Customer-generated video reviews at scale

VIDEO REVIEW

PAI is the first activity metric that is scientifically proven to reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease by an average of 25%.

PAI needed to collect video reviews from customers all over the world. They wanted to hear first hand what they loved about their technology and to see if those video could drive greater adoption. PAI after 12 months with StoryTap continues to collect amazing video reviews, where their customers are driving awareness for them and is now available on the iwatch among other smart watches.
