

Florence Slip and Fall Accident FAQ

Answers to common questions about slip and fall accidents in Florence, Colorado.

Based on Florence Slip And Fall Accident by McCormick and Murphy

Q: What should I do immediately after a slip and fall accident?

A: Seek medical attention even if your injuries seem minor, as some injuries worsen over time or don't show symptoms immediately. Report the accident to the property owner or manager and ask them to document it. If possible, take photos of the hazard, the surrounding area, and your injuries. Get witness contact information.

Q: Why is it important to see a doctor after a slip and fall?

A: Some injuries that result from a slip and fall accident may worsen over time or not show symptoms immediately. Seeing a doctor ensures these potential issues are identified and treated promptly.

Q: Should I report the slip and fall to the property owner?

A: Yes, you should report the accident to the property owner or manager. Request that they document the incident in an official incident report.

Q: Is it important to take photos after a slip and fall?

A: Yes, if possible, take photos of the hazard that caused your fall, the surrounding area, and any visible injuries. This photographic evidence can be crucial for your case.

Q: What should I do if there are witnesses to my slip and fall?

A: If there are witnesses to the accident, get their names and contact information. Their testimony can be valuable in supporting your claim.

Q: Should I give a recorded statement to an insurance company?

A: No, do not give a recorded statement to any insurance company before speaking with a lawyer. Statements can be used against you, so it's best to consult with legal counsel first.

Q: What kind of documentation should I keep after an accident?

A: Keep all medical records, bills, and documentation of any time missed from work. This includes receipts for related expenses.

Q: How can a lawyer help me after a slip and fall accident?

A: A lawyer can help preserve evidence, protect your rights, and navigate the complexities of your claim. They can ensure you receive fair compensation for your injuries and losses.

Q: When should I contact a lawyer after a slip and fall?

A: Contact McCormick & Murphy at 888-668-1182 as soon as possible after your accident. Prompt contact allows us to act quickly to protect your interests.

Q: What types of injuries can result from a slip and fall?

A: Slip and fall accidents can lead to a variety of injuries, some of which may not be immediately apparent. These can range from minor bruises to more severe conditions that worsen over time.

Q: What if the property owner denies responsibility for the hazard?

A: Even if the property owner denies responsibility, it is important to gather all available evidence, including photos, witness information, and medical records. A lawyer can help build your case despite their denial.

Q: Can I still pursue a claim if my injuries seem minor at first?

A: Yes, you can still pursue a claim. It is crucial to seek medical attention because some injuries worsen over time or don't show symptoms immediately. Documenting everything is key.
