FELLOWSHIP IN PEDIATRICS

The Fellowship in Pediatrics is a course designed for medical graduates working in pediatric units and looking to augment their knowledge and skills in managing treatments for infants and children.

The Fellowship program certified by Apollo Hospitals Educational and Research Foundation (AHERF) and Medvarsity Online Limited is uniquely poised covering the broad range of basic, transitional and clinical science related to children's health. It also includes significant modules on infectious diseases, vaccines, developmental immunology and hematology, neuroscience, and gastroenterology.

In addition to providing an understanding of evidence-based diagnostics and treatment plans for children, the course will improve your ability to handle cases in a clinical setting confidently.
