Curtil

Specialized in dubbing, Emmanuel is notably the French voice of Jim Carey, Doug Savant, Matthew Perry and Sacha Baron Cohen. He has voiced numerous animated characters such as Simba in The Lion King's French version, and Dimitri in Anastasia.

81

Voice actors

Léa Drucker

Winner of the Cesar Award for Best Actress, and nominated for the Molière Award, Léa Drucker has now extended her skills to audio books. She narrated Lettre d'une inconnue [Letter from an Unknown Woman] by Stefan Zweig, and now tells our stories with sweetness and tenderness, showcasing our Super-Mummies.

Elodie Fondacci

Culture journalist and host on French radio station 'Radio Classique' since 2005, Elodie created the programme Des Histoires en Musique [Stories in Music] in 2009. She tells stories about the most beautiful music in the repertoire, to help children fall asleep and enchant those who remain awake.

Mélanie Fouché

In recent years, Mélanie Fouché has appeared in various films for television and cinema, and works as a voiceover artist for radio plays, documentaries and advertisements for radio and television. She is the voice of Lunii's first original German album, Im Wald.

82

Christopher Gebauer

Christopher Gebauer grew up in New York where he now lives. A graduate of the prestigious NYU Tisch School of the Arts in 2012, Christopher divides his time between theatre and film acting, and has recently narrated audio books, such as the Diary of an Awesome Friendly Kid by Jeff Kinney.

Voice actors

David Holt

David Holt studied theatre arts at the Birmingham School of Speech and Drama and then moved to London to pursue a career as an actor in TV, film, theatre, radio, and as a voice artist. He is renowned for his animation voice work, having appeared in over 90 animated series.

EmmyLou Homs

Passionate about dubbing, EmmyLou has played many characters in animated films and series and has become the official French voice of Princess Anna, heroine of the hit Disney film Frozen.

Julian Horeyseck

After finishing his actor training at the Schauspielstudio Frese in Hamburg, Julian did theatre roles for many years before devoting himself entirely to voicework. He now does voiceover work for audiobooks, radio plays and dubbing.

Fily Keita

With a desire to walk the boards, Fily originally trained in theatre. Her voice acting work includes dubbing, and voice-over for children's content. In particular, she was the voice of the timeless Martine, but also Clover, the intrepid spy from Totally Spies!
