10:35 When Artificial Intelligence Meets The Shipping Man

Artificial Intelligence has taken the world by storm, promising great bounties or gloom and doom depending on which side you're hearing from. Can these tools actually help us navigate the uncertainty of the maritime industry to propel ship finance and shipping Capital Markets? What can we do with off-the-shelf models, and what are the possibilities when we combine these with proprietary data?

Evangelos L. Efstathiou, CEO, Marsoft BV LLC

10:50 The Product Tanker Market Today

MR spot freight rates have never started the year stronger. The extraordinary situation in the Middle East prompted tankers that typically do 30-day voyages to do 100+ days. How does this and global inventory re-stocking impact investment decisions, and for how long can this unprecedented upcycle last?
