

Centennial Dog Bite Lawyer FAQ

Your questions answered about dog bite incidents in Centennial.

Based on Centennial Dog Bite Lawyer by McCormick and Murphy

Q: What should I do immediately after a dog bite?

A: Seek medical attention right away, even if the wound seems minor. A doctor will clean the wound, check for infection, give necessary shots, and document your injury.

Q: What information should I get from the dog owner?

A: You should get the dog owner's contact information. It's also important to verify the dog's rabies vaccination status.

Q: Should I take pictures after a dog bite?

A: Yes, you should photograph your injuries. Also, take pictures of the location where the attack occurred.

Q: Who should I report the dog bite to?

A: You should report the bite to Arapahoe County Animal Control.

Q: What kind of documentation should I keep?

A: Keep all medical records and bills related to your injury. Also, keep any documentation proving missed work or school.

Q: Why is seeing a doctor important after a dog bite?

A: A doctor will clean the wound, assess the risk of infection, administer any necessary vaccinations, and create an official record of your injury.

Q: Is it important to know if the dog was vaccinated?

A: Yes, verifying the dog's rabies vaccination status is important after a bite incident.

Q: What if the dog bite seems minor, should I still see a doctor?

A: Yes, you should seek medical attention immediately, even if the wound appears minor. A doctor can properly assess and treat the injury.

Q: Besides medical records, what else should I document?

A: You should document any time you miss from work or school as a result of the dog bite injury.

Q: Where is Arapahoe County Animal Control located?

A: The article states to report the bite to Arapahoe County Animal Control, but does not provide specific location details.
