15:50 – Opportunities in Offshore Wind

Offshore wind has become one of the leading industries in the efforts towards decarbonisation. In Asia, Europe and the US the demand is enormous and the supply of suitable offshore vessels is lacking. Where is the opportunity right now and what financing options are available.

Ian Oxford, Chief Financial Officer, HST Marine

Interviewed By: Hoyoon Nam, Partner, Seward & Kissel

16:10 – The Challenge of Green Compliance

Davide Lajolo, CCO, Avantis

16:25 – Implementing the Energy Transition & The Future of Oil

There is no doubt that the world, and for its part the shipping industry, is making huge strides towards a greener future. But recent geopolitical situations have given oil a reprieve such that there is now increased interest in all aspects of energy generation, both hydrocarbons and all other alternatives. What does the next 5 – 10 years hold in store? Which is the best energy path to tread?
