

Kennedys

Martin is a partner at Kennedys and operates as Head of Kennedys' Fraud Group working with clients across the UK insurance and risk industry, as well as internationally. He also sits within Kennedys' Innovation Group, leading on data strategy and reporting and as part of the Research & Development steering group developing technology for clients that is revolutionising the claims environment.

