Our annual Marine Money China Ship Finance Forum, held in Shanghai, has been a bridge between Chinese finance and global shipping from its humble beginnings to the powerhouse Chinese shipping finance represents today.

This one-day event brings together China's largest shipping finance houses, China's leading shipping and shipbuilding businesses and hundreds of international shipping and shipping finance professionals who are actively growing their businesses in China.

As China's largest international shipping finance conference, this is the go-to conference for relationship building, industry insight and access to China's vibrant and growing shipping markets.
