

Publication: Hermanus Times - Main
Title: Gaming gurus
Publish date: 25 Nov 2020
Page: 15

Reach: 5890
AVE:R: 10656.36
Author: Staff Reporter

Dewald Liebenberg, Lubin Venter, Malan Liebenberg, David Lindemann, Daniel Manchest and Matthew Wellington (absent) of The Dead Enders won the senior section of the second edition of the Curro Minecraft e-sports competition.

Gaming gurus

Three e-sport teams of Curro Hermanus represented their school at the second league of the Curro Minecraft e-sports competition, where they competed against approximately 70 teams from Curro schools from across South Africa.

The u-11 Ender Gamers team's top notch skills and good team work carried them through to the finals of their section. The Ender Gamers – consisting of Ryan Beineke, Francois Scholtz, Mason Carolus, Blake Smith, London Sargeant and Noah Lindemann - excelled in the final round in October and took silver.

The two Curro Hermanus u-13 teams battled it out against each other in the quarterfinals. The Dead Enders beat The Hermits (Joshua Wakeford, Christian Vusindawa, Spencer Whitebooi, Karah Meiring, Juan Bernardu, Mackenzie Lewis, Hanlo van Rensburg, Angelique Hamman and Jaco Swanepoel) and went through to the semi-finals, where they beat the Sweaty Skeletons from Curro Aurora to reach the finals. They beat the Ravens from Curro Durbanville to win the senior section of the second edition of the Curro Minecraft e-sports competition.

Ryan Beineke, Francois Scholtz, Mason Carolus, Blake Smith, London Sargeant and Noah Lindemann represented Curro Hermanus as The Ender Gamers Curro Gamers