SAVE YOUR AXLE WITH BHS' UHMW AXLE HOLDING KIT

The BHS Axle Holding Kit (AHK, Part #89701017) bolts onto racking systems, transforming them into comprehensive storage and payout solutions for heavy-duty cable reels. Axles two inches and smaller rest on a UHMW lining with an ideal combination of high strength-to-density and an extremely fluid coefficient of friction. This unique design leads to smooth, quiet payout, with zero damage to axles.

Rack-Based Storage and Payout for Cable Reels

Most racking systems hold axles in steel supports, which screech during payout. Even worse, the metal-on-metal friction eventually degrades axle ends and rack components, leading to eventual failure. The AHK provides the same low-cost storage without noise pollution or axle/rack damage and has a maximum capacity of 4,500 lb.

Durable Steel Construction

The Axle Holding Kit's brackets are made from formed steel with an abrasion-resistant powder coating for extremely high load capacities.

Provides Quiet Payout

The UHMW lining in the axle bed limits friction during payout, eliminating the high-volume squeal of metal on metal. This aids in compliance with OSHA standard 1910.95, which limits occupational noise exposure.

Easy, Bolt-On Installation

The Axle Holding Kit bolts onto existing racking systems in minutes to save you time and money. Pre-drilled mounting holes are compatible with most racking models in use among electrical suppliers.

Protects Cable Axles

All-steel storage wears away at axles over time, raising the risk of breakage to an unacceptable level. Contact points between the AHK and axles are cushioned with UHMW, which won't degrade steel axles even after years of use.
