Breakout Session

EVANGULA BESS

Evangula Bess embodies the spirit of empowerment as a devoted wife and mother of five. As the Chief Executive Officer of Genesis A & E, a faith-based nonprofit organization (501(c)(3)), she is passionately dedicated to uplifting women through mentorship, leadership development, education, and spiritual growth.

Driven by a deep passion for helping others, Evangula Bess is dedicated to empowering women to discover their God-given purpose, boost their confidence, and pursue personal and professional growth. Her initiatives aim to create dynamic opportunities for women to thrive through mentoring relationships, workshops, community engagement, and biblical instruction.

Evangula holds a Master of Religious Education in Theology from Liberty University. This academic background, combined with her extensive experience in business and nonprofit leadership, uniquely positions her to lead programs that address the specific challenges women face in contemporary society.

Guided by her faith and a steadfast commitment to service, Evangula Bess has a significant impact on individuals' lives by helping women recognize their inherent worth, strengthen their faith, and pursue a future filled with hope and purpose.
